EXPEDITION IS ARMED.

Bonilla Has Two "Warships."

Sails Secretly for Honduras With Schooners, Men and Ammunition.

Revolution Launched—British Soliders Leave Belize in Pursuit.

Ex-President Who Seeks Office Again Outwits Great Britain.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELIZE (British Honduras) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A revolution in Honduras is now pending.

Manuel Bonilla, former President of Honduras, who is now seeking to overthrow President Davila, has left Belize on two schooners loaded with men, arms and ammunition. At last accounts the revolutionary expedition was reported off Glover's Reef.

When the news of the sailing of the Bonilla expedition became known the government of British Honduras took energetic steps to stop it. A company of British soldiers is now leaving here on a steamer in pursuit.

DANGEROUS RENDEZVOUS.

Glover's Reef is the name given to a group of coral reefs about sixty miles southeast of Belize, and which are directly in the path of ships bound from New Orleans to Puerto Cortez, Spanish Honduras. They have proven a veritable nightmare to mariners, because of their dangerous position, and many vessels have come to grief there.

The most notable wreck in recent years was that of the steamship Alps, in which William Adler was making his way with a big cargo of merchandise to Honduras, where he was seeking refuge after the collapse of his high-finance operations in New Orleans. Another recent wreck there was that of the steamship Anselm of the United Fruit Company.

The reefs would be an ideal rendezvous for a filibustering expedition, providing there was fair weather. But rough weather would make it extremely dangerous for any ship to approach them.

BRITISH ARE WATCHFUL.

Manuel Bonilla has been living in Belize ever since his elimination from the Presidency of Honduras, and while strenuous denials have always been made of stories of his preparations for an invasion of Honduras, it has been generally understood that he was only awaiting a favorable moment to make this move. The British government is very particular about preserving neutrality, and if there are any warships anywhere in these waters, they will make it hot for Bonilla.

The chances are, however, that Bonilla bided his time and got away when there was no British warship within call. The only vessels that might be used to chase Bonilla were several schooners and gasoline launches and the probabilities are that Bonilla has secured the best of this class of boats and has the better crew and will be able to elude pursuit.

LIBERTY IS SHORT-LIVED.

Stern Limbs of Law Lock Up Prisoners Freed by Porto Rican Queen.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JUAN (P. R.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While a carnival of flowers, a festival lasting several days, was at its height in Bayamon, ten prisoners then in jail petitioned Miss Felita Jiminez, Queen of Flowers, to liberate them. She indorsed and referred the petition to Warden Costoso, who, to please her, set the prisoners free. They enjoyed this clemency, some by getting out of town, and others by joining in homage to the merciful queen, when one of them informed the high police authorities in San Juan. The Attorney-General and District Attorney went to Bayamon, had Warden Costoso locked up and then sent out police to round up the liberated men. All were caught.

UPRISING PREMATURE; NEWS IS CENSORED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORT BARRIOS (Guatemala) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The government of Honduras has placed an embargo on all messages to and from that country and it is impossible to learn anything here concerning the progress of the revolution which broke out at Ceiba.

It is now positively known at Port Barrios that the uprising at Ceiba was premature. The adherents of Bonilla had planned for an uprising simultaneous at Ceiba, Puerto Cortez and and other ports on the north and east coasts, but for some unknown reason the plans miscarried and the movement was started at Ceiba ahead of time.

Monday, July 25, was the date set for the general insurrection. According to reliable information received here Bonilla was to sail from British Honduras this week with a fleet of schooners and land at a certain point agreed upon on the north coast of Honduras where he was to be joined by several hundred sympathizers and the march of the Tegucigalpa begun.

The exact whereabouts of Bonilla are not known here, but it is certain that he has not reached Puerto Cortez. A schooner loaded with arms and ammunition for Bonilla cleared from Port Arthur, Tex., last week and is due at Porto Cortez now.

President Davila of Honduras is reported to have gone crazy.

Coloradoan Says He Has Brought Out Blend That Produces Well With Little Cultivation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

GREELY (Colo.) July 22.—The lazy man's wheat, the hope of the "dry" farming districts, has been achieved by E. P. House, Colorado's Burbank, according to Mr. House. He claims to have blended the Durum and Egyptian wheat with the result that he has a plant that will run 100 bushels to the acre, without much attention and in the face of the worst drought.

MORE MYSTERY.

NEGRO ARRESTED FOR THREAT TO KILL RAWN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—Ernest "Hoffman," a negro chauffeur, formerly employed by Ira G. Rawn, was arrested here late today as a suspect in connection with the railroad president's death. Hoffman was discharged last December, and as late as last May is declared to have threatened Mr. Rawn's life.

The arrest of "Hoffman," whose real name, it was learned, is Ernest Stevens, was made on information supplied by H. P. Cullen, a friend of the former Monon president. Cullen swore to an affidavit to the effect that he heard the negro, referring to Mr. Rawn, say:

"I'll get that white man; I'll get him."

Stevens was employed by Mr. Rawn from May, 1906, to December, 1909.

MRS. RAWN'S STATEMENT.

Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler said, aside from this, the detectives had secured no evidence against Stevens.

Although too ill to attend her husband's funeral, Mrs. Rawn today made a detailed statement of the shooting of Mr. Rawn at his summer home in Winnetka last Wednesday morning.

In a general way this statement bears out the stories of the death of Mr. Rawn as told by his son-in-law, R. G. Coburn, Mrs. Rawn saying she and her husband were awakened by a noise on the first floor of the house, that Mr. Rawn picked up his revolver and started downstairs. Then, says Mrs. Rawn, she heard a noise of some sort, apparently on the stairway, and a shot or shots.

The police, however, have seized upon three points in Mrs. Rawn's statement that they consider of importance in connection with the investigation of the Rawn that she is certain of having heard but one shot, the second is her assertion that Mr. Coburn, her son-in-law, preceded her down stairs and that he had turned on the lights before she reached her husband's body, and the third is the statement that Mr. Rawn was found lying squarely on his back.

The police say these three points support their theory that Mr. Rawn killed himself. Friends of the Rawn family insist that Mrs. Rawn's description of what occurred Wednesday morning is further evidence that Mr. Rawn was murdered. Mrs. Rawn said that on the night previous to the shooting she and her husband had heard a noise similar to the one which she says aroused them early Wednesday morning.

HEARD SCUFFLE.

"The noise on the first night was something like the shutting of a door," said Mrs. Rawn. "On the second night, there was a sort of creeping sound, whether it was the sound of walking, I cannot tell you.

"I told my husband not to go down. He did not pay any attention to me but kept on walking through the dark. I got up and sat on the edge of the bed. It did not seem a second when I heard Mr. Rawn creeping down stairs and he had time to get to the first landing when I heard a terrible scuffle. I jumped and screamed and at the time I screamed I heard a shot. I was so dazed that I could not move for a second and before I got down there, my son, Mr. Coburn, got down in the dark and he turned on the lights."

FAR EAST BANK LOSES FORTUNE.

VALUABLE PAPERS DISAPPEAR FROM BANK VAULT.

New York Branch Rents Safety Deposit Vault in Another Institution from Which Unidentified Thief Steals $75,000 in Negotiable Bonds. Police Have Not Been Notified.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Russo-Chinese Bank, one of the most powerful financial institutions in the Far East, is short $70,000 in negotiable bonds, which disappeared from its branch office here some time last week. There is no clew to the thief. Announcement of the loss was made today, but only the most meager details were available. All inquiries were referred by the bank to its counsel, who replied that, without the permission of the bank, he could give only a very circumscribed statement. These are the facts he gave:

The Russo-Chinese Bank in this city has no vaults of its own, but rents vaults in a near-by bank, the name of which is withheld. Some time, precisely when, is not stated, a safety deposit box containing the missing securities was taken from the neighboring vaults to the second floor of the bank. On Thursday the loss of the securities became known. Several employés of the bank had keys to the box, but none of them had disappeared and none is mentioned as under suspicion.

A rigid examination of the circumstances surrounding the loss is being made. Thus far, the facts on which to base an examination are so slight that no complaint has been made to the police and no private detective has been called up. Counsel could not even say when the securities were last seen or checked up.

Gustav Gortz, now in Europe, whither he left on his vacation two weeks ago, is manager of the Russo-Chinese Bank here. A list of the missing securities has been furnished to all bankers, as follows:

Southern Railroad development and general mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, $25,000; Union Pacific convertible 4 per cent. bonds, $30,000; Southern Pacific convertible 4 per cent. bonds,

SAYS AMERICAN WIFE IS PETTED TOO MUCH.

Good Treatment by Husband, Says Mrs. Philip Snowden, Pretty English Suffragist, Has Kept Her from Enjoying Right of Franchise.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Philip Snowden, one of England's fairest suffragettes, has a good word for the American husband, although she figures he is a big obstacle to equal franchise rights. She arrived in New York yesterday on the Cinardia, for a visit with Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt.

"If American women were not treated so well they would have voted long ago," said Mrs. Snowden in an interview. "They are spoiled—the majority of them—by the men, so that they do not ask justice for the minority.

"It is a curious survival, I think, of your colonial days, when women were scarce, and were held as treasures. Your men have not yet gotten over that attitude. With us women are cheap-cheap. There are in England 2,000,000 more women than men, and the men are not afraid to jostle them. Here you have not yet come to hold your women cheap enough."

Mrs. Snowden considers the situation at home hopeful. She says:

ENGLISH SITUATION.

"There is certainly every likelihood that the women in England will be granted the franchise within a few weeks, or at most, months. Premier Asquith hoped to keep us from getting time for a third reading by referring our bill to the committee of the whole house, but a pressure that is simply tremendous is being brought to bear on every member of Parliament, and there is every reason to believe that it will be successful. There are mass meetings being held in every constituency in the country; there are letters and petitions pouring in daily, and the members will not we should not be granted the time, for there is very little for the House to do at present. And powerful men all over the country at last, are aroused and working for us. We already have a majority in Parliament, and once we get our time there is nothing that can prevent the bill passing."

A POSER.

"But if you have a majority," was asked, "why did it vote to shelve the bill?"

Mrs. Snowden moved a bit uneasily, and finally observed that that was rather difficult to explain.

"But they just did not dare to go against the government altogether, when the signal was given. Now they are between two fires—their constituents and the party leaders—and, of course, they'll temporarily give up allegiance to the party," she declared.

And if they don't get the votes, after all, Mrs. Snowden is going to do something terrible. She is going to turn "anti-government."

"That is," she explained, "in every constituency where a Liberal who votes against suffrage runs for reëlection, I and my friends are going to put up a pro-suffrage Liberal candidate, and even if we don't elect him, we'll split the vote to such an extent that the Conservative candidate will win, and a different government will come in."

CHICO, July 22.—[Exclusive D patch.] Without hesitation, sho ing no signs of weakening a making no contradictory statemen Miss Ada Clark, for more than t hours this afternoon, withstood grilling examination at the hands Attorneys A. M. Seymour and Arc bald Yell in the investigation of charges against Dr. C. C. Van Lie president of the Chico State Norm School. She told her story of h Dr. Van Liew endeavored to embra her and how she repelled the tacks.

Dr. Van Liew is facing five disti charges of misconduct made by G Gillett, who alleges the profess reputation generally is so bad that presence as the head of the State ucational institution is not for its b interests.

The investigation began at 10 o'clo this morning and at 5 o'clock this ernoon an adjournment was tak with Elmer Ranker, a former stude on the stand.

Miss Nona Lindley was the f witness this afternoon. Her testim was only in substantiation of M Clark's story concerning the latt appearance when emerging from V Liew's office on the afternoon of attempted hugging.

Elmer Ranker, the last witness, t tified that he had seen Dr. Van L drink liquor in the Diamond café ma times. Asked if Van Liew was into cated, he said he did not know h much it required to fill Van Liew, he had seen the Normal presid drink five or six glasses of beer.

Miss Clark, a sister of Rev. J. T Clark, preferred the charges agai Dr. Van Liew, and was the first w ness this morning. Relating the in dents which culminated in the char against the head of the State Norm School, she said:

"When I came into Van Liew's fice he was busy with the telepho I had been absent on account of sickness of a friend. I sat down a window sofa to wait until Dr. V Liew was through. After he h signed my excuse he said he wis to speak to me.

Broker Is Accused of Getting Divorce by Fraud.

Willis Counselman Adjudged Guilty by Court.

Wife Insane; He Alleged She Deserted Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Willis Counselman, broker, was adjudged to be in criminal contempt of court and sentenced to three months' imprisonment by Judge Chetlain this afternoon.

Counselman was accused of having obtained a decree of divorce by fraud and alleged perjury. His wife, Mrs. Lulu B. Counselman, was in an insane asylum. Counselman charged that she deserted him. Soon after the divorce he married Miss Clara French of Englewood.

Judge Chetlain subsequently annulled the divorce and Miss French went back to live with her parents. The case has been pending nearly a year.

The order of imprisonment came after arguments lasting several hours by Attorney Joseph Holden and Attorney Joseph W. Moses, representing the Bar Association, and Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, representing Counselman. The order was not entered as Counselman was given a week to prepare an appeal.

Attorney Erbstein pleaded in defense of Counselman that he had given his case entirely into the hands of Attorney Milton M. Thackaberry, who, he alleged, was solely to blame.

"Counselman was ignorant of court procedure. He didn't know he had to tell the court his wife was insane," declared Attorney Erbstein.

Attorney Holden further charged that Counselman had suppressed the truth while undergoing examination by Judge Chetlain and the testimony Counselman gave at the divorce hearing was quoted against him today.

Counselman was prosecuted by the State's Attorney's office upon complaint of the Bar Association.

ECHO OF THE PAST.

SAYS SPAIN IS TOOL NO LONGER.

CANALEJAS OUTLINES ATTITUDE OF GOVERNMENT.

"'Liberty for All' Must Not Conflict With Interests of State," Says Premier Who Denies Conflict Is Matter of Religious Belief, Insisting Upon Separation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Striking and significant statements explaining the present great politico-religious crisis in Spain are made by Premier Canalejas in an interview published today in Le Journal of this city. It is to be the first definite declaration made of the liberal policies of young King Alfonso's government.

"Spain will never again become," exclaimed the Premier, energetically, "what it once was in history, to its own misfortune and its own ruin—namely, the weaponed arm of the church and the soldier of Rome, imposing the faith on the entire planet by fire and steel.

"We cannot consent to go backward thus, and we are ready and resolved to suppress utterly, if necessary, the things tending to make Spain repeat its course in history. Liberty for all? Yes; but not a liberty outside the state, against the state and detrimental to the state. That would be a diminution of civil power not countenanced by the absolute monarchs, who nevertheless have added great piety to the consciousness of their own rights."

"Is it a struggle between Free Thinkers and the Papacy?" the Premier was asked.

"No," he replied. "Rome and the prelates affirm it vainly.

"The struggle which has been impending for a long time is not between believers and unbelievers, between Catholics and Free Thinkers, or between the adherents of Catholicism and the followers of other religions or of no religion. It is merely a struggle between liberals and reactionaries. There is no argument about the Catholic religion, to which the majority remain faithful.

"The government over which I preside does not aim directly or indirectly to attack the rights of the church, which is an inviolable and eternal institution, the existence of which does not depend upon the good will or the bad will of governments, but on the adherence of millions of citizens.

"It would be folly to attack the life of the church. Wars on religion belong to the past. The mission of the government today is to remain neutral.

"Let us leave the confusion of church and state to the ancient epoch when kings and emperors were also pontiffs, and the church and state were one. It is intolerable to abuse or absorb the prerogatives of others. This is Spain's position today."

WHERE?

DISAGREEMENT IN "SLAVER" CASES.

JUDGE CARPENTER DELIVERS DISSENTING OPINION.

Federal Jurist at Chicago Holds That Offender Must Be Tried in District Where Offense Is Consummated as Against Ruling That Port District Is Status Quo.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A decision far reaching in its effect on the "White Slave" traffic and in direct contradiction to the much discussed opinion six weeks ago of Judge John F. Phillips of the United States District Court of Kansas, was handed down today by United States District Judge George E. Carpenter, who overruled a demurrer to quash an indictment against Philip Gilien, alias Jean Baptiste Quaring, alias half a dozen other names, alleged "white slaver." Attorneys for Gilien contended that the alleged crime had been committed outside of the jurisdiction of the officials of this district.

The decision of Judge Phillips was on a writ of habeas corpus brought in the Kansas United States Court for the release of four alleged "slavers" who were confined in the Leavenworth, Kan., Federal prison. The court ruled in the prisoners' favor on the ground that they had been tried by a court which had no jurisdiction. It was shown in the proceedings that the "white slaves" had been imported and brought to Chicago. Their passage had been paid by these men and the negotiations for the alien girls had been carried on by them. The men did not meet the girls when they landed and neither did they assist them in any way until they reached their destination, Chicago. The four men were tried in Chicago and convicted.

Judge Phillips, in his ruling, held that the actual crime of importing the girls had been committed the moment they landed in this country and that the "white slavers" should have been tried in the district in which the port was located. He held that the courts of the Chicago district had no jurisdiction to hear the case.

Judge Carpenter in his decision held to the contrary.

Scotchman Announces That He Will Start Frog Farm in Colorado to Raise Exterminators.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GREELEY (Colo.) July 22.—Donald McLanahan of Edinburgh, Scotland, inspired by the grasshopper plague that at present threatens crops in this section, proposes to establish a toad farm as a move toward exterminating insect pests. Mr. McClanahan believes he can realize handsome profits from the venture.

"I came here because I thought it would be a good place to begin operations," he said today. "The farmers will bless me when they see what the toads can do. Toad farms are not rare across the ocean. One full-grown toad will, in thirty days, devour 700 cut worms, 1000 ants, 150 weevils and 140 ground beetles. They have prodigious appetites and nothing can compare with them as insect exterminators. In England toads bring a shilling a piece and I am confident the farmers in Colorado will be glad to pay twenty-five cents for them."

Thompson was released on a $5000 bond.

SPAIN STARTLED.

ATTEMPT IS MADE ON LIFE OF EX-PREMIER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BARCELONA, July 22.—Antonio Maura, former Spanish Premier, was wounded today by a would-be assassin. His assailant was arrested. His name is Manuel Posa and he is a native of Barcelona.

Posa fired three shots as Señor Maura was leaving a train, wounding him in the leg. The ex-Premier was hurried on board the steamer Miramar where a doctor dressed his wounds, which are said to be slight. He left immediately for the Island of Majorca.

The Conservative Cabinet of Señor Maura resigned October 21, last year, after having been in power two years and nine months. The eighteen months preceding its formation had witnessed the fall of five Liberal ministries. The religious issue was the cause of the dissensions, and the return to power of Maura, who had previously held the Premiership, was regarded as a sweeping victory for the Clericals and one likely to arouse the revolutionary spirit.

This proved to be the case. The opposition united against the government's conduct of the war in Morocco and the stern measures it took to put down the anti-war demonstrations in Spain. Then came the execution in Barcelona prison of Francisco Ferrer, who was charged with being a revolutionist.

Threats repeatedly have been made against the life of Maura and only recently it was reported that he was being constantly guarded.

DA VINCI PAINTING ALLEGED STOLEN FOR AN AMERICAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cri de Paris says today that Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, "Monna Lisa" portrait, was stolen from the galleries of the Louvre one night about a month ago, through the complicity of a high official of the museum.

A copy of the painting was put in the frame in place of the original. The paper asserts that the genuine painting is now in New York. It says that a New York millionaire collector whose initials are J. K. W. W. has the original.

None of the important dealers or art collectors on this side of the water of art collectors who might come under the category of "New York millionaires" failed to reveal one whose initials even remotely correspond with the ones mentioned in the dispatch from Paris.

Leonardo da Vinci's portrait of "Monna Lisa," also called "La Joconde," or "La Gioconda," is one of the world's famous paintings. In European art circles it is considered to rank second in value only to the Sistine Madonna by Raphael. Both are priceless. It is a matter of gossip, though no official verification of the rumor has ever been given, that the British government offered £1,000,000 for "La Gioconda," and that the offer was refused.

MILITARY FUNERAL.

SEVEN VICTIMS OF FORTRESS TRAGEDY ARE LAID TO REST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEWPORT NEWS (Va.) July 22.—Impressive military services were conducted this evening over the bodies of seven of the eleven victims of yesterday's accident at Fortress Monroe. Capt. J. K. H. Scott, post chaplain, conducted the services.

Col. Clarence P. Townsley, commandant of the fort, rode at the head of his command, directly behind the caissons and hearses in the funeral procession. Brig.-Gen. Arthur Murray, chief of artillery, and Mrs. Murray were present. The seven for whom services were held were:

Privates Clive W. Gung, John W. Chadwick, J. P. Turner, Roy Duffy, Andy J. Sullivan, I. N. Aedy and Judson Hogan.

The post band led the funeral procession and a choir of fifty voices sang selections. The bodies rested upon an improvised altar covered with American flags and surrounded by flowers.

The bodies of Sergt. Harry G. Hess and Corp. Charles C. Atkins were removed from the fort to their homes in Phoebus, Va., less than a mile from the fort, today, and will be buried tomorrow.

Services will be conducted at the fort tomorrow over the bodies of Corp. Albert Bradford and Private Alfred W. Smith and they will be buried in the National Cemetery near the fort.

The post is awaiting with intense interest the report of the board of investigation.

TEST IS SUCCESSFUL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

FORTRESS MONROE (Va.) July 22.—Although death had silenced one gun, and eleven men were killed or fatally injured by the terrible explosion in the De Russey shore battery here yesterday during the target firing on the imaginary hostile fleet, which was passing up Hampton Roads to attack Washington, the battle continued until the enemy was sunk. The practice, which was the most extensive ever attempted, was completed with flattering success to the Coast Artillery Corps.

Within three minutes after the first gun had been fired, the two cheesecloth targets, 30x60 feet, representing the vitals of the battleship and towed 6000 yards away, were a sorry sight. One was not worth shooting at, while the other was badly riddled. Firing was then at an end.

The fatal result of the first attempt to discharge No. 1 gun of the De Russey battery of twelve-inch guns was not known to the other batteries, scattered for nearly a mile along the shore, until after the conclusion of the firing.

The men at the other two guns of the De Russey battery did not know that an accident occurred, but they kept on firing at the imaginary enemy in the channel three or four miles away just as if it were in fact a hostile fleet endeavoring to pass through to attack Washington or Baltimore.

Officers who witnessed the test say the practice demonstrated that a fleet attempting to pass the fort could not have lived five minutes in such fire as was poured into the towed targets.

THE REAL CAUSE.

While the official report to Washington gives the cause of the accident as a premature explosion, the real cause was asserted by an artillery man to have been as follows:

"A new system," said this artilleryman, "recently adopted, was being used in rapid fire, this being the fourth time it had been used. The signal failed to close the breech. To accomplis hthis a crank has to make three complete revolutions and the breech locks on the third turn. Investigation proved the breech was not locked, showing a miscount."

Lieuts. Percy Hawes and George L. Van Deusen and all the injured artillerymen were resting comfortably today.

DEVICE FAILED TO WORK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—To the failure of a safety mechanism to operate when a sudden and powerful pull was given by an artilleryman in attaching the Lanyard, is now laid responsibility for the accident which cost the lives of eleven men at Fort Monroe, Va., in the battle practice yesterday. Such is the conclusion of Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, U.S.A., who attended the practice and who has been in touch with the inquiry made by the investigating board.

Never before in the history of the army had the device failed to work. The possibility of its occurrence was demonstrated, however, by Gen. Crozier himself shortly after the accident by a test made of all guns which participated in the practice. On another gun in the ill-fated De Russey battery, the device was found defective when Gen. Crozier applied unusual force, such as was never deemed necessary in tests and examinations. Just before the accident the gun was pronounced by the officers in proper condition, and in April a coast artillery officer, on inspection duty, reported that its premature explosion was beyond the range of possibility. Steps will be taken at once to improve the device.

"Of course, it is entirely possible so to change the mechanism as to prevent another accident such as that of Thursday," said Gen. Crozier.

Stories of valor and sacrifice in time of suffering and confusion were detailed to Gen. Wood, chief of staff of the army, and other officials of the War Department today on the return to Washington of officers who yesterday witnessed the explosion of a big gun in the first minute of battle practice at Fortress Monroe, which resulted in eleven deaths.

These personal reports were augmented by further telegraphic reports from Lieut.-Col. C. P. Townsley of the Coast Artillery Corps and commander of the fort.

Conspicuous in the heroic group was Lieut. Van Deusen, who suffered a broken leg from the body of one of his men being hurled against him. He was the timekeeper during the target practice.

"Lieut. Van Deusen," said Col. Townsley, in an official report, "supported himself on the railing of the platform and directed that what assistance was offered to him be given to others in the vicinity, some of whom were lying helpless with burning powder grains in their clothing."

Lieut. Hawes was praised by the commandant for having extinguished "with his bare hands burning material that threatened to ignite the second charge, which was on its way to the emplacement."

Following the receipt of these reports, Gen. Wood sent a telegram to Fortress Monroe expressing his sympathy with the bereaved and suffering, and his appreciation of the "excellent conduct" of the officers and enlisted men.

Until the official report of the investigating board is received the exact cause of the accident is expected to remain a question of conjecture. Reports received at the War Department say the board has completed taking testimony and soon will submit its findings.

Enough has been learned by the department to satisfy officers that for some reason there was a tension on the lanyard, which resulted in an explosion before the breech lock had been rotated into place. It is believed that for some reason the safety devices on the gun, intended to make such an accident as this impossible, failed to work.

Col. Townsley has informed the department that the detachment manning the gun which exploded was exceptionally well trained and expert.

UNEXPECTED MOVE.

MORMON MISSIONARIES ARE TO BE EXPELLED FROM GERMANY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BERLIN, July 22.—Herr Dalwitz, Prussian Minister of the Interior, on recommendation of the Political Police, has signed orders for the expulsion of twenty-one Mormon missionaries, most of whom are Americans or Englishmen, and they will be conducted to the frontier today. The missionaries had assembled from various parts of Germany at the Mormon headquarters on the east side to meet Superintendent McKay, an American, usually residing in Switzerland.

They were holding services when an agent of the Political office, who was seated in the audience rose and declared the gathering dissolved. At the moment several members of the Criminal Police appeared and virtually took the congregation in custody.

The women were asked to leave the place and the men were examined as to their nationality. Those found to be German subjects were released while the others were requested to accompany the officers to the Police Presidency. There, after further examination, they were permitted to go to their lodgings to await the issuance of warrants for their expulsion.

MORALITY ISSUE.

The status of the Mormons in Germany was taken up in exchanges between the foreign office and the American embassy in 1903, when the Government took the position that the teachings of the missionaries were subversive of morality.

It was then arranged with the Mormon superintendent, throught the American embassy, that all Mormon missionaries should withdraw from the country within a month, transferring the middle European headquarters from Berlin to Switzerland. Subsequently 140 foreign leaders departed, leaving the German societies, with a total membership of 8000, in the care of German pastors.

The authorities state that in recent years the Mormons have disregarded the understanding of 1903 and from time to time individual missionaries have been apprehended and expelled. In such instances they have not applied to the American Embassy for relief, nor made a protest against their expulsion.

SURPRISE IN SALT LAKE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALT LAKE CITY, July 22.—Some surprise was occasioned among officials of the Mormon Church by the Berlin dispatch telling of the expulsion of missionaries from Germany. When similar action was taken three or four years ago it was said that the church would place its propaganda in the hands of its German converts and make no further effort to introduce American missionaries until the government was persuaded to change its attitude.

No intimation of a change in this policy has been given. The presence of foreign leaders at the Berlin meeting may be explained by a letter from President Thomas E. McKay of the Swiss and German mission, written in Zurich, May 31. President McKay said that while passing through Berlin he stated to the police authorities that general conferences of the Mormon missionaries were held in different parts of Europe, and that he desired to hold such a gathering in Berlin early in July. The request was put in writing and presented to the acting President of Police, who promised to submit it to the President of Police when the latter returned to his duties.

Joseph F. Smith, the head of the Mormon Church, is now en voyage to Europe, and may make an effort to secure a modification of the hostile attitude of the German government.

MRS. SHOLES RELEASED.

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—Mrs. Anna R. Sholes of Los Angeles, who was arrested at Detroit in connection with the theft in St. Louis of a diamond brooch valued at $6500, was brought back here today. Joseph H. Lucas and Mrs. Sholes were released by the police. Lucas confessed yesterday, according to the police, that he obtained the brooch in a house where he was working and gave it to Mrs. Sholes. Immunity was promised for the return of the diamonds.

of the cases was begun, however, and the intention of holding the men for trial before the Superior Court was expressed by the authorities.

G. W. Marsh, who was engineer on the train the night of the robbery, Benjamin Blakely, the fireman, C. W. Claney and H. J. Black, mail clerks, were the witnesses called. They identified the defendants as the robbers and the revolvers displayd in court as the weapons they had exhibited.

After several witnesses had identified Brown and Dunbar, or Bishop, as the men who had occupied a cottage near the scene of the train robbery, they were held to answer before the Superior Court with bail at $10,000 in each case.

Bishop is greatly worried lest fifty pounds of dynamite that he and his partner, Joseph Brown, buried in Sycamore Cañon near Armada, shall explode and cause disaster.

Bishop told of stealing the dynamite from a cement factory in the southern part of the State and burying it. He gave the officers a sketch of the location of the cache and implored them to have it dug up at once.

NEW SMELTER MARVELOUS.

Pig Iron Industry at Heroult, Shasta County, Leads World in Value of Ore Treated.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HEROULT, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Twenty-three capitalists and foundrymen have arrived here in a special car to inspect the new electric iron smelter. The price of pig iron for the Pacific Coast will be cut in two. Ordinary pig iron is worth $30 a ton on the Pacific Coast. It is made now at Heroult at an estimated cost of $12 a ton, and there is a mountain of iron ore at the back door of the smelter—ore 70 per cent. iron—and the highest per cent. possible in any ore in the world is 72½.

The pig iron made in Heroult is the best in the world, and Heroult and a place in Sweden are the only points in the world where iron is smelted electrically. A Swedish scientist, who came here a few weeks ago to investigate, said that the Heroult smelter was far ahead of the similar institution in Sweden.

So well satisfied is the company with the success of the continuous run it has decided to build five more furnaces almost exactly like the present one. It is possible that the whole electrical output of the 20,000-horse-power plant under construction at Coleman in Battle Creek, in this county, may be consumed by the Heroult Iron Furnaces. The eyes of the San Francisco visitors were opened in astonishment and wonder when they saw the great enterprise that had been born in Shasta county.

FEAR MOSQUITO ATTACK.

Reported That Jacob Schiff and Party Abandoned Yukon Trip Because of Pests.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ferocity of Alaskan mosquitoes is believed to have caused Jacob Schiff, the New York banker, and party, to change their plans of descending the Yukon from Dawson to St. Michael. At St. Michael the steamship Ramona was to meet them for a cruise through Bering Sea, to the Aleutian Islands, and thence along the western and southern coasts of Alaska, from Dawson. Mr. Schiff wired instructions from the Ramona to remain at Skagway. They were due to reach Cordova today.

Mosquitoes are numerous, large, and fierce, on the Yukon, and along the shore in the hot summer, which probably influenced Mr. Schiff and his friends, especially the ladies, to seek the coast and freedom from the insects.

While crossing the Yukon flats, 200 miles below Dawson, summer travelers always protect themselves if possible, with several thicknesses of mosquito netting. The Iditarod rush cleaned out Dawson's supply of netting, and they are raising the price to $1.50 per yard, Mr. Schiff, himself, gave no reason at Dawson for changing his plans.

GAMBLING REVIVAL AT RENO.

Business Improves Since the Fight, Repeal of Anti-Gambling Law May Be Sought Now.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Official figures show that the city and county licenses collected last month amount to $20,000. Much of this came from the extra games during the time that the fight fan's invasion was at its height. Three hundred and ninety-two licenses were issued, including saloons.

In sporting circles, it is said that the new lease of life taken on gambling since the fight period may result in the proprietors of the various gambling houses attempting to secure the repeal of the anti-gambling law. Previous to the fight, the gamblers did not care whether or not the law went into effect as business was dull.

There has been an awakening in the games of chance during the past month, however, and it is believed that if there is any indication that more prize fights and sporting events will be staged in Nevada every effort will be made to continue the open gambling.

Quite an agitation has begun along this line, but September 30 will tell the story, as then test cases to try the law will be heard.

PROHIBITORY GRAIN PRICES.

Farmers of Washington Demand Big Money for Alfalfa and Oats—Dealers Are Discouraged.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Washington farmers on both sides of the Cascades have boosted prices of oats and hay so high that dealers are making little effort to buy. Dealers say that the growers have lost their heads over the so-called crop scare. W. W. Robinson, who sells large quantities of forage to the government, returned this week from the hay and grain fields, and says:

"The farmers will not sell at any price. I doubt if a buyer could obtain 500 tons of oats if he were to offer $33 or even $35 per ton. I have never seen a parallel to the present situation. Growers evidently believe they will be able to obtain any price they may ask.

"We cannot get enough oats to do business, although there are any amount of oats in the country. When the new crop is harvested the supply of old and new oats will aggregate a normal supply. That the price asked is so high at the beginning of the season is absurd. It means but one thing—that oats and hay needed by the government this fall and next winter for the Philippines will not be purchased in Washington if prices remain where they are now. Alfalfa prices are $14

Caught from Fire in Grain Near Cola.

Farmers Along Route Fight to Save Crops.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A Santa Fé freight train come racing into Stockton this afternoon with a long streak of flames stretching from the last car. In some manner a fire started on Dr. C. L. Six's ranch west of Stockton and destroyed a lot of hay and grain. The flames had reached the railroad tracks when the freight train stopped at Cola, a small station, for a minute. Just as the train pulled out for Stockton the trainmen discovered a large refrigerator car on fire.

The engineer turned on full speed and raced for Stockton, scattering fire along both sides of the tracks. The grass and hay fields alongside of the rails were set on fire in several places, causing great excitement among the farmers, who had to cease all work and turn out to extinguish the fire before it reached the large grain fields.

Fortunately for the land owners and tenants in most places there is a ditch of water between the tracks and fields, which made it possible for the ranchers to extinguish the fires before they caused heavy loss.

The fire on the Dr. Six ranch burned for hours and a large acreage was swept over. What his loss will amount to he could not say tonight, as the acreage will have to be surveyed. The crop was partially covered by insurance.

ENORMOUS LOSSES BY TERRIBLE GRAIN FIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUSA, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the largest grain fire in many years in the Sacramento Valley, damage to the extent of over $50,000 was wrought about one and one-half miles this side of Sycamore late Thursday. A spark from a traction engine was responsible for the blaze, which threatened for a time to spread throughout the entire community, eventually devastating about two square miles of land that was producing an average of thirty sacks of grain to the acre.

The fire, besides burning up the standing grain on about 2000 acres, also consumed in the neighborhood of 10,000 sacks of cut grain, all of the stubble from which this grain had been cut, several hundred hogs and an automobile.

Had not the traction engine from which the fire originated run out of oil and water, it is believed the blaze could have been overcome with but slight damage. However, the delays caused by the lack of fuel allowed the flames to reach such bounds that for a time it was beyond the control of the large and willing crowd who were on hand to fight it.

BIG FIRES ARE SEEN NEAR HOWE SOUND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE, July 22.—Officers of the steamer Dolphin, which arrived from Skagway, Alaska, yesterday, told of tremendous forest fires, a hundred square miles in extent, which they judged to be twenty-five miles in shore from the Strait of Georgia, north of Howe Sound.

"This was the biggest forest fire I have ever seen," said First Officer Deen. "We were nearest to it on Wednesday afternoon. The air was perfectly still, and tremendous clouds of smoke rose in the form of a cauliflower, narrow at the base and gradually spreading all the heavens. Along the horizon was a broad streak of flames. Then above that, there seemed to be a little space clear of smoke and flames. I judged the flames to be several hundred feet high."

According to Deen's bearings the nearest town is Squamish, at the head of Howe Sound. This section of the country is heavily wooded with fine timber.

POLICE TO SHOW EVIDENCE.

Sacramento Grand Jury Will Investigate Charges of Intrigue to Get Evidence Against Munro.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chief of Police Ahern said today that he will lay before the grand jury the evidence against Attorney Eugene Soule of a criminal conspiracy to entrap J. G. Munro in an intrigue with Mrs. A. H. Hada for the purpose of obtaining evidence on which to procure a divorce for Mrs. Munro, which would leave her in possession of property worth $75,000, which is really held in trust by her for her husband.

May Heath, step-daughter of Munro, declared today that she arranged the trap for Munro.

On the publication of the details of the snare in which Munro was entangled, the adventuress, Mrs. A. H. Hada, who had been used to bait the trap, instantly vanished. The police are looking for her.

The police declare that Attorney Soule, Mrs. J. G. Munro, Miss May Heath, Munro's step-daughter; Mrs. Hada, and Mrs. F. E. Beamish of Oakland are all principals or intelligent parties to the conspiracy.

HIBERNIANS' HEAD REGAN.

Lively Scrap for Honor at Portland Convention.

Order Requires Whole Day to Elect Officers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND, July 22.—Practically the whole day was taken up by the national convention of the National Order of Hibernians in electing officers, and when adjournment for supper was taken there yet remained the choosing of the directors.

The selection of officers was a long-drawn-out proceeding, and the discussion of the merits of various candidates was at times somewhat heated.

It required all but the first few minutes of the morning session to select the National President, James J. Regan of St. Paul, Minn., the National Vice-President, who was finally chosen over Matthew Cummings of Massachusetts, the incumbent.

Gossip after the election indicated that President Cummings had been retired almost wholly for the reason that he has already held the office for two terms.

The delegates, both those who opposed as well as those who supported him, were agreed that President Cummings had made a splendid executive and had accomplished great things for the order.

The convention was very evenly divided on the presidency, Mr. Regan being selected by the close margin of twelve votes.

The vice-presidency went to Joseph McLaughlin of Philadelphia.

National Secretary McGinnis of Scranton, Pa., was returned to that office today without opposition. National Treasurer John F. Quinn of Chicago was not so fortunate in his contest as McGinnis, for Thomas Maloney of Council Bluffs, Iowa, whose candidacy was announced yesterday, gained the office by a small margin.

EXCHANGE FOR STOCKTON.

FOR GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first steps toward organizing a grain and produce exchange in Stockton was taken today when a large number of grain men, commission men and produce dealers held a session and decided to establish such an institution. Committees were named to take the preliminary details at once and by the first of next week the exchange will be opened for business.

Every grain merchant and produce man in the city is heartily in favor of the exchange and will lend his support to the proposition.

TRAIL OF DEATH.

SEVEN CORPSES FOUND UPON DESERT AFTER HEAT WAVE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The recent heat wave has left a trail of death on the desert. Coroner Van Wie was summoned to Needles this morning to inquire into the death of an unidentified man, whose body was found near here, a heat victim. The Sheriff's office received word tonight that the Salt Lake Overland, No. 8, picked up a prospector's body at Balch, far out on the desert, taking it to Kelso.

Another report comes that two men perished near the Rose mine, while a fifth corpse was found near Victorville. The heat wave proved more severe than even the desert country has experienced in a number of years. Late tonight news of the finding of two dead prospectors and their team, near Death Valley, was received.

ruit Congestion Relieved; Cargoes Are Safe.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Crossing iplomatic swords with Norway, the ate Department, replying to protests om New Orleans commercial interts against Norwegian recognition of Bluefields, Nicaragua, blockade, day declared Bluefields to be an open rt. Norway, it was said, was misformed of conditions there.

Norway's "misunderstanding" was d by the State Department to ichael J. Clancy, Consular reprentative of Norway, at Bluefields, and til yesterday Vice-Consul of the ited States at the same port. Act- Secretary of State Wilson today nounced that Clancy's resignation as ce-Consul had been accepted, his rvices in the dual capacity being ainst the law.

FORCE IF NECESSARY.

n connection with the statement t Norway was mistaken about uefields being blockaded, the departnt in its reply to the New Orleans erests, quoted at length from vari- instances given weeks ago to erican naval officers in Nicaragua the effect that Madriz was to be evented by force of arms from inrfering with legitimate American de entering Bluefields.

o new position is announced by the vernment, but the State Departnt's action is taken as an indican that the United States will prot American cargoes entering Bluelds whether carried under the flag the United States or any other nan.

Secretary Wilson declined to state initely what the course of the ited States would be or to comnt on what effect the reply might ve on the diplomatic relations been this country and Norway.

Chargé Morgensterine of the Norway gation, today was given a copy of department's reply.

RELIEVES CONGESTION.

For days the shipment of supplies Bluefields and of cargoes of fruit om that part to the United States s been suspended because the only ps available for the purpose carried Norwegian flag. Their owners reed to leave New Orleans for Blueds because of the notification of Norwegian government that it ognized the blockade. The lack of pplies threatened to hamper serily the commercial interests and s said to jeopardize the cause of Estrada forces.

TWO PAMANA EXPOSITIONS.

esident and Congress May Approve Fair at Both San Francisco and New Orleans.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—[Exclusive spatch.] The idea persists that the t administration will favor two nama Expositions, which was origally suggested by the President at e California dinner, and it is regarded ssible that Congress will extend deed authorization to both San Franco and New Orleans if they make tisfactory subscription showings.

The objection to attempting to conct two great fairs at the same time met with a suggestion that the Pafic metropolis shall have its exposion in the summer and New Orleans the winter.

Summer being the travel and vation season is of course the preferle time to give an exposition. The ltering Southern Mississippi weather these months would make it imposble, or at least, very undesirable hold the fair then. Those favoring year-round show divided between e two cities urge that better exbits will be made and believe that esident Taft and Congress will rerd it favorably.

ARINE CORPS READJUSTMENTS.

ystem of Desk Work at Washington for Staff Officers Broken Up. President Approves.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The final adjustment of affairs in the Marine orps was made today by a change in e navy regulations, approved by resident Taft, which completely eaks up the system by which staff ficers of the corps have enjoyed long rms of duty at desks in Washingn.

The change comes as one of the resits of the recent court-martial in hich most of the staff officers were nsured and the "life tenure" of offirs in Washington condemned.

Heretofore the regulations have proded that the officers of the staff ould be located here. President Taft w has approved a change to require em to do duty wherever they may assigned by the commandant. Under the old regulations the adjutant d inspector took charge in the abnce of the commandant. Hereafter e Secretary of the Navy will desige an officer to fill such a temporary cancy. [illegible] all the existing lines of succession are wiped out, and the assignment of duty and the location of staff officers is left to the discretion of the commandant of the corps and the Secretary of the Navy.

WILL EDUCATE COOKS.

War Department Establishes Cuisine Schools to Improve Soldiers Chuck in Regular Army.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The aroma of pate de beans and frappe de corn pone is carried in general order No. 135 of the War Department. According to the direction of the acting chief of staff, Gen. Carter, two schools of cooking and baking are to be established for the good of the cuisine of the regular army.

The schools, one at the Presidio, San Francisco, the other at Washington barracks, D. C., are to be conducted with a view to turning out the best cooking ability to be found anywhere in the world. The terms extend over four months, allowing for the graduation in three months of those especially qualified. Men who have failed to come up to the mark in the four months, but who have some promise of better things, are to be given one extra month of training.

The order stipulates "that regimental commanders will take proper steps to have at least one graduate baker available with each regiment."

On the completion of a course required, graduates will receive degrees ranging from chief baker to mess sergeant. Graduates of superior ability will be chosen to direct the destinies of the cooks who come in the classes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—President Taft has approved the appointment by the Interior Department of J. O. Ockerson of St. Louis to investigate conditions in Imperial Valley, Cal., where serious damage is threatened by the Colorado River breaking its banks.

Whether he will be retained to take charge of the engineering work in controlling the river, for which Congress appropriated $1,000,000, depends, it is said, on his report to the President.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Census returns issued today show the population of Pueblo, Colo., to be 44,395, as compared with 28,157 in 1900, an increase of 57.7 per cent. Pueblo county, Colorado, has a population of 55,223, as compared with 34,448 in 1900.

REAL RESTING.

GIVES TALK ON VILLAGE GREEN.

Mr. Taft Pleases Bar Harbor Populace.

Never a Hint of Politics in His Address.

Says Long Summer Vacations Insure Longevity.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BAR HARBOR (Me.) July 22.—President Taft brought his stay in Bar Harbor to a close this afternoon. He left as a member of a merry coaching party headed for Seal Harbor, eleven miles away. The Mayflower steamed around to Seal Harbor to meet the President. The yacht afterward went to Northeast Harbor and anchored there for the night, with the Presidential party on board.

Tomorrow morning she will steam across Frenchman's Bay to the Mt. Desert Ferry, where Mr. Taft will take a special train to Bangor. After visiting that city for two hours, and making a speech, he will proceed by special train to Ellsworth, the home of Senator Hale, to be the latter's guest until Sunday afternoon. Mr. Taft also will make a short speech at Ellsworth.

The President left everybody in Bar Harbor happy. He met the townspeople today on the village green and made a speech to them. He spoke of the value of vacations, and won much applause by saying that two weeks, no longer, suffices for a summer rest, but sixty days seemed the proper time in which to recuperate from the nerve exhausting work of the winter.

The President told the people of Bar Harbor the summer air here was like "champagne in a prohibition State," and that the severe winters tended to build up a sturdy and never-surrendering race.

WHISKED AWAY.

As soon as the President had finished his speech he mounted the coach, which was provided by Phillip Livingston of New York and with a flourish of trumpets, was away for Seal Harbor. Arriving there he and his party were entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Mark Hanna. Tonight the party was entertained at luncheon by Mrs. Charlemagne Tower, at her place two miles from the harbor.

Mr. Taft is adhering strictly to his determination to keep away from politics on this trip. There was not a suggestion of politics in his speech today. He said, in part:

"In my father's time he thought, though a hard-working lawyer, that two weeks' vacation was ample time during the year and when I came to the bar he suggested that if I stayed at home in the summer months, I would make a good deal more money than if I went away.

"But the American people have found that there is such a thing as exhausting the capital of one's health and constitution and that two or three months' vacation, after the hard and nervous strain to which one is subjected in the autumn and spring, is necessary.

"Mr. Justice Strong of the Supreme Bench, who lived to be 88 or 89, told me it was a part of his life to take sixty days each year out in the woods away from the people, exercising and living in the open air, and to that he attributed his long life."

PRELIMINARY.

BILL AGAINST BATH TUB TRUST IS FILED IN FEDERAL COURT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BALTIMORE, July 22.—The bill against the so-called "bathtub trust" was filed in the United States Circuit Court here today by Edward P. Grosvenor, special assistant to Atty.-Gen. Wickersham, who drew the petition, and Joseph Darling, special agent of the department, who made the investigation.

On June 16, complaint was made to the Department of Justice that certain manufacturers of sanitary enameled iron ware had advanced prices as a result of a combination, and an investigation was begun at once.

It was discovered, according to the government's bill, that the defendants had entered into a combination for the purpose of controlling the price and terms of sale of their product throughout the United States. It is alleged that they refused to sell their goods to jobbers, who refused to sign contracts.

It is stated that this suit differs from other suits instituted by the government under the Sherman law in that the defendants have attempted to conceal their purposes under the guise of an ostensible licensing arrangement under a patent.

The concerns were charged with being a combination in restraint of trade. It is said to control 85 per cent. of the output of washbowls, bathtubs, lavatories, drinking fountains and other sanatorium enameled ironware. The following are the defendants in the proceedings:

Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, A. Weiskettel & Co., Badner Manufacturing Company, the Cahill Iron Works, the Colwell Lead Company, Day-Ward Company, Humphreys Manufacturing Company, Kerner Manufacturing Company, J. L. Mott Iron Works, McVay & Walker, McCrump-Howell Company, National Sanitary Manufacturing Company, Union Sanitary Manufacturing Company, United States Sanitary Manufacturing Company, L. Wolff Manufacturing Company, Wheeling Enameled Iron Company, Theodore Ahearns, Francis J. Torrance, E. L. Dawes, W. A. Myler, Anton Weisketell, John D. Heise, C. H. Vogel, T. R. Barns, F. H. TO PROTECT "JOHN D."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.) July 22.—Because he placed in the window of his saloon a sign reading "This Is John D.'s Place," John D. Schnapps was arrested yesterday. The complaint was filed by Frank F. Marmann, who says he is a friend of John D. Rockefeller. Marmann says Mr. Rockefeller is known as "John D.," and he asked what the oil man's Sunday-school pupils would say if they chanced to pass the saloon and saw that sign. Schnapps gave bond and his trial was set for next Tuesday. He says that as his name is John D. he has a perfect right to use it on his sign.

CHURCH GROCERY STORE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON (Ind.) July 22.—As a means of raising funds with which to erect a new church in the west end of the city, the congregation of the Second M. E. Church will operate a grocery store. The congregation has purchased a store, and the pastor, Rev. William Hogan, has been put in charge. The name has been changed to "The Square Deal Grocery." The preacher is not a novice in the grocery business. "Do you intend to continue selling cigars and chewing tobacco?" he was asked. "Yes," was the reply, "we must do that, for that is a part of the business."

DROPS FROM FLAGPOLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—After twenty years' work as a "steeplejack" engaged in the occupation of painting flagpoles on skyscrapers, Charles Quodback, 47 years old, fell from the top of the sixty-foot flagpole at the American League baseball park last evening. It is believed he will not recover. Just before the accident Quodback had treated a crowd of persons, who stood below in the street, to an exhibition of Los Angeles Pastor Speaks at Illinois Camp Meeting—Declares Saloon Is Bound to Go and That the Brotherhood of the Entire Human Race Will Be Realized.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Impossible. That blockhead of a word! Genius is the art of overcoming the impossible."

This was one of the epigrammatic utterances of Dr. Charles Edward Locke of Los Angeles, who preached the first of a series of five sermons at the Desplaines camp meeting today. Some of his other statements were:

"Impossible is not a word in the vocabulary of a Christian."

"Doing what cannot be done is the glory of living."

"Impossible! Who is there says there, says there is a lion in the way? Sluggard, Thou must slay the lion; the way must be traveled."

"The overthrow of the old Roman Empire once seemed impossible. So did the abolition of human slavery. Both were accomplished. The saloon is bound to go—impossible as it seems."

Mention of the saloon stirred the indignation of the speaker, and he denounced as a lie of the breweries the charge that John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist denomination, favored the manufacture and sale of liquors as a beverage.

"The greatest total abstinence society in christendom is the Methodist Church," he said. "Such demonical lies will only hasten the downfall of Gambrinus in this country."

Dr. Locke declared that the brotherhood of the entire human race was another "impossible" thing that would be accomplished.

TO TEST TRAFFIC LAW.

Pittsburgh Traction System Pays City Much Less Than Teamsters Contribute.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—Prof. Ashford of the Team Owners' Association of Pittsburgh drove up Wood street and down Smithfield street yesterday.

The traffic law requires that he should drive down Wood and up Smithfield, and he knew it; but in behalf of teamsters representing, as he says, $2,000,000 in horse flesh, he decided to test the law. He was promptly arrested and his case goes to court.

Incidentally it comes from Mr. Ashford that the teamsters pay twice or three times as much for a license to drive the streets as does the Pittsburgh Street Railway Company to run its cars. The figures since 1898, he says, compared, are $735,000 to $208,860, the larger amount to the credit of the teamsters. A vigorous fight is to be made by the teamsters against the high license and the "one way" traffic regulation on certain streets.

"RAVINGS AND SCREAMS."

How Speaker Cannon Characterized Address of Senator Bristow of Kansas—No Reply.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DANVILLE (Ill.) July 22.—When Speaker Cannon was shown this afternoon the speech by Senator Bristow at Manhattan, Kan., last night and asked what reply, if any, he had to make, the Speaker said:

"I don't care to discuss or to pay any attention to the ravings and screams of Senator Bristow and those who coöperate and scream with him and are joined in an effort to put the Republican party out of business. The legislation enacted by the Republican Congress speaks for itself, by its operations from the the standpoints of revenue and protection and every other standpoint. I indorse the Payne tariff bill as the best tariff measure ever enacted."

JOKE LAUGH HURTS JAW.

Guests, Police and Ambulance Surgeon Fly to Rescue of New York Bride.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—Mrs. Celia Goldberg, a bride of a few days, gave a birthday party last night and laughed so heartily at a joke told by one of the guests that she dislocated her jaw. Her husband, after several vain attempts to remedy the trouble, called in a policeman, who, in turn, summoned an ambulance surgeon. It required three hours' work to set the injured member. The policeman failed to report what the joke was.

himself as a well-to-do merchant. Believing that after the lapse of twenty-five years he would be unmolested, he returned recently to Grmany with his family. While in his birthplace at Flonheim, in the Rhenish Hesse province, where he went to visit his mother's grave, he was arrested and tried by the military authorities.

Mr. Schultheiss is 45 years old. His last place of residence in America is not given in the report of the court proceedings.

An effort to secure relaxation of the severity of the military regulations in the case of German-Americans has been made recently, but thus far without positive results.

Rear-Admiral Rodgers, Retired, Expects to Continue Hunt After Alaskans Give Up.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SEATTLE, July 22.—Rear-Admiral John A. Rodgers, who has just retired from the command of the Puget Sound Navy Yard and who will be placed on the retired list of the navy next Tuesday, sailed for Nome on the steamer Senator today, and will make search in the interior of Alaska for his 22-year-old son, Alexander, who went north last summer to look for fortune and adventure, and who vanished from the overland trail half way between Valdez and Fairbanks.

Recently a letter was received from Bethlehem, at the mouth of the Kuskokwin, that a youth answering the description of the Admiral's lost son had been engaged there in building a boat to go up the Kuskokwin toward the Iditurod. Admiral Rodgers will follow this clew and others that he may find.

Alaska has been so thoroughly scoured already in the search for the lost youth, however, that it is feared the white-haired father's quest will end in pathetic failure.

ERROR COSTS LONG TRIP.

Aged Man Travels from Syracuse, N. Y., to Reno, Thinking He Was Going to Ohio.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] David Beatty is 72 years old, and when he went to the ticket office at Syracuse, N. Y., and asked for a ticket to Lorraine, O., the ticket agent misunderstood his thin, quavery voice and gave him a coupon to Reno. The aged man was surprised that it cost $60, as he had only a little coin left after paying for it.

He arrived here yesterday and meeting a policeman at the station, asked about his brother, John, whom he thought was connected with the police department. No man of that name is on the local force, and the authorities thought that Beatty was insane. This morning, however, they questioned him and found that he thought that he was in Ohio. They telegraphed to Lorraine and John Beatty, who is a detective there, wired back funds for his aged brother to retrace his steps.

The aged man went East tonight. He said that he was surprised when he traveled so long and that he thought Lorraine was a long way from Syracuse. At Cheyenne, when passengers were told to change for Denver, the old man was asleep, but at Ogden he was surprised to hear that Salt Lake was near by. He was absolutely destitute when he reached this city and was cared for by the officers during his stay.

QUIET DAY FOR ROOSEVELT.

Discusses Literature, Receives Invitations for Addresses and Looks Over Plans for Raising the Maine.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—Theodore Roosevelt spent the day at his editorial offices in an animated discussion of literature. Former State Senator George O. Cobb was closeted with Col. Roosevelt. At the end of their conference the colonel said, with a smile:

"We had a very interesting talk on literature."

Representative Herbert Parsons of New York called next, accompanied by State Senator J. Mayhew Wainwright. At the end of their conference Col. Roosevelt said, with another smile:

"I have had another very interesting talk on literature."

Several new appointments for speeches were made today. The invitations Col. Roosevelt has received since he returned to America total 2024, according to his secretary.

Col. Roosevelt promised today to speak before the Lincoln Club in New York on February 12, 1911.

John F. O'Rourke, a New York contractor, appeared with a roll of blue prints and pictures of battleships. He has a scheme for raising the wreck of the Maine. When Col. Roosevelt heard that Mr. O'Rourke thought he knew how to effect this he asked him to call and explain his plan.

Among other callers was C. Hildreth of Franklin, Neb.

CARS ARE TIED UP.

Colombian Traction System Will Remain Inoperative for Several Weeks Despite Centennial.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—No attempts to run street cars in Bogota, Colombia, will be made for several weeks, according to advices received today at the State Department.

Service had been resumed with little interference in the suburbs, but a centennial celebration has just begun in the city which will attract great crowds for the next two weeks. The management of the system and the Colombian government has decided not to attempt to resume operations until the city is at normal again. They fear rioting.

NO SETTLEMENT.

IN MOB RIOTS GRAND TRUNK TRAINMEN ARE BADLY HURT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MONTREAL (Que.) July 22.—The end of the fourth day of the strike of the Grand Trunk conductors and trainmen showed little prospects of settlement. The attempts of Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, to secure a cessation of hostilities by a resort to arbitration have so far resulted merely in a reiteration by both of the parties that they are willing to arbitrate on lines they suggested Monday afternoon just before the strike was ordered.

The company succeeded in moving some freight today on most of its divisions and promises to do much better tomorrow.

Reports from Brockville say that a mob of 1000 persons captured the platform of the railway station and held possession all evening, the police being unwilling or unable to dislodge them.

An official statement issued by the company says:

"The situation continues to improve. Every scheduled passenger train on this division is now in operation. Way freight left Montreal for the West this morning, and a fast freight for the South. Our attitude is what it has been all along. We believe our proposition when made was fair and equitable, and we still think so."

MOB BEATS TRAINMEN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BELLEVILLE (Ont.) July 22.—As the result of an outbreak here last night on the arrival of a Grand Trunk train from Toronto, John McCann, its acting conductor, and M. Donovan, brakeman, are lying in a hospital in a critical condition. The men were set upon by a hundred persons, and severely beaten. The injured men were carried into a hotel, which was shortly afterward bombarded by stones.

KANSAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HUTCHINSON (Kan.) July 22.—To prevent the foreclosure of a mortgage on his home, W. H. Israel of Lewis, Kan., shot and killed himself yesterday in a rooming-house here. Israel was proprietor of a merchandise store at Lewis. Under his hat in the rooming-house was found this note: "Dear wife: Take the insurance and pay off the mortgage on the house. The store will have to go. Forgive me." Another note was found, asking that his body be buried by Hutchinson Masons, of which lodge he was a member.

EDITOR IS BEATEN.

ATTACK LAID TO GAMBLERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Ill.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the third time within four weeks Martin Blank, editor of the Madison Republic, was attacked last night. This time he was beaten into insensibility and lay for an hour with his bleeding head on the floor of his office. It is believed that the assault was the outcome of the unremitting warfare which Blank has been making on the gamblers of Madison and against Mayor Ferdinand A. Garesche and Chief of Polick Patrick McCambridge. Blank was writing in his office when two men entered. One thrust a revolver into his face and ordered him to throw up his hands. He refused to do so and he was beaten by the man.

EXPENSIVE RELATIONSHIP.

Man Said to Be Cousin of Rockefeller Dies in Brooklyn—Blood Ties Hurt Business.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There passed away in a little Brooklyn flat in the rear of a small newspaper store, last night a man who is said to have been a blood cousin of John D. Rockefeller.

The man who is dead is William E. Miller, who lived at No. 915 Gates avenue, and will be remembered for a long time as generous, kindly and good-hearted. He was 71 years old, and conducted the newspaper and magazine store behind which the family lived.

Although he was said to be related to the rich Rockefeller in his lifetime, he had little use for the financier. The dead man's son, when questioned regarding the relationship between his father and John D., exclaimed:

"Don't say anything about that. It has cost us thousands of dollars. The people pass our store and say:

"'This is Rockefeller's cousin; pass him up—buy elsewhere.'"

MINNESOTA IS RICH.

State Treasury Is So Full Taxes of Next Year Will Probably Be Abrogated.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Minnesota presents the unusual spectacle of a State with a treasury filled to overflowing. If the recommendations of Gov. Eberhart are followed, all taxes will be abrogated for the year 1911, as there will be plenty of money coming in through ordinary collections together, with the surplus of almost $2,000,000, to keep the State machinery moving.

The unusual amount of money on hand and which will continue to pour in is due largely to the settlement of cases in a manner highly profitable to the State. The largest of these are lumber cases, the gross earnings tax, the Kennedy inheritance tax cases and others.

With the money constantly piling up, the State officials have been holding secret conferences for a month to devise some way to dispose of the fund and the proposition to abrogate the taxes, thus distributing the surplus among the taxpayers, seems to find most favor.

SLIPPERY FER-DON.

Quack Doctor Wanted in Sacramento, But They Don't Get Hold of Him or His Gang.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fer-Don, who is wanted here on a charge of having defrauded a number of Sacramento people under promise to cure them of their ills, is reported to be in San Diego. District Attorney Wachhorst complains of a lack of coöperation on the part of Southern California authorities in trying to apprehend Fer-Don and his clever wife, who is supposed to be with him.

"I learned that Fer-Don was supposed to be in San Diego some time ago," says Wachhorst, "and I immediately sent a telegram to the District Attorney of San Diego county asking him to help me in this case. That was over two weeks ago, and I have not received even a reply to my telegram. The Los Angeles authorities were equally lax in giving me any assistance when it was learned that the Fer-Don couple were in that city, and I sent word to have them arrested. I am tremendously handicapped in this case by the apparent refusal of the southern authorities to aid me."

E. W. Raymond, one of the Fer-Don gang, was located yesterday in Dubuque, and orders were sent there to arrest him, but he escaped.

Officers of the National Union were elected yesterday at the session of the National Senate meeting in Toledo. Among the officers are: President H. C. Smale, Chicago; speaker, H. E. Andersen, Oakland, Cal.

In addition to prizes, approximately $45,000 will be spent by Sacramento in providing features for the fair, making, in all, $77,500, exclusive of the cost of providing exhibits and other features of amusements to be expended this year.

Reno Loan Shark Loans Woman Hundred Dollars on Paste Diamond, But She Makes Good.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stylishly gowned and adorned with handsome gems, a pretty brunette of a decided Spanish caste entered a local pawnshop today and asked the clerk what he would give her for a large blue-white stone, apparently a diamond. He asked if $100 would do, and she assented. She gave the name of Yetta Gilbert on the pawn ticket. When the pawnbroker returned and examined the stone he found a rank imitation, even the gold on the ring being plated. The woman and a companion were located in a local restaurant, but the man slipped away in a gambling house. The woman finally gave a real diamond worth $35 and $65 in gold for the return of her spurious "gem" and gave up her ticket. The authorities believe that she has considerable "paste" in her possession, and intend to watch her while she is in town. Southern Pacific detectives state that she arrived from San Francisco several days ago.

ARSON SHUTS OUT SENATORS.

il-enders Only Twice Hit the Pill Safe.

ooligans Bump Fitzgerald in Opening Period.

elders Perform in Major League Style.

ernon, 3; Sacramento, 0.

Kit" Carson let the Senators down a row of goose eggs at Vernon, erday afternoon. The two measly that the visitors got didn't do n a bit of good for neither of the ers got beyond second. In fact, n, the first man up for the Sena- in the opening inning, and Perry, he third, were the only tailenders reached the keystone sack.

e suburban heaver was very mean he way in which he served up the ones that the Senators hit at the ers, and the Hooligans were right to gobble up everything that their way. In the present series Hoganites have not been troubled the nervousness that worked to disadvantage in the series with Angels and even with Burrell out he game the infield gave a fine ex- ion of real snappy playing.

zgerald didn't pitch such a bad after the first period but there 't an inning in which Carson did have the upper hand. The Vern- had speed to burn and he only ed one man. For that matter " didn't give any free transpor- n, but the Hooligans got six safe s that were fairly well bunched, the result that half of them ted for tallies.

BRASHERS AGAIN SHINE.

e Brashear boys again loomed up he bat and in the field. They have playing half the game for the rbanites during the last week and fans count on them as a safe bet art something. Roy rapped in one he runs in the first and Carlisle d on Kitty's long fly in the third. mpire McGreevy had a fairly pleas- day, about the first he has had week. There was practically no bing," although Carson was in- d to talk about the decisions on and strikes. Stovall managed to out the game and celebrated his n by getting a pretty double n sacrifice that helped the run get-r some unknown reason Graham ced Fitzgerald with Nourse in the h inning. The Suburbanites hadn't anything to "Fitz" in the three ding periods and as they had a of three tallies, made in the early of the contest, there was nothing gained by the change. As it was, Vernonites got a hit off Nourse in one frame in which he worked. hen Shinn opened the game by ing to left field it looked as if on was in for a bumping, but the tors did not get another bingle the eighth. Burns followed Shinn a sacrifice, but Perry and Danzig out on grounders.

"FITZ" GETS SLUGGED.

e Hooligans broke up the game st before it had started when they ed on "Fitz" in their half of the Carlisle went out, Shinn to Dan- but Stovall came through with a le to center. Kitty popped to n, and there were two gone with a on second. Roy Brashear sent "peach" to left and Stovall d. Jesse might have been nailed he plate if La Longe had not ed Perry's throw. Coy came ugh with the third hit, a nice e over second, and Roy reached . Coy stole second, but Hosp ght the period to a close by nding out to Shinn.

ister received a free pass in the d after two men were out, but he on first. The Hooligans went out rder in their half of the frame.

rlisle started the ball rolling he third by hitting safe into the garden. Stovall laid down a pretty fice and Carlisle by fast sprinting to third on the play. Carlisle had od start to second before Jesse he ball and Fitzgerald lost a lot me in handling the sphere. Kitty up a long fly to Heister and Carl- had no trouble in beating the w to the plate.

er the third period neither team man beyond second. Only three were registered in the last six es. But although there was little n on the bases there was excite- in the field for the players had of ginger and covered a large nt of territory. Score:

OAKLAND HEAVER IS TOO MUCH OF A WHITEWASHER.

Thorsen Twirls Good Ball, But Receives Poor Support and Is Beaten in Two Innings—Aviation Trips of Big Heaver Also Help to Lose Important Contest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pitcher Christian was a thorn in the side of the Angels today, the Oaks winning an easy victory by a score of 2 to 0.

With the Seals seriously threatened by the Dillonites for supremacy in the league the Friday kids were naturally pulling for the commuters and a happy throng of urchins filed out after the game was over.

The Oakland box artist had his elusive benders working in fine shape and the opposing willow wielders were powerless and the steady support of the winning fielders kept the southerners from hailing distance of the home plate.

The Angels behaved badly in the field, no less than five bungles being recorded against them, and the scorer was liberal at that. Roth was the principal offender, erring on three occasions and the last one cost the team a run.

Thorsen pitched great ball, holding the Oaks down to four bingles and striking out five men, but his brief aviation trips arrived at unopportune stages.

HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 22.—San Francisco won today's contest with Portland, after a hard-fought battle, by the score of 3 to 2.

Portland scored twice in the third, but that was all. San Francisco tied the score in the fourth, and a home run by Tennant in the ninth gave them the odd point.

Portland had a fine opportunity to score in the eighth, but it came to naught because of Sheehan's poor base running. Score:

PLAY TWO HOT GAMES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—Cleveland and Philadelphia played two exciting games here today, the visitors winning the first 7 to 6, and playing a fifteen-inning tie, with one run each, in the second.

The home team played a fine, uphill game in the first contest, but, after tieing the score in the eighth inning, lost in the ninth on Turner's walk, an out, and Bemis's single.

Falkenberg and Bender had a great pitchers' duel in the second game, the latter being slightly more effective and being accorded perfect support. In eleven innings Cleveland went out in order. Score:

First game—
Cleveland, 7; hits, 5; errors, 3.
Philadelphia, 6; hits, 10; errors, 3.
Batteries—Berger, Harkness and Bemis; Dygert, Morgan and Thomas, Lapp.

Second game (fifteen innings)—
Cleveland, 1; hits, 7; errors, 2.
Philadelphia, 1; hits, 12; errors, 0.
Batteries—Falkenberg and Easterly; Bender and Lapp.

who defeated Beals C. Wright, in the tennis semi-finals at Brookline, yesterday.

New York, with a seven-run lead to overcome, caught up with and defeated Detroit, 11 to 8.

In an effort to stave off defeat, Manager Jennings took Mullin off the rubber at the end of the seventh. Cobb tripled in the fifth with the bases full. Score:

Detroit, 8; hits, 12; errors, 3.

WITH MEN ON BASES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, July 22.—Boston hit the ball hard with men on bases and won from St. Louis, 6 to 3.

A peculiar double play was a feature. In the second inning, with Stahl on first, Lord popped a fly to Wallace and Stahl was caught off the base. Lord, however, blocked the shortstop's throw and Stahl was called out for interference. Score:

Boston, 6; hits, 9; errors, 1.
St. Louis, 3; hits, 8; errors, 2.
Batteries—Smith and Carrigan; Lake and Stephens.

TRAINS MUST WAIT.

PLAY OUT THE INNING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, July 22.—No more National League games will be called at a fixed time to enable a team to catch a train. President Lynch made this announcement last evening. A time limit may be fixed, but if an inning is started, it must be completed even if it runs from ten to fifteen minutes beyond the fixed time.

Many complaints have been registered by person who went out to see ball games and found that an agreement had been reached to call a game at a certain time. It generally happened that the club in the lead within a few minutes of the time limit was able to prolong a half-inning by jockeying and thus rob an opposing team of a chance to tie or win a game.

Lynch Loses His Job.

SEATTLE, July 22.—D. E. Dugdale Northwestern League, last night accepted the resignation of M. J. Lynch as player-manager and captain of the Seattle team, and appointed Fred Wood to fill the vacancy. Lynch is at liberty to sign with any club that may desire his services. For the present Adams will play centerfield, the position formerly played by Lynch, whose resignation follows two months of unsuccessful effort to give Seattle a winning team.

Suspends Raymond.

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—Following an encounter at the National League Park between Manager McGraw and Pitcher Arthur Raymond of the New York National League team, McGraw suspended Raymond indefinitely today. McGraw accused the pitcher of violating the training rules.

Boston Buys Moser.

OAKLAND (Cal.) July 22.—Pitcher Walter Moser, of the local coast league team, has been sold to the Boston American League Baseball Club for $3500. He will not report until next spring.

WIND CHECKS IN AVIATION.

Curtiss, Baldwin and Mars to Show Smoky City Folk the Art of Flying—Heavy Atmosphere Expected to Make Flight Easier—Sports on River Island.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—The Pittsburgh Aëro Club has been in existence but a few weeks, but it already lays claim to something alleged to be original in aëronautics called the "wind check," not an accessory to aëroplanes, but a coupon entitling the ticket holders to come around the next day free in case the wind prevents flights at the aviation meet scheduled to be held August 5 at Brunot's Island in the Ohio River.

Aviators Glenn H. Curtiss, Capt. Thomas H. Baldwin and J. C. Mars have been engaged to show Pittsburgh the art of flying.

There is some speculation as to whether the usually dense smoke-laden atmosphere will make flights easier here than elsewhere. It is suggested that it should do so on the same principle as salt water is the more buoyant to the swimmer.

Ames Aero Cycle.

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) July 22.—Tests of the "Ames Aëro Cycle," as the airship invented by Congressman Butler Ames of Massachusetts will probably be called, begun at the naval academy today. Before a naval board the workings of the machine were demonstrated by its inventor.

Too Much Gasoline.

JOPLIN (Mo.) July 22.—An aluminum aëroplane from which great things were expected by E. M. De Chenne, its inventor, came to grief at the aviation field today when the gasoline tank exploded in a short trial flight. De Chenne was uninjured.

Summer Aviation.

ASBURY PARK (N. Y.) July 22.—Twenty thousand dollars in prizes for professional and amateur aviators will be offered at the ten days' aviation meet to be held at Interlaken, near here, from August 10 to 20. Curtiss, Hamilton, Baldwin and four of the Wright aviators are expected to compete.

MARSHALL IN DRAW.

HAMBURG, July 22.—In the fifth round of the international master chess tournament, now in progress here, Frank J. Marshall, the American champion, drew his game today with Schlechter. The latter player still leads the tournament by one and one-half points over Marshall, Ruras, Niemzowitsch and Salweuti.

CATCH HIM AT LAST.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) July 22.—Word was received here today of the arrest at Florence, Kan., of Barney Martin, an alleged member of the Maybray gang, for whom the authorities have been searching for months. Martin is said to have acted as steerer in the case in which Samuel Suter of Cass Lake, Minn., claimed to have been robbed of $5000. He is under Federal indictment in Council Bluffs and Omaha.

Langford and Kaufman.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—Arrangements were completed here today for a six-round bout between Sam Langford and Al Kaufman at the Philadelphia National League baseball park on the night of August 10. Harry Edwards, the promoter, announces that if the weather is unfavorable on that night the bout will be held on the first clear night following. The men will meet at catch weights.

Eastern Championship Is in Sight for Coaster.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BROOKLINE (Mass.) July 22.—The greatest sensation of a tennis tournament filled with upsets occurred today in the semi-finals of the Longwood singles when Maurice McLoughlin, the whirlwind player from the Pacific Coast and a member of last year's Davis cup team, defeated Beals C. Wright, former national champion and America's mainstay in international contests, in four hard-fought sets, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6, 6-4.

The young Californian, who is making his second campaign in the East, outgeneraled and outplayed Wright. Should the westerner maintain the speed he displayed in today's games, experts pick him to beat Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia, the intercollegiate champion, in the finals.

The eastern doubles championship also furnished its daily upset when E. H. Whitney, the Boston interscholastic singles champion, and Richard Bishop of the Longwood Club, beat G. F. Touchard and C. R. Gardner of New York in four sets in the semi-finals. Whitney and Bishop tomorrow will meet the Yale team of R. A. Holden, Jr., and E. M. Wairous for the eastern title.

Summary in semi-finals eastern doubles:

Whitney and Bishop defeated Touchard and Gardner, 7-5, 6-2, 11-13, 6-0; R. W. Holden, Jr., and F. M. Wairous, Yale, defeated R. Palmer and C. G. Plympton, New York, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Longwood singles, semi-finals—M. E. McLoughlin, San Francisco, defeated Beals C. Wright, Boston, 4-6, 7-5, 8-6, 6-4; Wallace F. Jonnson, Philadelphia, defeated A. S. Dabney, Jr., Boston, 4-6, 8-6, 6-2, 6-3.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB OUTING.

Members of Large Los Angeles Organization Plan Day of Sports and Races at Motordrome.

Members of the Los Angeles Motorcycle Club are to enjoy a club run and picnic tomorrow at the Motordrome. An interesting programme of sports has been arranged for the afternoon on the piepan track. The start of the run is to be from the club headquarters, Twenty-ninth and Main streets, at 9 o'clock.

Owners of motorcycles, whether members of the club or not, are invited to join the long procession of wheelmen which is to leave for the scene of action. The club members are enthusiastic over the plans for the day and a good time is promised.

Fifteen events, including speed contests, distance runs, and pursuit races have been arranged. As the crowd will consist mostly of friends of the riders the sport should be keenly enjoyed.

In addition to the motorcycle races an effort is to be made to pull off a series of field sports. If there is time in the forenoon the athletically inclined can engage in foot races, tug-of-war contests, jumping and wrestling.

DREW WINNER IN CALCUTTA SWEEP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "luckiest man in England" this year is Capt. H. T. Raban, who drew the winner, Lemberg, in the Calcutta sweep on the derby. On an investment of less than $5 he won $160,000.

If he had kept his nerve Raban's winnings would have amounted to $250,000 on his original $5—the greatest in the history of the turf betting. But when he learned he had drawn Lemberg he sold half his ticket for $37,500. The fortunate officer is now in England on a year's leave. The Calcutta sweep is the largest racing pool of the kind in the world.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP IN WELTERWEIGHT CLASS.

Battles for Six Rounds With London Stock Exchange Broker and Delights Select Gathering of Sports. Britt and Roller Second the American Amateur.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, July, 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a spirited boxing contest, S. Adler of the London Stock Exchange Boxing Club defeated Ivan V. Kahn, of Los Angeles, Cal., for a gold cup and the title of amateur welterweight champion of the world in London tonight.

The match originated in this way: Kahn, who is over here on a visit, expressed a wish to meet the best English amateur at his weight and issued a challenge to Cohen of the London Stock Exchange Boxing Club, but the latter could not get in condition in time and Adler, another member of the same club, filled the breach.

The pair battled for six rounds with a vim that sent the small but select gathering—which consisted mainly of members of the National Sporting Club and American—nearly crazy. Kahn was seconded by Jimmy Britt and "Doc" Roller.

JOHNSON'S RECEPTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—The "home-coming" reception of Jack Johnson, following his defeat of Jeffries at Reno, Nev., was responsible for the filing of a suit for $45.80 in the municipal court against Robert Motts by Benjamin Cugle today. Motts is manager of a theater, and Cugle is a painter and decorator living on the South Side.

According to Attorney W. S. Newberger, Motts, immediately following Johnson's victory, engaged Cugle to decorate Johnson's residence in preparation of the pugilist's home-coming reception. One hundred and twenty colored horns, flags and flowers were used to decorate the interior of the Johnson house, said the attorney.

When the reception was over Cugle went to Motts and asked the latter to settle for the work. Cugle, Attorney Newberger asserts, was told that Johnson would foot the bill. The lawyer declares that when Cugle later asked Johnson to pay for the decorations the colored prize fighter refused, declaring that he was not going to pay for his own reception.

BUFFALO (N. Y.) July 22.—Billy Papke, middleweight boxer, Wednesday night was married by the Rev. Ethan Curtiss of the Niagara Square Congregational Church, to Miss Edna E. Pulver of Hamilton, Ont.

The marriage of Papke and Miss Pulver is the culmination of a romance. Miss Pulver's family is wealthy and had made arrangements two weeks ago for Miss Pulver and her sister with her mother and father, to sail for Europe for a continental trip lasting three months.

The young woman, however, had another plan and when Papke drove up to her door Wednesday in his racing automobile, she jumped in and a few hours later they were across the border and a half hour later Miss Pulver was Mrs. William Papke.

fleetest of the smaller racers. From the former she will receive a good handicap, but to the latter she will have to make an allowance.

If sailed to best advantage the Mah-pe should win today's race, barring the luck of fluky winds. She is the only big topsail boat of the bunch and has demonstrated time and again her ability to show a diminishing stern to her smaller competitors—with the exception of the Idler. The Mischief I already has one leg on the cup with her victory of last year, but will have to have a generous share of good fortune to get her second victory today.

The race is a very uncertain one on account of the variable winds that almost always are met with before the island is rounded. The course was covered once in about twenty-eight hours by the Monsoon, but this is a feat which has never been duplicated.

In the race for the Whitley cup last month the racers got away with a fine wind and were expected back at dawn, but did not get in until evening of the day after the start. If the wind dies away at the isthmus, as frequently happens, the boats usually bunch up, the boat that has secured the lead in the first part of the run loses it, and the boat that starts home in the van is the one lucky enough to get the first catspaws.

The racers will leave the island to port in this race, instead of to starboard as almost invariably heretofore. The change was decided upon by the Regatta Committee of the South Coast club in the hopes of making a quicker

OVERLAND CAR AND PLUCKY GIRL CREW REACH STOCKTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two travel-worn but happy women arrived in Stockton today in an Overland roadster automobile on their way to San Francisco. They are Miss Blanche Stuart Scott and Miss Gertrude Phillips, who are making a trip across the continent from New York to San Francisco in an automobile. The women made a stop here during the heat of the day.

Miss Scott, who is doing the driving, said that no attempt had been made to break records as they are simply out for a vacation and stopped when and where they pleased on the journey. They put in considerable time at the cities and various points of interest along the route. They had been on the road just forty-two days and had covered 5322 miles when they reached Stockton.

The Overland is supplied with a camping outfit, provisions, extra tires and parts for the automobile in case of accident. The women say they have had an enjoyable and novel outing. From here they went to Haywards tonight and will pull up in front of the St. Francis Hotel tomorrow morning.

AT BIMINI.

HOLBOROW DEFEATS FREETH IN FAST SWIMMING SPRINT.

FRANK HOLBOROW last night defeated George Freeth of Redondo Beach in a 75-yard swimming race at Bimini Baths in the fast time of 36s. In the first aquatic contests held at Bimini Baths under the new management the races brought out a record-breaking crowd. Swimming and diving competitions and exhibitions, with a water polo game between the Bimini Baths and Westlake teams, were the events carded.

Beside the match event, Holborow gave an exhibition in a 50-yard dash against time, making the distance in 28s.

Clifford Bowes, Sweet, W. Rauft, E. Becker and Conwell were among those who took part in the high and fancy diving exhibitions.

The water polo contest proved exciting, ending in a tie, 2 to 2.

W. Ranft starred with the Bimini team, scoring the two points. E. Becker, in his usual under-water work, brought in the Westlake team's points. R. Morser and S. Worth also did good work.

The tie water polo game will be played off next Friday night at Bimini.

AMERICANS AUTO CRAZY.

Bankers Order Investigation Into the Affairs of Buyers of Machines.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) July 22.—The Westchester County Bankers' Association believes that the people of the United States are "automobile crazy" and that the bankers of the country ought to intervene to save their clients from this madness.

At their annual convention, held here this week, the association passed resolutions asking its members to scrutinize carefully the applications of those who want to borrow money on notes for the purchase of automobiles. The banks are to use extreme caution in discounting such paper.

The bankers declared that hundreds of persons have put themselves in peril of bankruptcy during the last six months by mortgaging their homes or hypothecating valuable securities to buy machines.

By Sea and Air.

NEW YORK, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A "mechanical flying fish" that combines the qualities of an aëroplane and the speeding motor boat is the latest invention, and Joseph H. Hoadley, president of the Alabama Coal and Coke Company and other corporations, is the inventor. He asserts today that he has tried his invention on Long Island Sound and now desires to challenge any aviator to a hundred-mile race for a side bet of $10,000 to $20,000. His machine, he says, can travel thirty-five miles an hour in the water or fifty-five miles an hour in

CLUB DAMES SCANDALIZED.

Pittsburgh Women Divided as to Whether Alice Longworth Has Right to Puff Cigarettes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The report that Mrs. Alice Longworth, formerly Miss Alice Roosevelt, smokes cigarettes, caused a lively discussion today among well-known Pittsburgh club women at a meeting of the Pittsburgh Playground Association Flower Committee.

"I look upon a woman who smokes cigarettes as I do one with bleached hair—with suspicion," was the statement of Mrs. J. H. Armstrong.

Mrs. Minnie G. Roberts and Mrs. George Kramer took leading parts in the discussion, which was listened to with great interest by the women present, among them being members of the following clubs: Wimodausis, Woman's Club of Pittsburgh, Horosis, Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of 1812, Daughters of Pioneers and the Women's Southern Society.

"The higher the position a woman holds the more womanly she should be," asserted Mrs. Roberts and a number of others said they thought Mrs. Longworth ought to be ashamed of herself for setting such an example to the young women of the land. One dissenter, a member of the Wimodausis Club, said:

"Any woman has a right to smoke cigarettes if she wants to, so long as she doesn't tread on any one else's toes."

The spirited discussion was ended rather abruptly when a prominent D.A.R. member arose and said:

"We needn't all get up our feathers simply because Mrs. Longworth smokes cigarettes. Why, 100 years ago our great-grandmothers sat with their hus-

HUSBAND'S HEART TO PROVE RIGHT.

COUNTESS WILL TAKE ORGAN BACK TO SPAIN.

Former Chilian Consul's Body Is Operated on at Pittsburgh to Supply Grewsome Ritual Imposed by Spanish Law as Condition Precedent to Inheritance of Estate.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Accompanying a beautiful casket inlaid with pearl containing the heart of her husband, Count Julian De Ovies, formerly Chilian Consul at Pittsburgh, Countess De Ovies will soon journey to Madrid, Spain to deposit the heart as her soverign proof in claim of the Spanish estates of her dead husband.

The grewsome ritual is in accordance with the law of Spain which provides that the heart of any member of the royal family dying abroad shall be preserved after identification by the government officials of the country wherein the death occurred and of the physicians attending and the Spanish consul in the country, shall be forwarded to Madrid, Spain, as proof of the death of the subject.

This was done in the case of Count De Ovies. The heart was removed from the body following the sudden death of the Count at the residence of his son in Birmingham, Ala., and identified according to his Spanish sovereign's requirements, and also identified by officials of the United States government sent from Washington. The heart was packed in a casket together with necessary papers and will soon be dispatched to the country that gave the man birth when his widow goes to claim the entailed estates.

When delivered in Madrid the casket will be opened with impressive ceremonies in the presence of court dignitaries and the widow and her attorneys will make formal demand for the estates to the crown.

RICH WOMAN IS OBDURATE.

Mrs. Stephen H. Pell Would Give Jewels to Davy Jones Before Paying Duty on Them.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I'll throw this necklace overboard before I will pay duty that is not due," said Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell today, on the White Star pier. She started toward the end of the pier, angrily swinging a pearl necklace set with four flashing diamonds, in her hand. Behind her trailed Appraiser Nathias, pouring out argument and entreaty.

Mrs. Pell and the attendant almost reached the end of the pier before he finally succeeded in inducing her to permit the necklace to be sent to the appraiser's stores for valuation and discussion. One of the most potent arguments he used was his assurance that she would be forced to pay the duty even if she threw the necklace away.

Mrs. Pell is the wife of Stephen H. P. Pell, the banker, and the daughter of Col. Robert M. Thompson, with whom she has been on a tour of the world.

Mrs. Pell contended the necklace was not dutiable because she had bought the diamonds here and had them set in the necklace on the other

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BELTON (Tex.) July 22.—Henry Gentry, a negro, 18 years old, paid the penalty of his crime of murder and presumably intended assault, at the stake tonight while two others, a brother and a companion, charged with complicity missed a like fate only through the pleadings of Sheriff Burke and several citizens.

Early today the negro attempted to force an entrance into the home of Mrs. Lames, a widow, but was frightened away by a shot by the woman's daughter. Several hours later, while Gentry was being searched for by a posse headed by Constable James Mitchell, Gentry firing from ambush, killed the posse leader.

The mob surrounded the fugitive and as it closed in, Gentry made a dash for liberty but was shot and crippled. He was dragged behind an automobile to Belton, where several thousand frenzied men awaited the coming.

As the public square was reached, the rope was tossed to a man on horseback and the negro was dragged about the square to the pyre.

The applying of the torch was the work of a moment and while several hundred shots were fired into his body, the already dying negro was incinerated.

A dash was then made for the City Prison where were the two others charged with aiding Gentry in the killing of Mitchell. Pleading and a show of force by the Sheriff, however, stopped the mob.

ELUSIVE.

SCOUR CONTINENT FOR CRIPPEN; SEX OF VICTIM ESTABLISHED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, July 22.—Although many innocent men have been detained by the police on suspicion of being Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, who is wanted by the authorities on the assumption that he may be able to throw some light on the mystery surrounding the disappearance of his wife, Belle Elmore, Scotland Yard is still without any reliable news as to his whereabouts.

An increasing number of stories are coming into London from the continent, giving what their senders believe are clews to the movements or whereabouts of Crippen and Miss Leneve, his typist, but up to the present none of these has proven of value.

The single clew not disproved is furnished by the unidentified traveler reported by the French police to be in the Pyrenees. British authorities do not take much stock in the theory that the suspect is Crippen.

The physicians who made the post-mortem examination have been successful in establishing that the parts discovered in the cellar are those of a woman.

CAFE KEEPER'S STORY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BRUSSELS, July 22.—A café keeper in the suburban village of Forest informed the police today that two persons answering the description of Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve, were there last Sunday. They spoke with a strong English accent and one of them apparently was a woman dressed as a man. They left from Brussels in a tram car.

FUGITIVE IN BARCELONA?

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PERPIGNAN (France) July 22.—M. Vignier, prefect of police of the Department of Pyrenees (orientals,) said today that it was his belief that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, sought by the London police because of the mysterious disappearance of his wife, Belle Elmore, had reached Barcelona, Spain.

The prefect, who is the permanent French delegate to the Republic of Andorra, over which France exercises certain rights of suzerainty, made an investigation following yesterday's report that Crippen had sought refuge in the mountain fastenesses of Andorra. He satisfied himself that the suspect was not among the shepherd folk and believed he had continued across the Spanish frontier, eventually arriving at Barcelona.

The traveler believed by the police to be Crippen departed out of sight Monday when he left the train at a station between Vernet Les Bains and Mont Louis. A report that a man answering the description of the doctor was seen at Puiciguda, Spain, had developed nothing tangible today.

CHICAGO SUSPECT RELEASED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—Albert C. Rickward, 29 years old, of London, was taken into custody by city detectives late today as a suspect in the Dr. Crippen murder case. Despite the difference of nearly twenty years in the ages of Rockward and Dr. Crippen, the detectives took their "suspect" to the City Hall, searched him and later examined his luggage at the Lake Shore station.

Rickward was grealy incensed at his arrest and for a time refused to answer any questions. He was released shortly. The only reason given by the detectives for the arrest was the statement that Rickward answered descriptions of Dr. Crippen.

HOPES SLIGHT.

FRANTIC EFFORTS ARE MADE TO SAVE RAINY RIVER FROM FIRE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FORT FRANCIS (New Ontario) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] New relief parties from a wide radius are being hurried to assist in trying to save the town of Rainy River, which has several times caught fire from the forest blazes during the last twenty-four hours.

Beaudette, Minn., has sent fire fighting apparatus, with a small army of men on a special train.

Winnipeg now has en route two fire engines and a number of men from the fire department, and a train is rushing them in.

Kenora has sent a swift steamer similarly laden, while Fort William, Port Arthur, International Falls, Minn., and other places are adding to the fighting force.

The town is completely surrounded by flames, and with the high winds blowing throughout the Rainy River district tonight, but slight hopes are entertained of saving it.

All day the telegraph wires have been down, and the railroad tracks are so strewn with falling and half-burned trees that it is with difficulty that relief trains will be able to get through. The loss of standing timber alone will reach $1,000,000.

Emo is another of the towns in New Ontario which is in the gravest danger, according to the latest reports.

WISCONSIN BLAZES NOW UNDER CONTROL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WAUSAU (Wis.) July 22.—The fires at Galloway, which caused destructive losses yesterday in that vicinity, are reported today to be fairly under control. The flames are still extending for five miles east of Eldron to Pike Lake village and large crews of men are fighting the fires throughout the standing timber portion in that district.

The loss yesterday in standing timber and logs, according to a conservative estimate today, was $500,000.

The Jacob Mortensen Lumber Company, which owns a large tract of standing timber near Galloway, has a large crew of men fighting the fire.

The Hatton Lumber Company and the Moore and Galloway Lumber Company are protecting their timber. If the wind keeps down it is expected the flames will soon be under control.

In addition to the fire at Galloway, numerous small fires have started in the southeastern portion of Marathon county, the western part of Shawnee county, northeastern portion of Portage county. Conditions today are reported favorable and the towns are still safe, the fires having gone down perceptibly.

RAINS CHECK FIRE ONLY TEMPORARILY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SPOKANE, July 22.—Rains reported throughout the Crows Nest district and in the vicinity of Nelson, B. C., checked the Kootenai fire Thursday, but high winds sprang up and fanned the embers into fresh flames, creating new danger.

The fate of Sandon is still in doubt, all wires from that point to Nelson being down. Early this morning the operator at Roseberry reported that the Sandon operator had left the station and fled to safety.

Rossland fires are reported under control, but flames are said to be creeping close to Fruitville and the town is in danger.

SMITH'S SON IS KILLED.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Benjamin T. Smith, young son of Addison T. Smith, secretary to Senator Heyburn of Idaho, was accidentally shot and killed today at Mount Holly, Va., by a young woman whose identity is unknown. Young Smith, in company with a brother and the son of Lieut. Dinger, U.S.N., were on their vacation. The boys armed with rifles were standing on a dock near Mount Holly, when a party of young women in a launch came up. The boys chatted with the girls after they had disembarked, and one of the girls laughingly took Smith's rifle from him. While handling it the weapon was discharged and Smith was shot in the temple. The boy's body was brought heer tonight and his father, en route to Boise, Idaho, was intercepted by telegraph in Ohio.

Dr. M. S. Watkins spoke in Blanchard Hall last night on the subject: "One Hundred Years on the Water Wagon," the lecture being a historical review of the history of temperance work. To Recover Homestead.

A civil action was begun by the United States yesterday, in the Circuit Court, to recover 160 acres of land in Tulare county from John Dunlap, who is charged with its fraudulent entry as a homestead in 1901. It is alleged that he did not take up the land with the intention of making a home upon it, but for speculative purposes, and that he made false oath in his final proof two years ago. The Land Office at Visalia claims to have just discovered the fraud, and brought action accordingly.

Attach Big Grant Hotel.

The Burton Range Company of Cincinnati yesterday filed an attachment in the United States Circuit Court against the U. S. Grant Hotel and Office Company of San Diego for $6000. The complainants placed the kitchen and bakery equipment in the new hotel on a contract of $8386.92, upon which the hotel company made the first payment of $2795.65, but is alleged to have defaulted on the balance, which was to have been paid in three equal installments, at thirty, sixty, and ninety days. The claim is for this balance, with interest.

Dies by Gas.

Unable to endure the torture of an apparently incurable malady, Charles Brown, 65 years old, committed suicide yesterday afternoon. He was an inmate of a home for the aged, conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor at No. 2700 East First street. He entered the basement of the establishment and found a compartment where he could turn on the gas and await asphyxiation without danger of being balked by currents of fresh air. Brown has been an inmate of the institution four years, and during that time has suffered with Bright's disease. The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of Cussen & Co.

Snug and Happy Now.

They were married by Judge Wilbur in his chambers at 11:30 o'clock yesterday, having finally won the consent of the bride's brother, George T. Vernon of San Diego, and they lost no time in announcing the glad news to their friends, the Police Court reporters. The witnesses were Probation Officer McLaughlin, Mrs. McCracken, and Mrs. Bingham, also probation officers, and Jack Coffee, a friend of the groom's.

MOUTH GIVES HIM AWAY.

Colored Sleuth Arrests Negro Chicken Peddler by Deduction, But, Fowls Not Identified.

A rank failure in explaining to the officers where he had obtained scores of chickens caused Eugene Franklin, a negro chicken peddler, to be thrown into jail early yesterday morning.

The management of the Pioneer Hatchery, No. 112 East Eighth street, made an appeal to Capt. Lehnhausen recently to stop the raids on their chickens. The hatchery, it seems, had been broken open and a number of chickens stolen, besides which the fowls had displayed an amazing knack of flying away through wire cages.

Patrolman Watson, a colored member of the force, has already made a remarkable record as a chicken-thief detective. The captain put Watson and his partner, Patrolman Stevens, on the case.

"That coon passed me on the street and I just thought he had a mouth that looked like a chicken slaughterhouse, and so we started in to watch him," explained Watson yesterday.

They found that Franklin had disposed of about 300 pounds of chickens in the last few days, selling them to various dealers on the East Side. They located his home at No. 649 Ceres avenue and learned that he was out late every night and often remained out all night. Then they found that the suspected darkey had sold a quantity of chickens to W. H. Harris, a dealer at No. 122 East Seventh street, and was to call yesterday morning for his money.

The officers nabbed Franklin, as he appeared at the door of the place, and confiscated the chickens. Yesterday Watson admitted with much regret that they were still a long way from having made out a case.

"We can't get anybody to identify those chickens," said Watson, mournfully. "It ought to be easy, but those people just look at those chickens and can't identify them." Franklin is being held for investigation.

BAG OF GOLD MISSING.

Mysteriously Disappears from Large Shipment Made by First National Bank of This City.

After two weeks of silence news was let out from San Francisco yesterday that $1000 in gold has mysteriously disappeared from a consignment of $100,000 sent by the First National Bank of this city to the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco.

The coin was sent in four registered mail pouches each of which contained twenty-five small sacks, in each of which was inclosed $1000 in $20 gold pieces. The money was insured, so that neither the government nor the banks lose anything. It was sent north on July 12, and was delivered by Frank A. Haas, postoffice clerk, to John F. Hearst, clerk of the Crocker bank, who gave his receipt for the full amount.

Hearst and another clerk of the bank, Cassius B. Wright, placed the four pouches in an automobile, carried them to the bank and locked them in a wire cage, where they lay for four hours before being counted. It was then that it was discovered that one of the little coin sacks had been abstracted from one of the pouches, and later Clerk Hearst was suspended by the bank on a charge of carelessness.

Inquiry at the Los Angeles postoffice brought the reply that they had never heard that such a loss had occurred.

At the First National Bank the cashier said they had been apprised of the loss, but had no further information.

TO WESTERN AVENUE.

Los Angeles Railway Company Starts Work on Thirty-ninth Street Line Extension.

The Los Angeles Railway Company yesterday began construction work on the extension of the Thirty-ninth-street electric line. The extension will be one mile in length and will run from the present terminus of the line out to Western avenue. The company promises that cars will be operated over the extension by August 15.

In accordance with the new city ordinance requiring that car tracks be ballasted with concrete, the Los Angeles Railway Company is now engaged in paving between its tracks on the following lines:

North Main street from Ann to River; Maple avenue from Fifth street to Seventh; Mateo street from Fourth to Sixth; Vermont avenue from Santa Monica to Santa Barbara; and Eleventh street from Figueroa to Alvarado.

El Paso Health Board Gives Direction to Spare no Canine—Rabies Kill Several Persons.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The death of Alberto Tarango, who died a violent death from hydrophobia early Saturday morning, following the death of two others within the last six months, has caused the city health department to take drastic action to stamp out the terrible malady here, where the town is ridden with dogs kept by the Mexican families of the South Side.

The Tarango boy's death followed a period of two days' terrible sufferings. He was bitten by a two-months-old puppy six weeks previous to the development of the disease.

The other two cases were those of Warren Blakey and Joseph Warren. The former was a small boy who was bitten while playing in the street. The other children died in terrible agony at the County Hospital.

The order of the city Board of Health is to catch and kill every dog, whether muzzled or not.

The entire medical profession is behind the movement and everything will be done to prevent the spread of the disease, which is known to exist in the Mexican quarters.

"GUILTY."

DOOMED TO GALLOWS BY JURY'S VERDICT.

Young Figueroa Receives no Mercy for Shooting His Bride of Month. Sensational Finish to Unusual Trial of Man With Tiger's Soul.

WITH his hands clasped across his knee and a slight smile on his lips, George Figueroa last night heard the verdict of the jury, which will send him to the gallows for the murder of his young wife.

He was found guilty of murder in the first degree without any recommendations of mercy. The jury went out at 4 o'clock and returned at 7:30. Most of that time was taken, however, in eating dinner at the expense of the county.

Figueroa had been expecting the worst. When the attorneys had finished their arguments and the cause had been submitted to the jury, the boy was led back to his cell in the County Jail to wait. The prisoners in his tank crowded about him and asked him how his prospects looked.

"Bad," he said. "They are going to find me guilty."

He had evidently prepared his father and mother for what he knew was going to happen. When the jury was heard pounding on the door, Figueroa was quickly brought in from the jail. His old mother was sitting by the rail. He went at once to her side and clasped her in his arms. Over her shoulder, he beckoned to his father and, with their three heads close together, he whispered something to them. He must have told them what to expect, for when the jury came in and announced its verdict, neither of them looked up, or showed surprise or interest, only a sort of dead resignation.

As the jurors were led in, Figueroa, with his fingers lightly clasped across his knee, scanned every face. He was a lonely and desolate figure. Every face in the courtroom, excepting those of his father and mother, was turned upon him in hostile curiosity. He was utterly friendless.

The foreman rose and read out, in a very slow voice: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree."

The smile faded from Figueroa's face and a peculiar dead look came into his eyes.

He kissed his mother again and left the courtroom with his graceful, slouching cat-like walk. He didn't say a word or falter in a foostep until the doors of the jail tank opened and closed upon him.

Sentence will be pronounced Monday morning. His attorneys state that they will appeal to the Supreme Court.

The last day of the trial was one of oratory and hysterics. The jury had been so moved by the horrible story of Figueroa's brutality to his wife that some of the members could not restrain themselves, but spoke out their contempt of the arguments in his defense from the jury box.

Their interruptions of the oratory made an extraordinary event in court history.

ABRUPT ENDING.

The case came abruptly to a close yesterday morning. The afternoon before, Figueroa's attorneys had secured

ARTISTIC STEP.

LEAVING THE STAGE FOR LOS ANGELES.

World's Richest Actress, Who Will Locate Here.

Mrs. Frank Minzey, who is known and loved by theater-goers as Sis Hopkins, paid ten thousand dollars yesterday for an acre site near Inglewood. Here, upon the completion of a twenty-five-thousand-dollar home, she and her actor-manager husband will retire from the stage to private life.

MRS. FRANK MINZEY, known to English-speaking theater-goers the world over as Sis Hopkins, and an actress who is reputed to have made more money in her profession than any other woman on the stage, has signalized her intention of becoming an Angeleño by buying an acre site at the crest of the Hill Tract about two miles this side of Inglewood. Here the former Rose Melville and her actor-manager husband will, within a few months, begin building a $25,000 home, and here both propose to settle down and forswear the footlights forever.

Mr. and Mrs. Minzey were married in New York City on June 12. They are now honeymooning at Diamond Lake, a picturesque body of water near Cassopolis, Mich., the husband's boyhood home. Immediately after the ceremonial knot was tied the pair came directly to Los Angeles to look for a homesite. Charles A. Elder, president of the Los Angeles Investment Company, an old friend of both, soon found a place that suited them and the result was the transfer concluded eration of $10,000 for the property.

In a letter received by Elder yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Minzey say: "We are having the time of our lives at this beautiful place, and the coming winter will find us in Los Angeles awaiting the completion of our new home."

The tract in which the property is situated has just been opened by the Los Angeles Investment Company. It comprises 1400 acres of hill land, overlooking both the city and the sea, with eighty acres of level ground to the east. The property has been purchased piece by piece during the last few years, the greater part of it having formerly been comprised in the Sentous, Cook and Grimous ranches. The site just bought by Mrs. Minzey was the first to be sold by the present owners.

Elder stated yesterday that the plans of the company for the tract's improvement called for an eventual total investment of close to $40,000,000, in this amount being included the entire outlay for houses on 5500 different building sites. No house costing less than $5000 will be erected on the property. The surveys call for over fifty miles of winding streets, the setting out of

WOULD YOU BE HITCHED?

Then Go to the Acting Mayor, Who Offers Marriage Free Now.

If you want to get married Acting Mayor Lusk will perform the ceremony for nothing. Business has not been good at the Executive Chambers for several days, and the acting Mayor made this announcement yesterday. He is to be Mayor for thirty days, and his great free offer is necessarily limited to that period, or until the time when Mr. Alexander decides he has had enough vacation and returns to the job.

After the announcement was made the acting Mayor began to have grave doubts as to his legal power to perform a ceremony. His investigations did not convince him that he had, so the offer may not be a boon to poverty-stricken soulmates.

And then be gathered doubt as to whether, if he had the power, and a couple stood before him yearning for wedded bliss, he would know exactly what to do.

At any rate the Mayor is willing to try if anyone—or rather any two—appears and wants to take a chance.

RESPONSIBLE.

PUTS RISK ON REALTY BROKER.

SUPERIOR JUDGE DECIDES ON CONTAGIOUS CASE.

Holds That Agency Is Liable If It Rents House to Person Suffering from Certain Kinds of Communicable Disease—Appeal to Supreme Court Practically Certain.

Judge Conrey yesterday decided that a real estate concern is liable if it rents a house to a person suffering with a contagious disease and the value of the property is thereby diminished. This point was involved in the suit of Mrs. F. D. Ellsworth against the William R. Staats Company. The plaintiff was given judgment for $550.

The case is novel and puts a new phase on the relation between realty brokers and their clients. It will probably be one which will establish a precedent as it will undoubtedly be taken to the Supreme Court. Each side is said to have declared before the trial that it would appeal if the decision was adverse to it.

The parties involved are residents of Pasadena. Mrs. Ellsworth is the owner of a lot upon which is located a residence and a small house for servants.

Last year she placed the property in the hands of the realty concern with instructions to rent it. It was leased to a physician whose wife was afflicted with tuberculosis and she died.

Mrs. Ellsworth alleges that since that date she has been unable to rent the place and that the market value of it has greatly depreciated, as the prospective owners and tenants do not wish to take the chance of contracting the disease.

Several persons were produced as experts yesterday to testify as to the dangers to be encountered on the premises. They testified on construction of buildings, sunlight, germs and many other things more or less material to the issue.

CAR STRIKES AUTO.

Painful Injuries Received by Husband and Wife Who Are Hurled from Horseless Carriage.

Struck by a westbound Pico-street car last evening when he turned his automobile upon the tracks at the Hoover-street crossing, Charles F. Snider, No. 1776 West Twenty-second street, sustained serious injuries, and his wife, who was riding with him, was slightly injured when they were thrown from their seats into the street. The runabout in which the two were riding was partially wrecked.

Snider sustained a two-inch laceration above his right eye, contusions of the nose and lips, and his back was injured above the left kidney. Mrs. Snider suffered contusions of the knees, a scalp wound, and shock. Dr. M. L. Moore, No. 800 South Alvarado street, was called in attendance on the couple, and stated that they will both recover without serious consequences.

Eye-witnesses say that Snider was to blame in turning onto the car tracks as he did.

Charles F. Snider is assistant secretary of the Merchants' Bank & Trust Co.

MARVEL OF ENDURANCE.

Switchman, Whose Skull and Seven Ribs Are Fractured, May Live, Say Surgeons.

Tom Mulcahy, the switchman who fell out of a third story window at No. 902 North Broadway about 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, was declared by the surgeons yesterday to have an excellent chance of recovery.

Mulcahy, who had been drinking, had his nose almost torn off by the fall, his skull was fractured, seven ribs were crushed in, one ankle was broken and he had a Colle's fracture of the wrist, besides innumerable cuts and contusions.

He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where he was attended by Assistant Police Surgeon Wright. Yesterday Dr. Wright noted a marked improvement and Mulcahy was sent to the Crocker Street Hospital.

INSPECTOR DROPS DEAD.

standing at left and in single portrait, and a group of his sympathizers. Sobaich, sent to America by a club of political refugees of the liberal party to enlist his countrymen in an effort to overthrow the administration of Nicholas I, found Los Angeles Montenegrins nearly all royalists, and fifty of them attacked him and his little party. Seven arrests were made yesterday as a result.

IT IS a far cry to the turbulent little principality of Montenegro, in the Balkan Peninsula, but a full-grown political riot in this city night before last went to show that political affiliation and loyalty to one's prince may span even more than half the globe.

There were fifteen minutes of trouble galore. Half a hundred excited Montenegrins swarmed about the Slavonian Club, at Ord and New High streets, threatening battle, murder and sudden death to a compatriot of theirs, together with the half dozen of his supporters who are of opposite political faith. From threats they proceeded to blows, and only the timely intercession of the police averted the substitution of more deadly weapons for the fists so freely used.

Sims Sobaich, formerly a member of the Montenegrin Congress and high in the councils of that State, was the central, though inactive, figure in the disturbance. With a royal threat of execution hanging over him should he fall into the hands of Nicholas I, hereditary Prince of Montenegro, Sobaich has been a political fugitive since 1907. In that year he and forty-seven associates instituted, on behalf of the Liberal party, an investigation of certain financial operations in which the Prince was, sub rosa, reported to be replenishing the royal exchequer by plain graft.

The results were startling. The entire corps of investigators were ordered arrested and jailed. About forty of them were apprehended and thrown into Jusovacha, the great bastile of Montenegro. The leader, Sobaich, and a handful of others escaped. With prices on their heads they have since been exiles and refugees.

PREACHES REVOLUTION.

Three months ago, at the instance of the Young Montenegrins' Society, a Liberal organization, Sobaich came to this country to enlist the aid of his countrymen in an effort to overthrow the present administration, by peaceful means if possible and by a revolution if necessary. Bearing the tidings of "intolerable domestic tyranny and despotism," he has visited every State in the Union and practically every city of importance. Everywhere, he says, he has been received with the greatest respect, sympathy and support, for most of the Montenegrins of this country are of decided Liberal complexion.

It so happens, however, that nearly all the members of the Slavonian Club of Los Angeles are fervid adherents of the Royalist party, and that's where the trouble came in.

Sobaich reached this city Thursday afternoon, fresh from successful meetings in San Francisco. He was met at the Arcade Station by seven members of the Liberal faction, as a Committee of Welcome. In an auto, decorated with the flags of America and Servia, to which country the refugee claims allegiance, he was taken on a tour about the city. About 8 o'clock they proceeded to the Slavonian club- him, carried, apparently, by the underground chain of spies which the Liberals say are maintained all over the world at royal expense. When the auto drew up to the curb and Sobaich stepped out, he was immediately surrounded by a threatening mob of about fifty loyal Royalists.

THREATEN ALLEGED "TRAITOR."

At their head were Radovan and Pavle Vukotich, both of whom are near relatives of the bourgeoise Princess of Montenegro. Hardly had Sobaich touched the pavement when these spokesmen advanced, saying:

"We know you, Sobaich! Go, traitor, while you may! You will make no speech here tonight; if you try, we will kill you, by order of the Prince. There will be no meeting here tonight, unless it is held over our dead bodies. Whom the Prince of Montenegro orders us to kill, we will kill."

The threats alarmed the seven Liberals, and, fearing for the safety of their leader, they rushed to protect him. A free-for-all fight ensued, in which the Royalists, by virtue of their superior numbers, swept their opponents from the pavement, knocked them down in the gutters, pounding and pummeling them, and even, say the victims, threatening them with revolvers, with which most of the aggressors were armed.

A Liberal sympathizer, seeing the plight of his associates, hurried to telephone for the police. Officers of the Chinatown squad arrived on the double-quick and proceeded by strenuous measures to quell the disturbance. The ringleaders contrived to make their escape, and no arrests were made at the time.

Sobaich was escorted to the Slavonian Home, a Montenegrin rooming-house at No. 418 Ord street, where he passed the night with an armed guard outside his door. A belated telegram from San Francisco reached him during the night, warning him to leave Los Angeles instantly, lest he be killed by "rabid Royalists." This was signed by S. Radoicich, a leader of the Liberals in the northern city. Sobaich paid no attention to it, repeating his intention to give his message to the Montenegrins of Los Angeles, without fear of the consequences. His address is scheduled for this evening at the Slavonian Hall, No. 730 North Broadway.

WARRANTS FOR ROYALISTS.

Yesterday Sobaich and the seven Liberals appeared in the office of Deputy Dist.-Atty. Hammon and took out warrants for the arrest, on charges of threatening murder, of the two Vukotich cousins, Milosor Nicevich, Vaso Crinicanin, Savo Crinicanin, Stojan Buturovich and Yagos Vugovich, named the principals in the affair. The warrants were sworn to in Justice Summerfield's court by Joe Zarubica, one of the seven.

Armed with these, Deputy Constable Miklauschutz and plain-clothes-men Howell and Litchner went to the Herzegovina Social Club, No. 411 Ord street, where six of the men wanted were taken into custody. Arraigned in Justice Summerfield's court, they

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Councilman Gregory clashed with President Andrews again at yesterday's Council session over a corporation assessment.

Allen R. Fisher, the young man brought back from Detroit on a charge of embezzling a diamond ring, was arraigned yesterday in two departments of the Police Court, on as many charges.

Fred Horning was taken before Police Judge Chambers yesterday afternoon and formally charged with the murder of Capt. Auble.

Eight violators of the muzzling ordinance were fined in the Police Court yesterday, within hearing of the screams of a boy who had been bitten by a vicious dog and whose wounds were being cauterized in the Receiving Hospital, near by.

AT THE CITY HALL.

ANDREWS STIRS GREGORY AGAIN.

COUNCILMEN CLASH OVER ASSESSMENT OF CORPORATION.

"Uncle Jerry" and Assessor Accused of Incivility by Wrathful Member Who Is Rank Outsider to the "Solid Five"—President Sneers at Haskins.

What he termed "incivility" on the part of City Assessor Mallard and "Uncle Jerry" Andrews brought Councilman Gregory to his feet with a protest yesterday afternoon when the assessment of the Pacific Electric Railroad was being considered by the Council as a Board of Equalization.

"Even a corporation is entitled to civil treatment," he declared. His protest was as much against the "solid five," which follows the advice of the Assessor in all cases, as it was against the two individuals.

Samuel M. Haskins was representing the Pacific Electric, and had made the assertion under oath that "in the best year the road ever had it lost $175,000—not a book-keeping loss, but an actual loss of money."

"Uncle Jerry," who is president of everything now, sneered at this statement. "With 50 cents a round trip and cars jammed like sardine cans you can't convince this Council that the company isn't making money," he said. "Tell that to some other Council."

Haskins replied that he was making the statement under oath, and would produce proof if necessary.

Gregory demanded to know the assessment fixed last year.

"Oh, you can't consider that," said Assessor Mallard, "because conditions are entirely different——"

"I know I'm not expected to have anything to say here," said Gregory, "but, just the same, I want to know what the assessment last year was. And I repeat that even a corporation is entitled to civil treatment, and that a representative of one is not to be accused of perjury."

"Uncle Jerry" turned red, and Betkouski demanded who had made such an accusation.

"The president in effect," said Gregory.

Haskins, who had chafed under the words then said that he certainly did not relish the intimation of the president, and Assessor Mallard explained that he had meant no incivility and did not believe any had been offered.

The Pacific Electric is assessed at $9,567,525, and the reduction asked aggregates $2,601,170. Haskins cited the fact that the increase in franchise values alone in the old city, as disclosed by the Assessor's figures, was $2,009,000, which he submitted was incomprehensible, because the company had made no improvements. He also showed that the increase in the values of the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles Interurban companies had been $6,000,000, according to the Assessor's figures, which meant a cash increase of $[illegible]000,000, another preposterous thing.

It was also shown that the parallel tracks of the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles Interurban on the same right of way are assessed strangely, the former being at the rate of $102,000 a mile for franchise value and the latter $9200.

Mallard attempted to explain how he had reached his total, and started off with a statement that the stock of the company is $10,000,000. Haskins said it was half this amount. Mallard produced a tax statement from the auditor of the company giving the outstanding stock at $20,000,000. Haskins hurried to a telephone and reported that this was an error, as one-half the stock has never been sold.

Mallard restored peace and harmony by saying that if the company had made a mistake it should be entitled to a correction and the hearing, both on the Pacific Electric and the Interurban went over until Wednesday morning.

The assessment of the Los Angeles and Redondo, another Huntington corporation, was also continued until Wednesday. The road has no city franchise except for a short distance north of Slauson avenue, on Moneta avenue, but the Assessor put it on for $1,311,660, because it exercises a franchise and collects tolls. He also told the Council that he regarded its $5,000,000 of stock as valueless, but that a recent bond issue of $4,247,000 must be assumed to be worth par. City Attorney Hewitt suggested that the assessment be based on the Moneta-avenue franchise, which is a legal foothold, or on the "franchise to be," which may be another. Haskins said he didn't care which franchise the assessment rested on, as the company was opposing only the gross amount.

An effort to reduce the assessment of the Pacific Wharf and Storage Company's assessment from $77,000 to $60,000, on motion of Gregory, nearly brought a break in the "solid five," as O'Brien indicated that he would favor the reduction, but he supported Betkouski's motion to make it $70,000.

Boyle Heights Wants.

Boyle Heights has five wants that the Ninth Ward Improvement Association has transmitted to the Council. A new engine-house at First and St. Louis streets, a gasoline fire truck at Brooklyn avenue and State street, a police substation anywhere and a High School likewise, and a storm drain under Hollenbeck Park Lake, are the wants. The thing which the improvement association doesn't want is a new City Hall, preferring that an addition be built to the present dilapidated structure.

New Industrial District.

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce has asked the Council to create an industrial district bounded by Vermont, Reyes, Seventh, McFarland streets and the north city limits.

Track Paving Again.

Another conference on the trackington interests, and George J. Kuhrts, engineer of the Los Angeles Railway, tried to convince the board that the grouting of broken stone is impractical, as required by the ordinance, but the board insisted that it be tried before any modification is made. The company asked greater latitude than the ordinance gives, but did not make much impression. Dunn told the board the company could not make expensive demonstrations to prove its contentions and intimated that the officials of the road would chance a violation of the ordinance in order to test it.

She Was Particular.

Acting Mayor Lusk yesterday granted a permit to Sibyl M. Hitt to sing at a moving-picture theater. The permit was asked by the child's mother because she is under 16 years of age, and the penal code requires a permit from the Mayor of any city before a person under that age may appear on the stage. The girl is to begin her engagement Monday.

"When will she be 16?" his honor asked.

"Next Wednesday night at 9:45 o'clock," said the proud mother.

Lusk smiled and issued a permit good for two days.

STING IN WORDS ROUSES BLONDE.

CAUSES SCENE BEFORE THE LUNACY BOARD.

Mother's Action in Favoring Having Her Boy Committed to Patton Is Strongly Opposed by Woman Who Shows Interest in the Case—Young Tenor Afflicted.

A bitter fight was waged yesterday before Judge Bordwell and the Board of Lunacy Commissioners in regard to the effort to have Charles T. Hendrick committed to Patton.

The defendant's champion was Mrs. Fred Dorn, a striking blonde, who resisted every bit of evidence which might lead the magistrate and the commissioners to believe that a commitment should be issued. She was partially successful in that she had the final decision postponed until Monday.

The prosecuting witness was Mrs. Susan B. Hendrick, the mother. She is a kind-faced little woman, who declared that she only wished to do what she thought was best for her "boy," whom she loved as much as life itself.

Mrs. Hendrick remained composed during an hour of the hearing, but was finally stung by the bitterness of the remarks cast at her by Mrs. Dorn.

"You had better to go home and attend to your own affairs," she told the blonde. Mrs. Dorn partially arose, but the bailiff cautioned her to be silent.

The defendant is a fine tenor singer and for many years sang at the temperance meetings of Francis J. Murphy. He has been getting blind gradually for some time.

The evidence was to the effect that he had driven his mother out of her home in Long Beach several times when she differed with him as to the care he was taking of himself.

He has been a deep student of osteopathy nearly two years. He seemed to get the idea that the formation of skin and flesh covering his feet was too thick. He kept them in the sun until they were blistered and then subjected them to tight bandages. They became raw and his mother feared that he would lose the use of them. He endured tortures with them in order to exemplify the cure he had prescribed for himself.

Hendrick also has the thought that he can sing three octaves higher than any other musician in the world, and that he can play on any instrument in existence.

As he has little money, his mother thought it would be best to have him sent to Patton and that some extra care could be paid for. Mrs. Dorn, who is an acquaintance, insisted that he should be sent to a hospital. It was finally decided that he should be allowed to occupy a cot in the county institution until Monday. She strongly opposed the idea of having him kept in a public institution.

Hendrick is declared to be in no way dangerous except that he continually endangers his health by the cures he endeavors to work on himself.

ASKS FOR REVIEW.

BATH PROPRIETRESS SUES.

The members of the Police Commission will probably be cited to appear before Judge Bordwell in order that one of their decisions may be taken up on a writ of review.

Edith J. Thom filed an application for the court to take such action yesterday. She alleges that she was formerly the proprietress of a bath and massage parlor at No. 119½ South Spring street.

She says that she left the city in June and did not return until the 8th inst. She declares that she learned that the Police Commission, in her absence, had summoned before it the young woman she had left in charge of the place and revoked the license on account of the conduct of the establishment.

The petitioner asks that the action of the commission be reviewed, as she believes that it was not justified nor legal.

SUES FOR DEAD ONES.

DEFUNCT CHICKENS INVOLVED.

A case was tried almost entirely with depositions in Department Three yesterday. It was the action of R. G. and H. B. Sabin of Salinas, Kan., against E. L. Ryan & Co.

The two residents of the Sunflower State were employed to purchase chickens for the defendants, who were in business in this city. They loaded a car and an agent of the purchasers accepted them at the eastern terminal.

It was declared that too many fowls were crowded into the car. The mortality among them was great on the way. The man in charge began to throw out the dead ones as the train passed Santa Ana, and is said to have made a trail of dead chickens nearly to this city.

The Ryan Company refused to pay the Sabins the ½-cent commission, which had been agreed upon. The reason given was that sufficient care was not exercised in loading the fowls.

The Sabins brought suit for $450. The defendants set up a counter claim for $850, which was alleged to have been the loss on the dead ones. The plaintiffs' attorney declared yesterday that the company was seeking 18 cents a pound for birds which only cost 6 cents a pound in the East.

The judge took the case under advisement.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW NAME. May K. Ford desires for permission to do so. The petitioner says that she was in business under the latter name before she married Oscar C. Ford, and that the cognomen is an asset. She was divorced from Ford on June 2 of this year.

INSURANCE POLICY. Rachel A. McEwen yesterday filed suit against the Occidental Life Insurance Company to collect a $10,000 policy on the life of her husband, Charles R. McEwen. He took out the insurance on January 29 of this year and was killed on February 21.

RESTRICTION SUIT. The Southwest Land Company is seeking to forfeit the title of W. V. Morrow to a lot in Vermont Square because he is averred to have failed to live up to building restrictions. Morrow is alleged to have put up a $1400 house, when the restriction in the tract was $1800.

FEMININE BURGLARY CASE. Felicitas Garcia was placed on trial on a charge of burglary in Department Twelve, yesterday, with Judge Cole of Imperial sitting for Judge Davis, who is taking a vacation. The woman worked as a chambermaid in a rooming-house at No. 704 North Main street. It is alleged that she went into the room of Andreas Lopez, when he was absent, and took a suit case full of clothes.

JAP LIBEL SUIT. Yashitsuchi Higashi and his wife yesterday filed suit for $5000 for alleged libel against the proprietors of the Mainichi Shimbum, a Japanese publication in the city. It is alleged that some unkind things were said in the sheet about the conduct of Mrs. Higashi. Her name is mixed in a shooting scrape between two sons of Nippon that took place June 17.

SELL BUSTS OR BUST. Now that moving pictures of the "battle of the century" have been barred, ingenious capitalists have conceived a new way in which to get the ebony "hero" before the public. A company which has for its sole purpose the plan of manufacturing and selling Johnson's bust, yesterday filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is $5000, with $1000 subscribed. The directors are A. J. McDougal, W. H. Washington and W. H. Soole.

OFF CALENDAR. The suit of Jesse R. Reynolds against the Wilson & Williard Manufacturing Company, which was to have been tried yesterday before Judge Hervey, was taken off the calendar. Reynolds was employed by the manufacturing concern in its shops at Santa Fé avenue and Fifteenth street. He was walking along a beam, when a brace, on which he was resting, broke and allowed him to fall to the floor. He suffered general injuries and a broken arm. In his complaint he alleged that the company was responsible for the brace having been in a defective condition, and asked for $10,000 damages.

PROBATE. Mrs. Effie B. Armstrong yesterday offered for probate the will of her husband, Andrew W. Armstrong, who died on the 15th ult. He left an estate valued at $65,000. It consists of land in Riverside and Los Angeles counties, and of bonds. Hubert H. Bingham asked for letter of administration on the estate of his father, Herbert A. Bingham. Seven children will share in the estate, which is valued at $110,000.

ADOPTION. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Reinstadler were yesterday permitted to adopt Cecelia Josephine Jacobs, 10 months old. The child's father and mother were killed in an automobile accident on the Long Beach line last Thanksgiving evening.

GUILTY. Alfred P. Williams yesterday pleaded guilty before Judge Willis to a charge of having assaulted Frank Thomas with a deadly weapon on the 1st ult. He will be sentenced today.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Redwood Lumber Company, capital stock $100,000, subscribed $15, directors, James Souter, Johan H. Lindsey and E. M. Burnham; the Dixie Queen Mining & Milling Company, capital stock, $500,000, subscribed, $500, directors, J. F. Holbrook, Harry G. Peet and Benjamin F. Blinn; the Angelus Theater Company, capital stock $10,000, subscribed, $50, directors, Joseph Farina, N. Gochenauer and John P. Coyne.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

STRONG-ARM MEN IN LIMBO.

LABORITES, WHO BEAT FREE WORKERS, FACE TRIAL.

Docket Is Filling Up With Ruffians Who Lay in Wait, Amply Reinforced, and Assault Single Victims. Fisher Answers Charges in Two Courts—Horning Arraigned.

The dockets of the various departments of the Police Court are fast filling up with the cases furnished by the laborite leaders, who molest honest free workers.

The latest to bob up as a prisoner in the dock was B. C. Geyer, charged with disturbing the peace. He was released under a $100 cash bail to appear for jury trial August 25.

July 13 Geyer, with three others of his ilk, lay in wait at the corner of Temple and Spring streets for the appearance of W. S. Miller, of No. 1616 East Forty-eighth street, a pattern maker at the Fulton Engine Works, who changes cars at that point.

When Miller appeared, they boarded the same car and took seats immediately back of him. They rode with him all the way to his home, spouting union arguments at him all the time. When Miller alighted at Forty-eighth street, they left the car and followed him to his house. When he went in, they invaded the front yard, organizing a little intimidation meeting then and there for the benefit of Miller and his family.

Miller stood the nuisance for a time, after which he sallied forth with an old empty pistol and ordered the blackguards away. The sight of the weapon was enough, and the intimidators slunk off.

The following evening, Miller telephoned to Chief Galloway that he was again being followed. Plain-clothes Men Murphy and Weiss were sent to the corner of Temple and Spring streets to meet him. The officers saw the four ruffians lying in wait, and when Miller arrived, Geyer walked up to him truculently.

"Say, you got yer gun with you tonight?," he challenged.

"It's none of your business," retorted the free worker.

This just rebuke so angered Geyer, who had apparently been trying to provoke an assault, that he launched forth in a tirade of abuse, using the coarsest and filthiest language, although women and children were pas-a jury trial, and Police Judge Chambers fixed his hearing for August 12. The three men who were with Geyer at the time, had been served with injunctions, it appears, preventing them from interfering with non-union men before the passage of the anti-picketing ordinance, which accounts for their timidity at the time. Geyer, by some accident, had not been served with an injunction and felt free to insult honest workingmen as much as he pleased.

Roy Hicklin, the ruffian who knocked down and kicked old John Ritter Wednesday night, when the bottle sorter was on his way to buy a loaf of bread after his day's work at the Mathie Brewery, had precious little to say when he was arraigned before Police Judge Chambers after a night in jail. He muttered a plea of not guilty when charged with battery.

By an unaccountable oversight in the tactics of the laborite defense, Geiger did not ask for a jury trial, and his case was set for August 12, bail being fixed at $100, which was promptly furnished out of the union's trouble fund. His victim, who was taken to a private hospital Thursday, was reported last night to be still in a serious condition as a result of the brutal kicks Hicklin gave him in the sides and back, after knocking him down.

A. B. Maple, another union coward, who knocked down Louis Guittar and beat him into unconsciousness as Guittar was leaving his work at the Pacific Ornamental Iron Works ten days ago, was to be tried before Police Judge Frederickson yesterday. Fred Spring, who represents him, pleaded with the court that he was busy with a case in the Superior Court and could not attend, and the case was passed to Friday, July 29, when a jury will be impaneled.

Maple's assault on Guittar was a characteristic bit of laborite brutality and cowardice. After knocking down his man and cruelly beating him, without a chance at defense, Maple fled precipitately when he saw President A. J. Bayer of the iron works approaching. He jumped on a street car with the confederate who had been helping him and the two rode downtown together. Bayer, however, followed the car on a bicycle, and kept the men in sight until Patrolman Fisher, notified over the telephone by Secretary J. H. Baker of the iron works, arrived. The officer and Baker came upon the two men as they were boasting of their exploit in a saloon near the Labor Temple. Maple took to his heels and sought a refuge in a rooming-house at No. 526 South Maple avenue. He was pursued and caught a little later as he was trying to hide in a doorway.

Ben Emend, the union tool who was induced by his bosses to continue picketing, hiding under the pretense of circulating a referendum ordinance, was arraigned before Police Judge Chambers. The usual dilatory tactics of the union defense were again shown in his case, when Attorney Spring sought to have it continued to August 26. Deputy City Prosecutor Sidney Reeve, who is in charge of the strike cases, interposed such a strenuous objection to the delay that the court fixed the date for August 11, and Emend was released under a $20 cash bail. He will be tried by the court.

IS ON THE JUMP.

FISHER IN TWO COURTS.

Allen R. Fisher, who fought so hard before he was brought back from Detroit under a charge of embezzling diamonds from Peter Flaherty, seesawed between two departments of the Police Court yesterday.

Fisher was first taken before Police Judge Chambers on a charge of embezzling from Alexander Lippert, manager of the Diamond Credit Company, two diamonds valued at $250, which he obtained on the plea that he had ready customers for the stones. These diamonds were recovered from Fisher at Detroit. He pleaded not guilty, and his preliminary hearing was set for August 23.

As soon as he was through with Police Judge Chambers, Fisher was taken before Police Judge Frederickson for arraignment on the charge of stealing a diamond ring from Peter Flaherty. This is the ring Fisher says he and Flaherty tried to raffle and which was finally given him by Flaherty. The hearing on this charge was set for August 17.

IS FORMALLY CHARGED.

MUST ANSWER FOR MURDER.

Fred Horning was formally charged yesterday afternoon with the murder of Police Captain Auble. The young man was arraigned before Police Judge Chambers, and, not being represented by an attorney, coolly began to look out for his case. He explained to the court that, when he surrendered to the police in San Francisco, after being released from the penitentiary on habeas corpus proceedings, certain San Francisco friends had promised to arrange to provide a lawyer for him. He said he had not yet heard from these friends and was therefore not ready for arraignment.

The court said he needed no lawyer at that time, and continued the case until next Monday.

HEARS BOY SCREAM.

OBJECT LESSON APPEALS NOT.

While 13-year-old Edward Giambiastiano of No. 1939 Staunton avenue was screaming with pain in the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning, as the surgeons were cauterizing an ugly dog bite in his arm, eight men and women were in Police Judge Chambers's Court, in plain hearing of the lad's cries, trying to find excuses for not having their dogs muzzled, as required by the ordinance. The defendants, all of whom were fined $2 each, were: E. S. Graham, Mrs. A. Roberts, Charles Orth, L. E. Rogers, Mrs. J. M. Peck, Mrs. C. A. Capatine, S. Lucas and F. M. Cox.

BOY GOES WRONG.

GOOD SOLICITOR; KEEPS CASH.

Frank Stanton, aged about 19, made such a success of soliciting subscriptions for the Pictorial Review that Police Judge Chambers yesterday concluded to give him a rest in the City Jail for fifty days. He pleaded guilty to misdemeanor embezzlement.

Since the first of the year Stanton has been soliciting subscriptions and at the same time taking orders for patterns for the Ville de Paris, although he had no connection with the store. He victimized a large number of women who gave him orders and paid cash, never to hear from him again. Stanton told the court he started out with good intentions and a good system, "but the good system went wrong."

Boy's Plight Amuses.

Alton Vail, the young man charged with stealing a motorcycle, was given a preliminary hearing before Police Judge Chambers yesterday afternoon and held for the Superior Court in default of $1500 bail. His mother sat beside him in the dock during the hearing, which was not closed until 5:30 o'clock. She seemed to consider the proceedings entertaining, and several times smiled broadly.

misdemeanor embezzlement, pleaded guilty yesterday when arraigned before Police Judge Chambers. He will be sentenced today. He borrowed a revolver, the property of the government, from an officer of the signal corps, and sold it in a pawnshop for $5.

Pays for His Fun.

R. A. Brannard appeared in Police Court yesterday, a solitary reminder of the auto speed craze. He was fined $25, which he paid.

AMERICAN MINING CONGRESS.

Secretary James F. Callbreath, Jr., Is Here to Consult With the Local Committee.

James F. Callbreath, Jr., secretary of the American Mining Congress, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to spend a few days in consultation with the local committee. Mr. Callbreath has been identified with the Mining Congress for a number of years, and has worked unceasingly to bring about the establishment of a Bureau of Mines under the auspices of the Federal government.

When seen at the Alexandria yesterday afternoon, Mr. Callbreath said: "I will remain in Los Angeles for several days to assist the local committee in whatever way I can in framing up their programme for the next meeting of the congress. I believe the Los Angeles meeting will be more largely attended than any previous meeting, and it will be made up of earnest men interested in the mining industry who believe in action. People generally now realize that the Mining Congress has accomplished something, since the industry has been recognized by the government, and the meetings mean more now than ever before.

"The most important matter to come before the congress will be the character of laws that the mining men of the West desire, and particularly what they do not want. Gifford Pinchot and other prominent men will be in attendance, and I look for a very important and interesting session of the body."

USING MAILS TO DEFRAUD.

Pasadena Boy Charged With Working "Sick Son" Racket in Maryland, Will Plead Guilty.

James J. Wiley, a resident of Pasadena, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Charles N. Williams yesterday on a charge of having used the mails for fraudulent purposes, and was held in default of $1500 bail for trial at San Francisco on August 2. The complaining witness is [illegible] L. Holsinger, who had been working near Sacramento with Wiley last spring, and who now asserts that Wiley wrote letters to Holsinger's father at Ridgely, Md., using the name "Dr. B. L. Witby," and secured first $75 and then $90 on the plea that young Holsinger was sick and wished to be taken to his eastern home. Finally the writer of the letters asked for $135 more, which aroused the suspicion of Paul Holsinger, the father, and he appealed to the Postoffice Department. D. L. Holsinger denied all knowledge of the letters written to his father and located Wiley as the writer. Wiley stated, when in the hands of the officers yesterday, that he would plead guilty to the charge.

and he asked for an especial blessing upon the candidates for the State Supreme Court.

Benjamin Friend, a leading politician of Union county, Iowa, and formerly private secretary to ex-Congressman Hepburn, declares that insurgency in his State is on the wane. He is making a visit in this city and after several weeks' investigation says that the local brand of "outlanders" is very similar to the traitors in his part of the country.

"I have heard that most of our so-called progressives are actuated by selfish motives," said Friend. "In a small community one becomes better acquainted with the candidates and leaders of a party or faction than in a large city. Our insurgents are mainly men who were disappointed at being unable to get something from the State or national leaders. Failing to land a certain office, the man joins the insurgents.

"There is no party or religion that can have a monopoly of saints, but I know that the regular Republicans in my section of Iowa are away the best men in the community. There is a reaction against the insurgents and from now on I am positive that they will constantly lose ground, provided we see to it that we place the very best possible men up for office."

I see that the Goo-Goos are in need of more money. They have so many officers at large salaries and need so much money for junketing trips about the State that a call for subscriptions has been made.

The Link-Roosters have the most energetic list of executive committeemen I ever saw. There's one reason. Out of thirty-odd co-workers, there is a dozen candidates for office. No wonder they are eager for insurgent success. No wonder they urge large contributions and zealous support. If I were running for office, I certainly would sting all my friends for a silver dollar. If they didn't come through I would certainly remember them if I got elected.

The rapid rise of W. S. Baird has surprised me. I have known him for several years as a clever, wideawake clerk of court. The newspaper men always liked Baird because he could tell them about a case in ten words. He is well educated in legal lines and has a calm judicial mind. I look to see him elected as justice in the court recently presided over by the late Justice Ling.

Baird was granted a degree as M.D. by the University of Glasgow. One day as I was making my rounds of the courts, I saw a woman lying prone in the hallway leading to Ling's office. I rushed in for aid and Dr. Baird came to the rescue. He seemed to know just what to do and in half an hour the lady was able to go to her home. I venture to say that she will prove a good campaigner for Baird in her own district, though she will not be able to cast a vote.

The opposition of W. H. Bemiss, "Pinhead" McCarthy's candidate for clerk of the Supreme Court, does not seem to be injuring the cause of Mr. Caughey, the incumbent, to any appreciable extent. I don't know of an elective position outside the judgeships that require any more technical knowledge than that of clerk of the highest tribunal in the State. Bemiss has been a janitor in a San Francisco schoolhouse. I don't suppose he knows a transcript from a gas pipe, but on the strength of the laborite vote he expects to land the clerkship.

E. A. Meserve is receiving assurances of support from hundreds of men who were formerly in the doubtful class. They have known "Ed" so long that they cannot stay in the background and let a socialist crank get the Senatorial nomination by default. Meserve is getting promises of aid from all over the State. W. J. Barrett, ex-president of the Traveling Men's Association and a prominent business man of San Francisco, wrote to Meserve as follows:

"There is no better man in the State to succeed Flint. Success should attend your campaign. The south will be solid for you and we of the north believe that Southern California should supply the new Senator."

Meserve is getting hundreds of letters from various parts of the State assuring him of their support. The Flint men here are now getting behind Meserve and I am looking to see him make a whirlwind campaign during the coming three weeks.

THE WATCHMAN.

FIGUEROA GUILTY.

an early adjournment in order to produce some missing witnesses. But they produced none.

When the court was called to order, they had a conference and Mr. Seymour announced: "The defense will rest, Your Honor."

By some oversight there had been a delay in bringing the prisoner in over the "Bridge of Sighs."

Mr. Morrison, one of his attorneys, finally looked up in dismay. "Where is the defendant? He isn't here."

The door in the back of the courtroom then swung open and the dapper figure of Figueroa, with a band of mourning crepe on one arm, came slipping in with a dainty feline Mexican walk.

He looked very pale and self-conscious before the courtroom crowd. As soon as he had taken his seat at the table, Deputy District Attorney Keetch rose to address the jury.

As the assistant of Capt. Fredericks Mr. Keetch has worked up and collected the evidence. His argument was in the nature of a careful and convincing review of that evidence. He told about the elopement of a romantic little girl and of her Santa Ana marriage to Figueroa.

HORRIBLE CRUELTY.

"The ink," he said, "was hardly dry on their marriage license before this boy began to abuse her."

"On the night she was shot, a vile proposition was made by Figueroa against which her very soul revolted."

Mr. Morrison, sitting by Figureroa's side, jumped to his feet. "We object," he said, "to the statement made by counsel."

"I am supported by the evidence, sir," retorted Mr. Keetch sharply.

"Counsel has a right to draw that inference from the evidence," said Capt. Fredericks.

"I don't have to draw inferences," said Mr. Keetch, "I have the man's own statement. He told the Chief of Police of Santa Monica that he had arranged to have this man Surber sleep in the same bed with himself and his wife.

HER HONEYMOON.

"That poor girl was forced by this man's blows—she was driven like a dog down that path and into the summer house, where Surber was waiting in their bed, stripped to his underclothes.

"Gentlemen, in many years' experience as a newspaper man and attorney, I have never seen such a monster of degradation as the man who sits there, asking your mercy."

As Keetch sat down, Figueroa's shoulder rose and sank with a breath as of a sigh. This was his only sign of emotion. The boy either has a soul as dull as a rhinoceros hide or nerves like iron.

A moment later, the extraordinary jury incident, the like of which has never been seen in a California court, took place.

UNUSUAL INCIDENT.

Fred Morrison, Esq., was delivering the opening argument for the defense. He alluded with ridicule to the testimony of Oliver Bateman, the only witness who saw Figueroa with the revolver.

"He says that Figueroa had his big revolver in his hip pocket, and yet he swore that only three-fourths of an inch of it showed."

Mr. Morrison thrust the gun in his own pocket. It stuck out about four inches instead of three-fourths of an inch.

Juror C. O. Nelson, an old gentleman, sitting on the front row, suddenly sat up and came eagerly to the rescue of the prosecution.

"Turn it around the other way in your pocket and it won't show more than three-fourths of an inch," he said.

"All right," said Morrison, and he changed the position of the gun. It still stuck out, dumbly contradicting Bateman's story.

Juror Herman Friske, another elderly man, sitting in the back row, spoke up scornfully. "Oh, well," he said, "that don't matter. There's different sized pockets."

Every attorney in the courtroom looked astonished at this frank avowal of prejudice from two jurors. Mr. Morrison looked confused and turned to another phase of the argument. He spoke convincingly and well, but he could rouse no sympathy for the defendant.

FOREGONE CONCLUSION.

A good half of the jurors sat with averted faces and expressions of stolid obstinacy. Even Figueroa seemed to realize the situation and his face blanched a little.

Mr. Morrison made a great point of the facts that no one actually saw the shot fired and that it had not been proved that Surber had left the summer house when the girl was killed.

He recalled that after the shooting, Figueroa asked his aunt, Mrs. Sammann: "Are you going to have me pinched, Aunty?" and Mrs. Sammann replied, "Yes, and somebody else is going to be pinched."

Mr. Morrison demanded to know who was this "somebody else" if Surber was not present at the shooting.

The attorney showed that Figueroa had persistently and consistently denied his guilt and warned them not to hang a man on circumstantial evidence.

SENSATIONAL ALGEBRA.

Young Mr. Seymour closed the case for the defense. He was both algebraical and sensational. He did a problem on a blackboard to prove that Mrs. Figueroa killed herself; and threw a woman witness into hysterics.

Mr. Seymour, before he plunged into algebra, assailed the testimony of Figueroa's aunt, Mrs. Sammann, who, he said, was a wicked liar and was not even present at the shooting.

That lady listened to him with a sort of horror. When court adjourned at noon, in the middle of Mr. Seymour's argument, she rushed wildly for the witness room, where she burst into hysterics.

"That angel knows I told only the truth," she cried, her face streaming with tears. "That poor child who is now an angel and sees all, knows that I told the truth."

It was an hour before they were able to calm her.

SENSATIONAL ORATORY.

Mr. Seymour's start was torrentious and exciting.

"On one side," he said, "this is an attempt on our part to get at the simple truth. On the other, it is an attempt on the part of this prosecution to hang this boy.

Mr. Seymour asserted the circumstances showed that Figueroa was holding onto a doorknob when the shot was fired and would have had to hold the gun in his left hand behind his back when he killed the girl. He told the jury to disregard the testimony of Mrs. Sammann. Spanish people, he said, are imaginative and prone to exaggeration.

Mr. Seymour said that the finger of guilt pointed at Surber. He said, even if Surber wasn't in the room he might have fired the shot through the window.. He said Surber was a "dirty scum."

PROVING SUICIDE.

Seymour finally brought out a blackboard and did a problem in algebra to show that the lady must have killed herself.

One of the jurors was a café waiter; the rest were not "high-brows." They looked on, terrified and fascinated, while Mr. Seymour showed how XY equaled XZ and thus proved suicide.

"Gentlemen," he cried, bringing his appeal to an eloquent close, "do you intend to hang this man until he is dead? If so, is he to be hanged for the crime of John Surber, or does he die for the act of this poor, weak-minded wife of his?"

SOUL OF A TIGER.

Capt. Fredericks made the closing argument in the case. He lashed Figueroa with sarcasm and invective until the boy's heavy voluptous lips parted like those of a dog and his eyes narrowed down to wicked slits.

"There is a belief," said the District Attorney, "that the souls of animals sometimes pass into bodies of men. I am led to believe that this boy has the striped, cruel soul of a tiger. He is a human tiger. He is worse than a tiger for a tiger does not debauch his mate.

"It is hardly worth while arguing as to whether or not he is guilty. It is solely a question as to whether he deserves your clemency.

"Hanging is a punishment reserved for extreme cases; for men who are a menace of society. For human tigers. I ask you to show this man just as much mercy as he showed that poor girl of nineteen. When she lay there, appealing to him for mercy, he shot her like a dog.

"He drove her by blows and kicks to the summer house where his friend lay in bed waiting for her. 'Get into bed you —— —— ——,' he said to her. That's the man who is asking for mercy.

"When his aunt hobbled out on her crutches and pleaded for the girl, this demon replied, 'I'll mash her face in.' He showed the blind, meaningless ferocity of a wild animal."

ONE MORE LIAR.

The defense having taunted him with not having produced the man Surber as a witness, Capt. Fredericks said frankly that Surber was such a liar that he wouldn't waste the time of the jury asking him what happened.

The District Attorney, from his knowledge of fire-arms, showed how it would have been practically impossible for the girl to have committed suicide without having had an extension built onto her arm.

"I am not cruel," said Capt. Fredericks, "I am not asking you to be cruel. I am asking you to be merciful to girls that yet live. I ask you to bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree without any recommendations of mercy."

GROUND UNDER A CAR.

Mechanic Pushes Wheelbarrow in Front of Fast Motor, Miscalculating Its Speed.

John Ora Coburn, a brother-in-law of Milk Inspector G. W. Hood and a mechanic in the employ of the University planing mill, was ground beneath the wheels of a gasoline motor car on the Southern Pacific tracks, at Elftman station, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning, sustaining injuries from which he died an hour later at the Sisters' Hospital.

Coburn, who was visiting his father-in-law, M. Matherson, the proprietor of a general store at Eftman, was wheeling beef across the track when the car hit him. Eye witnesses say that he evidently heard the whistle of the approaching car for he quickened his steps, but before he realized his danger, the car was upon him.

Engineer Meade, in charge of the motor car, brought it to a stop and lifted the battered dying victim from the track, placed him aboard the motor and made all speed for this city. Immediately upon arriving here, he had Coburn taken to the Sisters' Hospital, where it was found that his condition was hopeless. Both legs were broken and one arm mangled.

It fell to Hood, who was notified at once, to inform Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Coburn, the aged father and mother, of their bereavement. The latter was prostrated and is now under a physician's care. The former, a Civil War veteran, is undergoing medical treatment at the Soldiers' Home.

Coburn was 30 years old and a native of Beverley, O. His parents brought him here when he was 7 years old, from then on he made his home in this city. He was a planing mill man by trade and, at different times, has been employed in most of the principal planing mills of this city. He leaves a widow but no children. The inquest will be held Monday morning.

A WORD TO ARIZONA PEOPLE.

Congress, when it passed the enabling act clearing a path for Arizona and New Mexico to become sovereign States in the American Union, put some bars up at the end of the road to be removed by joint action of Congress and the President.

The example of the last State admitted, Oklahoma, inspired this action. While public opinion remains as it is at this time in America no more commonwealths will come into the Union with organic laws like that of the last one. President Roosevelt said at the time that he was stretching his conscience and judgment to the limit to admit Oklahoma, and he told the Oklahoma people that they had put everything into their Constitution excepting restrictions as to paring corns and cutting hair.

The Times correspondence from Arizona indicates a determination on the part of some citizens of that Territory to frame a constitution very much like that of Oklahoma. That would be all right if there were a majority of the people of the Territory of that way of thinking. We do not believe there is, and we certainly hope that our judgment is right. We want Arizona erected into a State as soon as possible. We have in mind the action of Congress in passing the enabling act and the warning conveyed therein.

If the people of Arizona wish to be admitted to Statehood they will see that the newly-organized party does not carry the constitutional convention, control it and make a constitution after their own minds. If an organic law stuffed full of socialism, of special privileges to any one class and of hard burdens laid upon the shoulders of all other classes, be sent from Arizona to Washington, Congress will not admit to Statehood the Territory coming up with such a freak constitution, unless the next Congress is very different from the present one, a contingency not to be expected. And even if it should be so there would be the President to deal with, who would certainly veto any bill admitting to Statehood a Territory with a constitution modeled after that of Oklahoma.

THE BATTER AND THE BATTERY.

The American national sport is undoubtedly baseball, the swiftest, snappiest, best team-working game ever played by men of any race at any time. That is why it is so popular with the strenuous, nervous, high-strung people of America.

At any of the baseball games these days you hear the "fans" who are grizzled and gray with age and sunburned with exposure on the "bleachers" tell the younger ones that the players of today are not the men of a generation ago. They will name the kings of the baseball field when they were youths, who used to "steal bases" so slyly and successfully. Then the "sporting editor" of the daily paper smiles benignly and whispers to the fellow on the other side of him the reason why the better player of today steals fewer bases than those of thirty years ago. The pitching is swifter, truer and more puzzling. We know what the professors of physics in the colleges said in the days when the old "bleachers" had more and darker hair on their polls than today. With absolute confidence they declared that curving a baseball in the air was an utter impossibility, as much so as perpetual motion or a man lifting himself by the straps on his boots.

The pitcher of today not only curves the ball in the air any way he pleases, but he sends it in with a good deal more "powder" behind it, while the fellow in the mask behind the batter is a good deal keener of eye and quicker of movement than the "has been." Then, if by chance the batter does get a "swat" at the sphere it is extremely difficult to get it out of the field. Wherever it goes there is some one to stop it, and it is sent into the right base with a speed that belongs only to our day.

This contest between the batter, the pitcher and the field is not new to baseball. It is an old, old story. The ability to hit the ball or to deceive the batter has varied in the English game of cricket for 200 years. From time to time many changes have had to be made in this game to adjust relations between the bowler and the batter, so as to prevent the man at the bat from staying in a week or the man with the ball from putting him out with the first pitch. To adjust the equation between the two the wickets have been lengthened and lowered from time to time, and the bat has been made broader or narrower, according as the batting became expert or the bowling too effective.

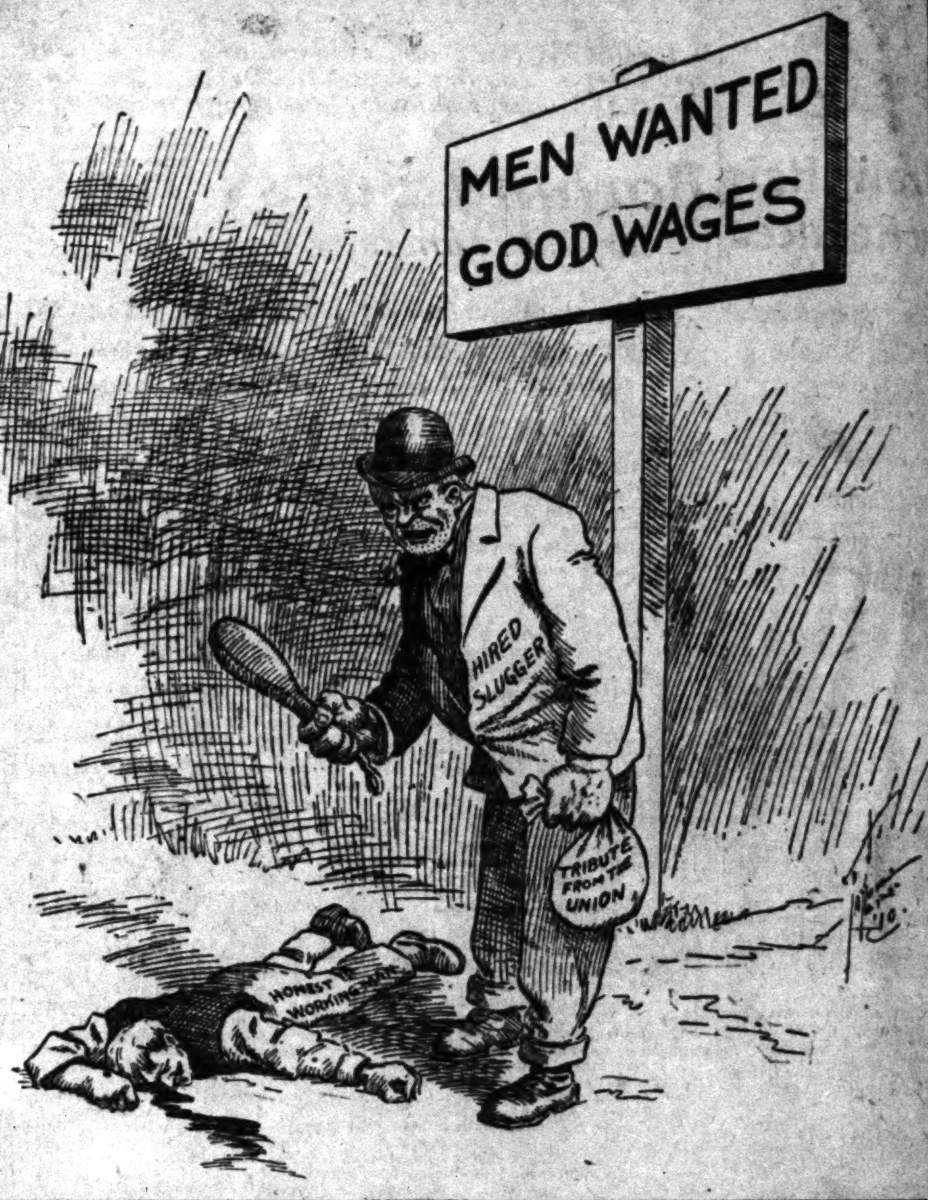
The baseball player must not laugh too loudly at the cricketer with his big, broad bat. He must remember the cricket ball takes the ground before it reaches the batter, and it is a good deal easier to give it a curve as it comes up from the ground than it is to give it a curve in the air. There is a great deal of science indeed in playing cricket where the bowler uses "overhand" delivery, puts speed into the ball and a vicious twist as it comes up from the ground. To hit it at all, and particularly to hit it safely away and not be caught, and to hit it far enough to make a run, is not an easy matter. Yet the scientific batter is almost invincible before the most skillful bowler. The bowler in cricket, like the pitcher in baseball, who uses only his muscle and does not "mix brains with his delivery" is not much good.

At present it looks as if there were need of some changes in the rules governing baseball. As in the English game of cricket, the pitcher seems to have got the best of the bat. It is next to impossible to hit a ball delivered by a "crack" pitcher. In cricket there are only two innings to a game, but each one of the eleven players has an opportunity at the batting. In baseball there are nine innings to each side in a game, and professionals, amateurs and "fans" are all disgusted if a game does not make a record of 1 to 0. One to two is an indifferent sort of a game, and when it goes above two runs on both sides it becomes worse and worse, until a game of 4 to 5 is pronounced by all to be "rotten." Many games in our time are played wherein there is not a single run scored in eighteen innings, nine on each side. This indicates that the "battery" has much the better of the bat, and it looks as if the policy prevailing in English cricket may come in by some change in the rules giving the batter a little better chance to make a run.

There is a good deal of difference between the English game and the American. There are not many good baseball players over 30 years old, and very, very few over 35. There are exceedingly good batters in cricket at twice that age, and in any position a well-preserved man can play cricket up to the half-century and above it. This barring of all but absolute youth from baseball in this country has made the Scotch game of golf popular with the middle-aged and aged. The world's friend, John D. Rockefeller, who affords the paragraphers more jokes than any other man alive, is a pretty good golf player now, in his seventy-second year.

The value of outdoor games, particularly those with a little risk of danger, has been great in the development of the human body and the human mind. Wellington said the Battle of Waterloo was won on the cricket fields of England. It is not simply the exercise in the open air which puts red corpuscles in the blood and makes the human frame stronger and healthier, but it is the courage, the power to face danger and endure pain if necessary, and above all the mental discipline, which good outdoor sports call for, that count so much in the development of the race. It is an exceedingly good mental and moral discipline for a young man to do team work with a baseball nine, a cricket eleven

THE "DOG IN THE MANGER."



CAN'T HAVE OUR GIRLS.

The State of Maine maintains a bureau of industrial and labor statistics, and the bureau maintains a commissioner, and the commissioner maintains that the State of Maine needs for her maintenance "10,000 girls to help around the house." These girls must be honest and willing to work, and there is a home waiting for every one of those who can fill the bill.

This want in Maine is "long felt." For years Maine has been in need of as many as 10,000 girls, for whom homes stand ready with wide-open doors. The Pine Tree State wants these girls for housework. It seems the factories and shops attract those to the manner born in that State and that house servants are scarcer than "hens' teeth." The commissioner of the bureau holds out an offer of from $3 to $6 a week "and all reasonable privileges." We suppose this last clause means three holidays a week besides Sunday, two afternoons out and one morning for shopping, with the right to receive any Maine young man who is pining for female companionship.

Well, it is the opposite of sending coals to Newcastle to send a circular of this kind to California. In the first place, there are no girls in California who will work for $3 a week or even $6 a week. In the next place, California has no girls to spare for any purpose. On the contrary, we have no end of handsome Maine girls here whom all the glories of Maine woods, streams and lakes and all the fishing, hunting and other delights, including those of the seaside resorts, could not entice back from California to Maine. As for the California girls, the people of Maine can whistle their wind out, but none of these will "come to you, my lad."

THE YEAR-ROUND PLAYGROUND.

When the Los Angeles Board of Trade was organized here some twenty-seven years ago its main functions were largely those now performed by the Chamber of Commerce. In its earlier years the institution was a great boomer of Los Angeles. These duties have since been taken over by the Chamber, a separate organization, and the Board of Trade has confined its efforts more to settling the affairs of creditors and debtors in the business world.

Nearly thirty years ago the Los Angeles boomers had but one idea. It was very generally expressed in the phrase "winter sunbeams." We held out inducements to the people of the Northern States where winters were hard to come in and spend the winter months in a climate free from the snowstorms and heavy frosts.

We have spread abroad as wide as the world is the story of Southern California and its winter sunbeams. But the exclusive use of winter sunbeams to catch tourists from the Northern States soon broadened out to include the summer sea breezes to lure them from the oppressively heated Gulf States and the torrid districts of the desert and inter-mountain region.

In those old days we used to think it was a great achievement if the railroads reported a thousand tourists a month coming into Southern California; but year by year the stream broadened. Each person who spent a few weeks in Southern California went home and told what he saw and enjoyed. Then the tourists developed rapidly into permanent settlers, and these kept writing letters home to their friends until the idea of Southern California as a tourist region became broadly known all over the United States.

Then came the current of summer tourists, first small like the winter stream, then swelling to a flood, until at the present time those in a position to know tell us there are at this moment 50,000 strangers in and about the city who have been attracted here by the perfection of our summer climate. The winter stream has grown in brisk times to as many as 100,000 in a year, so that the thousand a month of twenty-five years ago is now a matter of 150,000 a year, or more than 12,000 a month, averaging the year through.

And the great point of all this is that the tourist who comes here once is sure to come back. He comes for several winters or several summers, and then he becomes converted into a permanent resident. When we were attracting a thousand tourists a month during the winter here we were a little city of about 15,000, and Los Angeles county numbered perhaps 25,000, and all Southern California probably not over 40,000. Now the city of Los Angeles numbers 330,000, the county over half a million and Southern California probably much over three-quarters of a million, crowding rapidly up to the million mark.

Anybody who was ever a boy in the East north you roll a snowball the larger it becomes and the more snow it takes up at each revolution. So it is with these winter sunbeam chasers and summer sea-breeze seekers. The ball was small twenty-five years ago. It is a huge affair now, and every revolution or year we run through rolls up an enormous accretion.

These remarks are far from new, and possibly some of our readers may think they are very trite. But these are the facts on which the prospect of this city and of Southern California rests with such stability. Let no man forget or deceive himself or others. This little strip of country known as Southern California is destined to become the most densely populated bit of territory in all America, one of the most densely populated in the civilized world. We shall have a population here so great that it will tax the fertility of our soil to yield food for the permanent population. We shall have a "home market" for everything we can produce, and then the producer will get the highest price for his products of any producer in the country, and that means productive real estate in Southern California is to be the most valuable and to bring the highest prices of any in the country.

THE LOS ANGELES IDEA.

We are delighted to see that the city of Seattle is to have a municipal ordinance based upon the one passed by the Los Angeles City Council the other day making picketing in times of strike a misdemeanor.

We commend our new ordinance and the example being set by Seattle to the city of Portland on the Willamette. The strikers have broken loose in the Webfoot city in an attempt to create a reign of lawlessness, bloodshed and the destruction of property. Look at San Francisco in the days of Casey's strike of the teamsters and of the later strike of the street car men. Any city that wants to be safe from such horrible experiences as San Francisco went through in those bloody days would better follow the example of Los Angeles.

It seems we have an opportunity of setting a still better example to Seattle and Portland and all other municipalities out for suggestions as to how to deal with labor-union riots. The beating of the bottle-washer during the past week, an old, comparatively helpless, entirely inoffensive man, by a lusty and brutal young scoundrel, suggests that we have scarcely done our full duty yet. It is difficult for the peace officers to be everywhere all the time, and these ruffians are as cunning as they are brutal. It is difficult to deal with them. Perhaps the best way will be for every peaceable wage-earner in the city who may be in danger of brutal attack to strap a holster around his loins and put a self-acting bulldog in there capable of barking at a moment's notice and every bark accompanied by a bite. And it might just as well be understood now as later on that some way will be devised to deal with these bloody criminals in Los Angeles, where lawlessness will not be allowed to become virulent or to continue even in a mild form long.

Pastor's Bad Example.

The intemperate citizen had promised the clergyman that he would that night take just another drink and come to service on the morrow.

On Monday the clergyman chided the citizen for not having kept his word. "You promised me you'd take just another drink; see how many you've had since."

"Yes," retorted the man, astutely; "Yesterday morning you said, 'Now, just another word,' and see how many more you gave us after that."—[The Widow.

SAW ALBANIA FROM SADDLE.

Turks, Who Traveled Much in Turkey.

Remarkable Combination at Temple Auditorium.

Dr. Walker Will Tell Views of "Going Round."

Rev. Dr. Morris H. Turk of Natick, Mass., whose very name may have inspired him to make a horseback tour through Albania, in Western Turkey, accompanied by his wife, will deliver a lecture in the First Congregational Church on Sunday evening, entitled "Albania, the Land of the Eagle-People." It will be illustrated with 100 beautiful views from the original negatives made by Dr. Turk. During this trip, Mrs. Turk traveled through portions of the country never before entered by an English-speaking woman. They had for their guide and interpreter the husband of Mme. Tsilka, who was captured with Miss Ellen Stone several years ago and held for ransom by brigands. Dr. and Mrs. Turk will spend several weeks in Los Angeles, guests at the home of the doctor's father, Rev. F. S. Turk, who has retired from the ministry and resides on South Grand avenue.

Desiring to see the country just as the natives know it, Dr. and Mrs. Turk traveled without camp equipment or food supplies, and necessarily encountered many hardships, both as to unpalatable food and sleeping arrangements. Beds, as we understand them, are unknown, and the travelers were compelled to sleep on hard board bunks, in all their clothing, with not so much as straw to soften the place they lay.

While their guide was the husband of the woman held by brigands for ransome a few years ago, one of the guards furnished them by the Albanians was one of the brigands who had held Mme. Tsilka a prisoner, but he is now a reformed brigand and a soldier of the realm.

NOTED PREACHER.

AND A REFORMED GAMBLER.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Geistweit of Peoria, Ill., a noted Baptist preacher, assembly lecturer and writer, who is delivering daily addresses at the Long Beach Assembly, will preach in Temple Auditorium Sunday morning and evening, in the pulpit of Dr. Brougher, who is off on his vacation. In the morning his topic will be "Is It Life or Creed?" In the evening, "What Is Religion?"

A second service will be held in the Auditorium Sunday night at 9 o'clock, following the sermon by Dr. Geistweit. arry Brolaski, ex-gambler and bookmaker, now a resident of this city, will uncover many of the tricks of the gambler for the edification of the audience. Brolaski first came into notice as a reformer at the time an effort was made to establish horseracing at Tia Juana, following the passage of the anti-gambling law in California. Brolaski was called to Washington by r. Wilbur F. Crafts, who is now on a visit to this city, to testify before the Congressional committee, and had no small part in inducing the Secretary of State to take the matter up with the Mexican government, which resulted in the withdrawal of the concession, as it was manifestly an effort to nullify the California law. At this same after-meeting, Dr. Crafts will deliver a short address on "Gambling; Bad Manners as Well as Bad Morals."

Dr. Brougher left early in the week, to be gone on a six-weeks' vacation. He will speak at the Twin Lakes assembly, spend a few days in the Yosemite, and the balance of the time with his family in Oregon.

WORLD IMPRESSIONS.

DR. WALKER WILL GIVE THEM.

There is a strong demand upon Dr. ugh K. Walker, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, for talks on his trip around the world, from which he returned ten days ago. He has determined to deliver a series of sermons, beginning early in the fall, covering the most important features of his journey, and in the meantime he is giving some of the impressions he gathered, in regard to matters of world-interest in the Far East. Sunday night he will describe some national characteristics, and their bearing upon the much-mooted subject of "Comparative Religions." Sunday morning he will talk about "The Fashioning of Swords Into Plowshares."

Dr. W. H. Geistweit, noted preacher and writer, who will preach in Temple Auditorium tomorrow.

RELIGIOUS BRIEFS.

LADY TO SPEAK ON TRAVELS.

Mrs. W. J. Chichester, who has just returned from a trip around the world, will address the Sunday-school Teachers' Union on Wednesday morning, in Children's Hall, Temple Auditorium. Her subject will be the Passion Play, which she witnessed at Oberammergau.

The pulpit of the First Methodist Church will be filled on August 7 and 14 by Rev. George A. Miller of San José. Mr. Miller is well known to the denomination, by his work on this Coast and in the Philippines, where he did the pioneer work for the Methodists.

Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, D. C., superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, will speak at the Y.M.C.A. men's meeting Sunday afternoon on "Living and Dying Nations."

Sunday night the Y.M.C.A. Brotherhood will conduct the services at Central Presbyterian Church, when Rev. E. H. Emmit will speak. Rev. A. B. Prichard will preach in the morning on the subject, "A Christian in the World."

The first balcony meeting for the summer will be held at the Young Women's Christian Association at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Dean MacCormack of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral will preach on the topic, "Misunderstood," tomorrow morning, and "Facing the Mistakes of Life" in the evening.

The five churches of Highand Park, of different denominations, will hold union services each Sunday night, on the bleachers of the Occidental athletic field. The arrangement will be continued until September, Rev. George B. Cliff of the Methodist Church preaching the first sermon Sunday night.

At 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the First Unitarian Church will hold an open-air service in the neighborhood of the Church of the Angels. Take Annandale car to the latter point and guides will direct to the place.

Rev. A. C. Smither will preach his last two sermons tomorrow, prior to departing for Alaska, where he will spend his vacation.

Rev. Dr. George D. Knights of the University of Redlands will supply the pulpit of Dr. Phelps of Central Baptist Church tomorrow. His morning subject will be, "God's Building," and his evening topic, "Americanitis."

The Sunday-school of Epiphany Episcopal parish will hold a picnic at Santa Monica Cañon on July 30.

The Vermont-avenue Methodist Church will hold a lawn fete this afternoon and evening at the residence of Rev. W. M. Sapp, No. 1107 West Forty-fifth street. There will be all sorts of fancy articles and good things to eat.

Miss Nina E. Rice, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. O. V. Rice, after having spent seven years as a missionary in Turkey, is at home on her first furlough. She is a native of Los Angeles, but is visiting at Upland, to which place her parents have removed.

Campbell Morgan's Lesson Helps.

BRIEF, PRACTICAL AND VALUABLE COMMENTS ON THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL LESSONS.

By G. Campbell Morgan, D.D.

THE TRANSFIGURATION.

Golden Text: Matthew, xvii. 5. "This is My beloved Son, in Whom I am well pleased."

(1) And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart; (2) and he was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his garments became white as the light. (3) And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him. (4) And Peter answered and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here; if thou wilt, I will make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. (5) While he was yet speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them; and behold, a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him. (6) And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. (7) And Jesus came and touched them and said, Arise and be not afraid. (8) And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only. (14) And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, (15) Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is epileptic, and suffereth grievously; for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and ofttimes into the water. (16) And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him. (17) And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. (18) And Jesus rebuked him; and the devil went out from him; and the boy was cured from that hour. (19) Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? (20) And he saith unto them, Because of your little faith; for verily I say unto you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

The selection of the golden text in this case properly concenters attention on the value of the transfiguration of Jesus to His disciples. The appropriatness of this is very clearly manifest as we carefully study the relation of the event, first to all that had immediately preceded it, and secondly, to an attitude of mind on the part of the disciples which is manifest as we carefully observe the men.

Let us first look then at the things immediately preceding. This of course the present study may be summarized as the account of two confessions. The first was that of Peter concerning Christ. "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." The second was that of Christ concerning Peter, "Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it. I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven; and whatsoever thou shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loosen on earth shall be loosed in heaven." Immediately following these confessions the new beginning was made in which Christ commenced to unveil to His disciples the true meaning and method of His Messiahship. He told them definitely that His pathway must be that of suffering. His suffering would be inflicted by men. He would "suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed," but it would be suffering within the economy of God, as His word, "must," interpreted by His final declaration of resurrection clearly reveals. When later on in the illumination of Pentecost, Peter referred to the cross, he concisely expressed these two facts when he said, "Him being delivered up by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye by the hand of lawless men did crucify and slay."

From this new teaching Peter shrank because he had not come to full understanding of his own conviction as to the person of his Lord. He had confessed Him to be the Son of the living God. Had he perfectly apprehended the meaning of that, he could not have questioned the absolute wisdom of his Lord's teaching concerning the necessity for the cross.

Now in order to lead these men further on, they were taken to the mount of transfiguration, and there was granted to them a full unveiling of the perfection of His humanity. As they saying to them, "This is My beloved Son in Whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him." That declaration fastened their attention upon the One whom they had imperfectly known, and ratified Peter's confession that He was the Son of the living God. The command "Hear ye Him," was a rebuke of their unwillingness to accept His estimate of the necessity of that suffering toward which His face was set. The attitude of mind to which we have referred is revealed most clearly in the paragraph which is omitted from our reading and consideration. Coming down from the mountain they inquired, "Why then say the scribes, that Elijah must first come? We need not stay now to consider our Lord's answer to the inquiry, but the inquiry itself, is an unmistakable revelation of their uncertainty about Him as Messiah. The form of it suggests uncertainty as having largely passed away by reason of what they had seen on the holy mount. There, they had received a confirmation of the convictions to which Peter had given expression. Why then, if this indeed be the Messiah, did the scribes declare that Elijah must first come? Thus the preceding events and this attitude of mind help us to see the value of the revelation to the disciples.

Taking the whole lesson He is seen in three ways. First, His actual transfiguration set Him before them all the glorious perfection of His human nature. They still looked upon the human face of Jesus, but saw it radiant as the sun. They still looked upon the ordinary garments, but even they became suffused with whiteness only comparable to the light. They saw Him stand in familiar conversation with those upon whom they had never looked, but whom they immediately knew as Moses and Elijah, the great law giver and the great reformer of their national history.

They saw Him secondly as the Word of God, in a very simple and yet very profound application of that title. He was to be obeyed in all His teaching, because through His perfect humanity He was able to give a perfect expression to men of the will and purpose of God.

As they descended from the mountain with Him, they saw Him as the Worker with God, equal to the accomplishment of that which was beyond the power of any other than Himself. A case of peculiar difficulty confronted the disciples who had been left in the valley. It presented no difficulty to Him. With a word of rebuke He exorcised the demon, and restored the boy to his father.

This threefold revelation of the Lord constituted an unanswerable argument for the command which they had heard in the midst of the glory, that they should hear Him.

The unveiling of the Lord was by no means complete. They knew Him better than they had ever done, and never again in active anger did they oppose the teaching concerning the cross. Nevertheless they shrank from it in fear along all the pathway. The transfiguration was not the final demonstration, and that was undoubtedly the reason of the charge He laid upon them. "Tell the vision to no man until the Son of man be risen from the dead." It was by the resurrection that He was "declared to be the Son of God with power." It was by the resurrection as Peter himself declared in his letter, that they were born again unto a living hope.

As we listen to the charge of these three men to hear the Son we must remember that for us the vision of the holy mount is ratified by the resurrection. It is therefore a more grievous fault in us that we so often shun the cross, and are afraid to follow Him in days of darkness and in ways which we do not understand. Not from the midst of the glory of His perfect humanity, only, but also from the new and clearer light of His resurrection triumph the voice of God speaks to us, saying, "This is My beloved Son in Whom I am well pleased; hear ye Him."

STATE BOARD SECRETARY NOTIFIES HANFORD BODIES.

Supervisors Award Contract for New County Hospital, Which Provides for an All-Brick Structure With Modern Heating Plant—Construction to Begin Soon.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

HANFORD, July 22.—Secretary Snow of the State Board of Health was here the first of the week and had a conference with the City Trustees and the city Board of Health. He declared that the State board proposes to serve notice on the various boards of education throughout the State that the law compelling vaccination of pupils in the public schools will be strictly enforced during the coming year.

This action is taken after the Appellate Court decision in the Watsonville case, a few weeks ago. Mr. Snow was here to introduce Dr. Charles W. Bonynge, who will have charge of the new State laboratory at Fresno, which will be headquarters for the State health board's activities in the San Joaquin Valley.

The Supervisors have awarded the contract for the new County Hospital to Trewhitt & Shields of this city on their bid of $26,665, which provides for an all brick structure and a modern heating plant. Construction will soon start on the site recently purchased by the board near this city—the old fair grounds.

A meeting of the directors of the Settlers' Ditch Company has been called for Saturday, at which the directors will either conform with or refuse to obey the direction of the stockholders in last Saturday's meeting. These instructions are that they ratify the action of the stockholders in voting to terminate the trusteeship of the shares of People's Ditch stock owned by the Settlers' company, vested in S. B. Hicks and S. A. Thompson. It is rumored that the directors will refuse to ratify the stockholders' resolutions, and in that event legal proceedings will ensue. Those favoring termination of the trusteeship charge mismanagement of People's ditch affairs, and seek to transfer the proxy to stockholders who will represent a different administration of People's ditch affairs, in which, because it holds a controlling interest, the Settlers' company has majority influence.

As an indication of the returns realized by Kings county apricot growers this year, may be taken the statement of a grower near Armona, who has figured that he realized $4 per tree gross at 8 cents per pound, from his 240 trees, including returns from pits. He sold his fruit to the Hanford cannery.

The cornerstone of the new Church of the Saviour, corner Douty and Eleventh streets, was laid yesterday morning by Bishop W. F. Nichols of San Francisco, assisted by Revs. G. R. E. MacDonald, D. O. Kelley and C. S. Lindsley, the former the present rector and the latter two the first and second RAIL RATTLE.

PARTY LOCATES GULF SYSTEM.

National of Mexico Engineers Are in the Field.

Taylor Receives New Bridge at Matamoras.

Espee Gets Track Rights Over National Lines.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, July 19.—The international bridge spanning the Rio Grande between Brownsville, Tex., and Matamoras, Tamaulipas, Mex., which will add another to her important gateways between Mexico and the United States, has been formally received for the National Railways of Mexico by H. M. Taylor, director of construction, and formal acceptance by the Mexican government is a matter of but a few days. After that the date for the inaugural ceremonies will be set. The celebration festivities will take place in Brownsville. Railway officials and representatives from several towns of southeastern Texas will take part. President Diaz has declined his invitation with regrets. He will be represented by a specially appointed committee. Col. Roosevelt, who was invited, will not be on hand. He will attend the trans-Mississippi congress at San Antonio next November, and after that will likely visit Mexico.

It is significant that at the time the Brownsville bridge is ready to go into commission the National Railways of Mexico has in the field three engineerings parties between Tampico and Matamoras, surveying for a link in the inevitable Gulf Coast system that will connect the peninsulas of Florida and Yucatan. A final survey will be run and profiles mapped without delay, and it is predicted that dirt will begin to fly within a few months at most. Rich oil disclosures in near-gulf districts of the Mexico States of Tamaulipas and Vera Cruz have hastened the preliminary investigations.

Down in the opposite corner of the republic the National Railways of Mexico is at this same time making ready to open to traffic the Pacific port of Acapulco. First locations have been made for a line almost paralleling the historic old Spanish highway from Vera Cruz to Acapulco, the road that was used for traffic between the Spanish port of Cadiz and the Philippine Islands.

As one result of a visit to Mexico by J. C. Stubbs, vice-president and director of the Southern Pacific, arrangements have been perfected whereby the Espee is granted track rights over the line of the National Railways of Mexico between Orendain and Guadalajara, and traffic arrangements between the two systems were closed. The one track between these two points in the State of Jalisco is believed to be sufficient for both roads for the next ten years, and the treaty just signed will save the Southern Pacific the expense of paralleling the other line.

A change of schedule of all through trains between the City of Mexico and St. Louis, about to be made effective, will cut the time between this capital and New York City to an even four days. The running time is now four and a half days. The roads involved are the National Railways of Mexico, Missouri Pacific, International and Great Northern, and Texas and Pacific.

C. W. Fish, formerly general freight agent, has been promoted to the position of traffic manager of the National Railways of Mexico. He has been with the National since 1894, and has served that system as general freight agent since 1904.

Traffic Manager Fish is succeeded in the general freight agency by James H. Drake, formerly assistant general freight agent, whose successor has not been named. Drake has been with the lines for several years as station agent, commercial agent, and in various capacities in the freight department.

Following the announcement of Fish's promotion, J. C. McDonald, general passenger agent, resigned his position to become assistant general manager of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company in Mexico. Temporarily the general passenger office is in charge of W. F. Paton, assistant general passenger agent, McDonald's successor not having been chosen. The retiring general passenger agent had been with Mexican lines for eleven years.

Stanley F. Morse has entered the service of the National Railways of Mexico as an agricultural expert. He is a graduate of several American agricultural institutions, having received the degree of B.A.S. from the Harvard University Agricultural School and having held government office in the Agricultural Department of the United States.

Should Deceive Her.

They were arguing about the alleged inborn strain of deceitfulness in woman, and she retaliated by citing the instances of men deceiving their wives. "I suppose," said he, "that you hold that a man should never deceive his wife." "Oh, no," she smiled back at him; "I shouldn't go so far as that. How would it be possible for the average man to get a wife if he didn't deceive her?"—[San Francisco Argonaut.

...has held them without apparent advancement. Both girls are workers and they are employing all their time for scholarship purposes.

Yesterday, while several of the boys and girls were talking at headquarters, one of the girls, Gladys Bagnall, who has but recently commenced work, told about a man who absolutely refused to give any sort of subscription. "But," said she, "he did it so politely, and was so kind about it, that I really felt like thanking him more than I did some who gave them."

THE DAY'S CHAT.

While a discussion was going on as to who the girl was whose story appeared in the morning Times, another girl said: "Well, something similar occurred to me today. I called at a place a few days ago and the man of the house was there and was not very happy for some reason and gave me little encouragement. Yesterday I called again hoping to find the lady at home, as I remembered her as being very pleasant; but as luck would have it, she was not there, and Mr. was very grouchy. Today I met him on the street and he bowed and said, stopping, 'When did you say our subscription ran out? I guess I may as well give it to you for a year.' And he did so. Wasn't I happy though!"

Another girl came to headquarters saying: "I must look Timsey."

No one knew exactly what she meant, but as she seemed to be happy, all decided that it could not be anything very bad. "Well, I went into a certain office, and before I had said a word, one of the gentlemen said 'I know what you want—a subscription for The Times,' and he wrote me out a check for a year's subscription."

She was reminded that the gentleman may have seen her picture in The SCHOLARSHIP PROVERBS.

By G. W. B.

Rome was not built in a day, nor a scholarship caught on the fly. Pluck, patience, persistency and politeness will get you there in the final rush.

Not at a jump is any good thing reached. "Everlastingly at it" is the index finger that points to success.

Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom and of the other best things in life. The snail beat the hare which went to sleep on the road. "Wide awake" is the American motto. Be awake in the scholarship race.

The scholarship race is like life. We all get something out of it. We get what we really try to get.

The race is not to the swift, but to the diligent; nor the battle to the strong, but to the determined. By putting one leg before another the poor dog got to London.

It takes many bricks to build a house, and many stitches to knit a stocking. But the mason gets the skyscraper done and the girl gets not a stocking but a dozen pairs finished by keeping at it.

Little drops of water, little grains of sand, make the mighty ocean and the great big world. Little coupons and many subscriptions put the boy or girl who keeps on trying at the head of the list.

Faint yet pursuing, is the way the hero won the victory. That is the way every boy and girl in the contest got a scholarship. You can get one in the same way.

A minute is but the tick of the clock, but minutes multiplied make years and centuries. A point is only a point, but the scholarship race is won by points. There is a pointer for all you boys and girls.

quarters bringing a score. He says that the colored people mean to help him in his work. He is very ambitious to secure a business scholarship.

CONTESTANT'S MOTHER DIES.

POMONA, July 22.—The death of Mrs. W. F. Collins, mother of Howard Collins, the energetic contestant in The Times scholarship contest from Pomona, occurred at the home of the family on North Town avenue, after an illness of several months' duration. The deceased was a member of Trinity Methodist Church and leaves a husband and two sons, Earl, who has just arrived from Harper, Kan., and Howard; two daughters, Lulu and Rae. No funeral services will be held here, but Mr. Harper and son, Earl, will accompany the remains to the former home at Harper, where interment will be made, after burial services there.

WILMINGTON.

TERMINAL RATES TO BE SOUGHT.

OLD-TIME PORT FOLLOWS THE SAN PEDRO EXAMPLE.

If Granted Thinks Interior Merchants Will Establish Warehouses. Chamber of Commerce Urges Continuance of the High School as Promised Prior to Consolidation.

WILMINGTON, July 22.—The Chamber of Commerce adopted resolutions last night congratulating the San Pedro Harbor City Wholesale Company on its successful fight for terminal rates.

The decision has given Wilmington great hope that, when its municipal docks are completed, terminal rates will also be granted. This place has unsurpassed advantages for the location of warehouses and factories. If terminal rates are granted, merchants of the interior will have the opportunity, so long desired by them, of establishing their warehouses on the harbor and getting their goods direct from the boats which bring them in.

The Chamber of Commerce took up the matter of the High School, urging its continuance in compliance with the promises made by Los Angeles as an inducement to consolidate. It was specifically agreed, in the terms of consolidation, to maintain the High School. Instead of this, an order has come to abandon it and to incorporate it with the San Pedro High School, four miles away around the bay shore. When consolidation was effected a portion of the High School district was outside territory and not included in the corporate limits. This portion claimed the school property, but the High School was maintained through the year. Now the order has come to disband and the pupils will be sent to San Pedro. The people of Wilmington are protesting against this as an injustice and as a distinct violation of pre-consolidation pledges. The people expect that Wilmington will increase in population rapidly when improvements begin, and to be deprived of one of the chief educational institutions will be a distinct blow at her prosperity. There are splendid high schools at Long Beach and San Pedro, and people with children needing these advantages will prefer to live in those cities, even if they have employment in Wilmington. Strong petitions from the people and the Chamber of Commerce have been presented to the Board of Education, citing the promises made by Los Angeles to maintain the High School.

Another matter which is causing the people to worry is that of the failure to push the work of the county boulevard connecting Wilmington with Los Angeles. The Chamber of Commerce has sent repeated requests to the County Highway Commission to give some definite information on the matter, but these letters seem to have been consigned to the waste-paper basket. Growing weary, the Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to secure a right of way for a city boulevard to connect with the Vermont avenue boulevard which Los Angeles is planning to construct to the bay shore.

The people of Wilmington are encouraged to think that Los Angeles will now deposit a little oil on the streets to allay the dust, which has become almost unbearable. The streets everywhere are in a dilapidated condition. The magnificent macadam highways, which dazzled the eyes of the people by their magnificence in the pre-consolidation promises, are as yet only a pipe dream. The people will be grateful now if only a little oil can be spread over the surface and a few of the chuckholes filled. The kind of administration now in power finds its illustration in the dust and chuckholes of the streets of Wilmington.

Great activity exists at the lumber yards. The docks are crowded with and winter months. W. T. Wheatley, manager of the Consolidated company, gives out that two more lumber firms are negotiating with him for dockage room and sites for mills along the channel.

THE STORY-TELLER

Senator Curtis of Kansas tells the following story about a young man who sometimes drank more whisky than was good for him:

He had been making a night of it, but had forsaken his companions. He was acquainted with an undertaker named George, and got the crazy notion at 3 o'clock in the morning that he must see this particular man. Accordingly, he found George's undertaking establishment, over which George had his sleeping apartments.

The intoxicated young man rang and rang George's bell, and at last awoke him. The undertaker put his head out of the third-story window, expecting to find that his funeral services were required immediately. Instead, he recognized his friend, Frank.

"Well, Frank," he exclaimed, crossly, "what do you want?"

"I just wan' tell you, George," said Frank, "that you're the lash man in the world I wan' to do business with."—(The Popular Magazine.

When Chinchin returned home from Chinchin & Chinchin's the other day he found his wife lying worn out upon the sofa.

"Nothing wrong, I hope?" he exclaimed.

"I'm afraid I shall have to stop that tonic the doctor prescribed for Tommy," Mrs. Chinchin faintly murmured.

"Why? Isn't he any better?" asked Chinchin.

"Oh, yes; but I think the tonic must be too invigorating. Why, he has slid down the banisters six times this morning, broken the hall lamp, two vases, a water jug and a looking glass, tied a tin can to the cat's tail, and scribbled his name on the drawing-room paper. Of course, its very gratifying, but I don't feel I could stand much more, so I think I—I'll stop the tonic."—[Tit-Bits.

President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania road, in his study of all classes of men who are under him, entertains a great admiration for the Irish foreman of a gang of laborers who went to any lengths to show his men that he was the real boss. One morning this foreman found that his gang had put a hand car on the track without his orders.

"Who put that han' car-r-r on the thrack?" he asked.

"We did, sor," one of the men answered respectfully.

"Well," he said shortly, "take it off ag'in!"

The laborers did so with some difficulty.

"Now," said the foreman, "put it on ag'in!"

John D. Rockefeller does not possess quite enough money to keep him from being afraid of a common, ordinary, garden variety of goat, according to a writer in the Popular Magazine. On one occasion, when he was walking along one of the country roads just outside of Augusta, Ga., where he spends every spring, he overtook a little girl driving a goat hitched to a cart.

Walking beside the cart was a young woman who had taken the little girl out for the ride, and it was with the young woman that Mr. Rockefeller talked.

"I used to drive a goat myself," he volunteered, in explanation of his interest in this one. "Where did you get it?"

He was told that the goat and cart had been hired. By this time the rich man had taken his stand in front of the goat and was leaning reflectively on his cane.

"Does he kick?" was the next ques-

"He doesn't kick, but he butts something awful."

That was enough, for in that moment Mr. Rockefeller destroyed the popular idea that he is infirm and feeble. He displayed all the agility of a youth of eighteen by making one leap, that took him from in front of the butting goat to the gully beside the road. And there he stayed until the little girl drove on.

A man who was afraid he was in for a long illness went to a doctor of high repute whose patient he had not been before. The physician was considerably alarmed at his visitor's symptoms, and after a careful examination informed his new patient that he was undoubtedly very ill.

"Have you consulted any one else?" asked the doctor bluntly.

"Oh," said the man, "I went to see such and such a druggist (naming him) and asked his advice and I may as well tell you that he——"

"Druggist, did you say?" broke in the doctor, with unmistakable anger. "What on earth was the good of going to see a druggist? If people will do such insane things as that, it is no wonder that they remain ill. At any rate, they have only themselves to blame for such foolishness."

"Well," interposed the man, seizing the first opportunity of getting in a word, "I should like to say that the druggist told me——"

But the very mention of the word "druggist" was too much for the doctor, and once more he interrupted the patient's tale.

"What do I care what the druggist said?" he exclaimed. "The best thing that you can do when a druggist gives you a bit of advice is to do exactly the opposite."

"And the druggist advised me," continued the man, now completing what he had several times tried to say, "to come to you!"

Then the doctor pondered on the danger of dogmatism.—[Scraps.

DRIVING CLUB.

Pasadena Driving Club was organized last night with forty enthusiastic members. The officers elected are W. J. Hogan, president; Dr. C. J. Tracy, vice-president; Revel L. English, second vice-president; James H. Gaut, secretary; J. B. Coulston, treasurer; Frank Day, Frank Williams, Tiffany, Jones and Webb, directors.

The new club will make arrangements with the directors of Tournament Park and the officials of the Pasadena Polo Club wherby the Driving Club will be allowed certain privileges at the stables and on the track at the park. Regardless of the inroads which have been made by automobiles, there is a large number of wealthy horsemen in Pasadena who are as enthusiastic over horse races and driving meets as ever. The new club will be an important addition to the attractive features at Tournament Park during the coming winter, when it is hoped Pasadena will be made the general headquarters for polo players of Southern California. The members of the Driving Club hope to be able to give several exhibitions of fancy driving as well as races at each of the polo events during the coming winter and spring.

ANOTHER MILL.

The Dorn-Sykes Realty Company has closed a deal whereby Pasadena is to have another flour and feed mill, below California street, on the Salt Lake tracks. The owners will be Kansas City people. The mill will be operated with wheat shipped here from Utah.

REDUCES ASSESSMENTS.

The City Council, sitting as a Board of Equalization, yesterday reduced the tax assessment against the Pasadena Hospital from $100,550 to $75,550 on account of the fact that the institution does about 20 per cent. of its business for charity. The property of the Y.M.C.A. was reduced from $30,000 to $20,000 and the Y.W.C.A. and Children's Training School were somewhat lowered. The Edison Company asked for a reduction from $85,000 to $65,000, and came near getting it, but there was not a quorum present to vote for the motion to that effect. The Pacific Electric Company also objected to an assessment of $311,200 as against $280,000 last year, but the matter was continued until next week. Many residents of the "dry tract" asked for reductions on account of their property having no water supply, but their requests were turned down.

Dr. E. L. Conger, president of the Humane Society, sent out notices yesterday that greater care must be taken of milk cows during the extremely hot weather. It is alleged some people tie their cows out in the hot sun all day without food or water.

ARRANGE FOR PICNIC.

The joint picnic committee of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Association has decided upon Thursday, August 18, as the date for the annual picnic at one of the beaches. It is generally believed Long Beach will be selected. The principal argument advanced by Long Beach is that it is a "dry town," and just like home for Pasadenans. However, many people would like to spend a day in a town that is not "so dry."

The Pasadena Motorcycle Club held a watermelon banquet at the clubhouse on South Fair Oaks avenue last night.

Prof. A. L. Hamilton, superintendent of schools, returned yesterday from Boston, where he attended the annual meeting of the National Educational Association.

GARDEN FETE.

An enjoyable affair of yesterday was the garden fete given by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hoskins, No. 150 North El Molino avenue, in honor of a number of old friends from San Angelo, Tex. Following the dinner, the afternoon was spent under the trees. Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Robertson, Harry Robertson, Miss Margaret Robertson, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Conerly, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bustin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Melvin.

One of the charming events of last night was the musicale given by Miss Vere Williams, soprano, and Miss Maud Thompson, pianist, assisted by Miss Ina Goodwin, at the Hotel Maryland. A large number of music lovers attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wynn entertained a number of friends at their home, No. 250 East Villa street, with an elaborate dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Chester White of Fresno. Mrs. White was formerly Miss Mildred Wynn.

LAUNCH RESCUES THREE.

Accident at Banning Beach, Catalina Island, Brings One Man Near Death.

AVALON, July 22.—An accident which came very near costing the life of one man occurred near Banning Beach today, when a rowboat overturned and the three men in it were precipitated into the wtaer. One of the men could not swim, and had gone under twice when the launch Sunbeam reached the spot and picked the three men up.

Many golfers are coming over for the week-end games. There will be a ladies' approaching contest, and handicap sweepstakes for the men, beginning tomorrow. Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Frost of Los Angeles came over with a party this morning. Entries for the approaching contest include Mmes. Charles Christensen, Ross Kirkpatrick, Stevens, Habersham, Ingraham, E. Hood, S. H. Rippey and Miss Katherine Gray.

Mrs. Henry Clay Gooding and Miss Gertrude Gooding came over yesterday and will spend a fortnight at the Metropole. Judge and Mrs. Campbell are also at the Metropole. Other guests are Mrs. Matthew Slavin and daughters of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyle Workman and family of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Emory of Whittier left today after a week's stay on the island. Mrs. A. H. Dunlap and son, Randal Dunlap, of Whittier, are enjoying a stay at Avalon. Miss Lillian Dunlap is with a house party of college girls.

The Jeffries party came back from Clemente this morning, after a tempestuous trip. "Yes, I've had about enough fishing," said big Jim, for the three men caught about thirty yellowtail, beside other fish.

FOR LIBERTY UNDER LAW.

ITI-PICKETING ORDINANCE IS PASSED AT LONG BEACH.

G BEACH, July 22.—Following lead of the Chamber of Commerce in upholding the principle of pen-shop town, the City Council t passed to its third reading an nce prohibiting picketing by rs, processions in which transpa- of an offensive nature are used, on the streets, thereby intimidate or coerce unorganized labor, or the boycott of any interest. Several strikers were present, and through a San Francisco agitator who has been here only one month, sought to have the proceeding delayed. By six affirmative votes the ordinance was put through as an emergency measure.

LONG BEACH LADS LOSE LIVES IN CERRITOS SLOUGH.

Sport in Skiff Has Fatal Ending. "Tennyson's Big Hope" Theme of Principal Address at Baptist Assembly—New Bath-house Planned. Woman Learns of Daughter's Death.

LONG BEACH, July 22.—Searching parties for three hours dragged the west fork of Cerritos Slough today for the bodies of Gerald Barbour and Raouel Mendoza, aged 11 and 13, missing since yesterday. At 2 o'clock p.m. the corpse of young Mendoza was caught, and an hour later the drags brought up the body of Barbour. Both were found about 100 feet north of the Seventh-street bridge. The parents and other relatives were present during the search and their grief was pitiable. They had hoped the lads had simply ran away.

Young Barbour was the son of Goodrich Barbour, a hotel clerk, who lives near the Willows on a small ranch, where the lad had a stock of rabbits and chickens. He finished his work yesterday and received permission to visit a chum, living near the harbor. The latter was absent, however, and Barbour then went to play with Raouel Mendoza, who lives near by, and whose father is foreman for a Los Angeles concrete building contractor. Soon a trip to the harbor was proposed and the boys were last seen going toward the water, where the Mendoza and Clemmer lads had two skiffs. Before getting into the skiff the Barbour boy left his bicycle by the side of the bridge, where it was found this morning.

When night came and the boys did not return their parents became alarmed and instituted a search, without success. Toward midnight the police were notified. But they, looking for the lads in the land of the living, found no trace. Search was resumed this morning, and the Mendoza skiff was found floating in the west fork, overturned, and beside it a cap, identified by Barbour's parents. Drags were secured and a systematic search of the slough began. Ernest Scott and Edward Defeber, divers and life guards, dived repeatedly along the stream.

WHO TO SEE.

Some time ago the City Council wrote the officials of the Pacific Electric asking for a conference relative to the extension of the 5-cent fare to all parts of the city. The road at present recognizes only the city limits as they existed when the franchise was granted six years ago. In an answer received today from General Manager McMillan he says that he is not informed of any violations of the franchise regarding the fare charged, and that further details must be given if a conference is granted. He intimates that an interview with the company's local attorney would have as much effect as to seek those higher up.

BAPTIST ASSEMBLY.

"Tennyson's Big Hope" was the theme of Prof. George Knight's address before the Baptist Assembly this morning. The word hope runs all through many of the poet's productions, he said. In the strong emotional make-up of the great poet was found a power that projected one over into the realm of faith and increased love for the true and the good. Dr. Geistweit of Peoria closed the morning session with an address on the life abundant. Dr. R. J. Burdette lectured on "Orientation" tonight. Tomorrow will be devoted to a boys' and girls' meeting, with addresses by John M. Dean, J. W. Conley and Dr. Geistweit. In the evening the annual bonfire of the young people will be held on the beach.

A new though small bath-house is planned for the beach. Hans Vockeroh, former plunge guard and swimming teacher at the Long Beach bathhouse, assisted by friends in Los Angeles, is having plans drawn for a small building at the foot of Linden avenue, to contain a plunge, and where bathing suits may be rented. The structure is to cost about $2000.

Mrs. Kenna of Imperial, who is at the beach for the summer, was prostrated today by news from Kansas City that her daughter had been killed today by an automobile. The latter was planning to join her mother in California in a few weeks. Mrs. Kenna is under the care of a physician, suffering from the shock.

ASKS FOR EXPENSES.

H. S. Carver, who four years ago won a suit to compel the Salt Lake to open the trestle across Cerritos Slough and keep it so, a decision which led later on to the opening of the navigation through the harbor entrance, applied to the Council tonight to pay him $1000 for his services and expenses incurred in carrying the suit through the courts. The matter was referred to the Finance and Harbor Committees and the City Attorney.

Mrs. Mary E. Godley died last night at the home of her daughter on Molino avenue. She was a native of New Jersey and 84 years of age.

KILLED BY MOTOR CAR.

Mistaking the whistle of the Southern Pacific motor car for that of a Pacific Electric coach, John Coburn of Los Angeles, who was visiting at Eiftman, this morning stepped on the railroad track and was struck down. He was so badly injured that he died soon after reaching a Los Angeles hospital. Coburn, who was a planing mill employé, came here a few weeks ago from Ohio, and was visiting his father-in-law.

WANT OWENS RIVER WATER.

South Pasadena People Are Figuring on How to Obtain It—Lawn Party Is Held.

SOUTH PASADENA, July 22.—W. W. Fogg urged the Council at the last meeting to secure cheaper water and lighting rates. He suggested the installation of a municipal lighting plant, and secondly to obtain Owens River water. Considerable talk has been indulged in in regard to the feasibility of this city securing its supply from Los Angeles at the end of Pasadena avenue, opposite the Ostrich Farm. Two aqueduct officials thought that if the water were obtained in this way a pumping station would have to be installed. The question now arises which would be cheaper, to combine with Pasadena and Alhambra and form a water district, or have a city plant.

The right of way which will create another short-line route between Los Angeles and Pasadena will benefit the residents of the western part of the city. The new line, which will be in the nature of a cut-off, will shorten the time by twenty minutes, and is comparatively a straight line between Rose Hill and Lincoln Park, connecting with the old main line at Pasadena avenue and continuing until the old Columbia-street line is picked up at Meridian avenue.

RESERVOIRS ARE UNCLEANLY.

Glendale Trustees Inspect Them and Will Try to Compel Companies to Remedy Matter.

GLENDALE, July 22.—This city is experiencing considerable difficulty in trying to compel several of the water companies of this place to keep their reservoirs in cleanly condition. Upon investigation by the Committee of the Whole of the City Trustees of the reservoirs, this week, it was found that several were not in the most sanitary condition, while one had an accumulation of vegetable growth on the surface. The health officer has ordered that this accumulation be removed at once, and the Trustees are taking steps by which they will be able to compel all companies to cover reservoirs However, under the advice of the City Attorney, they are cautiously feeling their way. In the beginning the matter will be taken up with the companies, and Mr. Pirtle, owner of the Verdugo ranch, at a special meeting which will be held soon. As a first step in this direction City Engineer Edward M. Lynch is preparing a map showing the water-bearing lands and the source of the water supply.

Rev. S. L. Ward has just completed five years of service at the Presbyterian Church. The membership has grown from forty to 154. Dr. Ward has been called upon to marry twelve couples and has had twenty-five funerals. Of the 261 Sundays he has been away on vacation sixteen; and has preached 463 sermons here. During these five years the church has raised for congregational expenses $6000 and for benevolence about $3700.

The annual report of City Clerk Woodberry, just rendered, shows the total receipts for the year to amount to $83,557.60, which includes $17,281.88 for taxes; $56,424 for sale of electric lighting bonds, and $5678.14 from the electric lighting department. There is also an item of $875.05 on account of assessment for improvement of Adams street and $961.23 for various fees.

POMONA JURY ACQUITS.

Second Trial of "Blind Pig" Case Results in Verdict of Not Guilty. Concert and Picnic.

POMONA, July 22.—After an all-day trial of Jules Fages yesterday and a four-hour jury session a verdict of not guilty was returned. The first ballot was nine to three for acquittal, the second ballot eleven to one for acquittal and finally the single dissenter capitulated on the third count. This was one of the cases which grew out of the wholesale raids on blind pigs here on Christmas eve. Fages was arrested charged with selling liquor in less quantities than that specified in the city liquor ordinance. This was his second trial, the jury in the first instance having disagreed.

The Seventh Regiment band concert at the Armory last night attracted a crowd and a dance followed in the Armory. There was a large attendance also at the picnic supper given by the Pythian Sisters at Ganesha Park.

There having been numerous unlooked for delays in the completion of the new City Hall, Contractor Burge has been granted another sixty-day extension on the time specified in his contract for the completion of the structure. The new City Trustees' room will be ready for occupancy at the August meeting of the board.

Messrs. Nichols, Walker, Richardson, Potter, Hutchings and Storrs will return Sunday from a weeks' outing trip to Bluff Lake near Bear Valley.

BODY THROWN UP BY WAVES.

WOMAN'S CORPSE COMES ASHORE AT SANTA MONICA.

Los Angeles Nurse, Who, Through Ill-Health Was Forced to Give Up Position, Commits Suicide by Jumping Into the Ocean Off Hollister Avenue Pier.

SANTA MONICA, July 22.—When day dawned it was discovered that the high tides of the night had deposited on the shore near the Hollister-avenue pier the body of a young woman. The corpse proved to be that of Miss Margaret Henze of Los Angeles, who disappeared from her home at No. 619 Loomis street, Wednesday afternoon. At that time she told her father, Louis Henze, she was going for a walk and would soon return. She was not seen alive again by those who knew her. The condition of the body indicated that the young woman must have come at once to the beach and leaped into the sea from the Hollister-avenue pier at a time when no one was watching. It is certain the object seen floating in the breakers at dusk of yesterday was that of the unfortunate woman.

She was 27 years of age, slight of frame, and weighed only 107 pounds. Until recently she was employed as a nurse, but through ill health was forced to give up her employment. Her relatives say she had not been melancholy, and the thought that she might commit suicide had not occurred to them.

Mr. Henze will take the body to Los Angeles for burial, having secured a death certificate from the Coroner.

BREAKERS TAKE HIS WINGS.

Los Angeles Lad Is Saved from Drowning at Ocean Park by a Strong Swimmer.

OCEAN PARK, July 22.—The beach near the foot of Ashland avenue was the scene of a near-drowning accident shortly before noon today. Earl Schaad, a 12-year-old boy from Los Angeles who is passing the summer with his parents in a seaside cottage on Ashland avenue, went in bathing with a number of companions. Being equipped with inflated bathing wings, Schaad was more venturesome than his friends, and before he knew it he was paddling among the rough breakers in water that was much beyond his depth. Being unable to swim, he was at the mercy of the current and was being carried gradually farther and farther from shore.

Suddenly a huge breaker struck the helpless lad and despoiled him of his protecting wings. Immediately a cry of alarm went up from those along the shore. This resulted in bringing Clarence Knoth to the scene. He is a good swimmer and succeeded in bringing out the strangling lad.

Coronado Tent City is open.

VENICE.

VENICE, July 22.—Harold Pickering and Alfred Brown, who escaped several days ago from the Strickland Home at Eagle Rock, made their way to the beach. Here they lived as best they could for a few days, escaping the police, and sleeping in an old building on the Midway Plaisance.

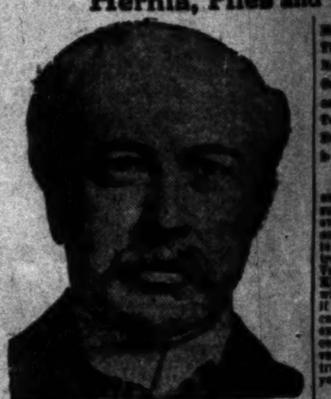
Hernia, Piles and Varicose Ve



H. J. TILLOTSON, M.D.
Established 30 Years.

I am the only Specialist in Los Angeles who is sole owner of his office and equipment, who does not advertise a fictitious name and photograph. I publish my true photograph, correct name, personally conduct my office. I am the longest established, most successful and reliable, as medical credentials and public records prove. I make this statement that you will know you consult a celebrated Specialist, who sees and treats patients personally. I possess skill and experience, acquired in such a way that no other can share, and should not be classed with medical companies. Experience is the safe standard by which judgment may be valued, and it is unwise and expensive to embrace the statements of medical companies. It is impossible for a medical company to attend college. Companies have no diploma or license to practice medicine in California or any other State. Medical companies usually are named after a doctor. A portrait whose personality and identity are indefinite, is selected and published as the legitimate specialist of the office. Hired substitutes ordinary doctors with questionable ability, give consultation, examination and treatment.

A thorough investigation should be made by every ailing person as to the specialist he consults. Duty and destiny to self and those who depend upon you demand the best medical attention. I have the ability and can give you this service. I have always charged a very reasonable fee, so that my services may be obtained by any man who sincerely desires to be cured. I make no misleading statements or unbusinesslike propositions; neither do I desire to be particularly independent, and I would like to have you for a patient, if you will come to me on a strictly professional basis, and the inducements that I offer, which are my ability, and thirty years' successful experience, Time-Saving Treatment and Guarantee of cure of certain Diseases.

NO MONEY REQUIRED TO COMMENCE TREATMENT. Many patients have no confidence in their doctor, because he demands pay before a cure has been effected, and there are many who have been misinformed about their condition, or through unsuccessful treatment have become skeptical and think there is no cure for them. I want an opportunity to treat such cases. It makes no difference about the financial part, as I accept pay for my services as benefits are derived, when I am satisfied the patient is reliable. Health is capital at interest. I will prove my ability to cure you before asking pay for my services.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE.

Dr. Tillotson's Written Guarantee means a cure or no pay for services. I guarantee to cure certain diseases or refund every dollar you have paid me for my services. My services cost you nothing unless I cure your Varicose Veins, Hernia, Piles, Fissures, Ulcerations, or any disease I guarantee to cure. My terms are reasonable and no more than you are willing and able to pay.

PEOPLE COME FROM ALL OVER.

EVERY PART OF CONFERENCE IS WELL REPRESENTED.

Bishop Hughes Preaches Another Powerful Sermon at the Methodist Camp Meeting at Huntington Beach. Children Show Much Interest in Their Special Services.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 22.—Bishop Hughes preached a powerful sermon last evening. A testimony meeting followed. The people are coming from all parts of the conference to this "feast of tabernacles." Ex-Senator J. E. McComas of Pomona was present, also Lewis Wright, a Pomona capitalist, who is camping on the ground. He drove down. Many people have come from distant points in automobiles to attend the meeting. The Pacific Electric Railway Company will put on an extra car Sunday evening, at 9:45 o'clock, to take people to Los Angeles after the night service.

Chaplain Nave of Los Angeles is here. As author and lecturer he is known all over the country.

Miss Read is having a splendid time with the children. They have a meeting every afternoon. They are intensely interested.

Rev. Dr. Kilroe preached a fine sermon to a fine audience this forenoon, on John 1, 14. He is pastor at Boyle Heights, Los Angeles. He was recently transferred from the Rock River conference and the people were anxious to hear him. He has a fine personal presence and spoke well.

The afternoon service began with a song service led by Prof. Patterson. He sang as a solo "There Will Be No Shadows." Dr. McConnell spoke on "Prayer." Prayer moves the arm that moves the world, said he. God has more interest in roses than in weeds. God wants us to help Him to do things that He wants to do. God will not answer our prayer to pauperize us. Sometimes God makes us answer our own prayers. There are some things God cannot do for us. He cannot make a symmetrical Christian out of a child in Christian experience. Prayer is more than the reflexive influence upon our lives.

Bells Ring Out Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" at Marriage of Riverside Pair.

RIVERSIDE, July 22.—While the chimes from the tower of the Glenwood pealed the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," Andrew Hartman of this city and Miss Daisy Arbogast of Los Angeles, were united in marriage last evening at the parsonage of the First Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. A. W. Adkinson officiated, the bridal party standing under a bower of Shasta daisies. The bride wore a gown of white embroidered mull and was unattended. After a short wedding trip to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman will make their home at No. 436 West Fourth street.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Jerry Wiley, colored, who took an automobile from the Crescent garage without leave late last Saturday night for a joy ride, and who subsequently wrecked the machine by driving over the bank of the Terquesquite arroyo, pleaded guilty before Justice Frank Hall yesterday. He also acknowledged having stolen $4 from the cash drawer of the garage, before escaping from town, after the accident. The time of passing sentence was suspended for sixty days, during which time Wiley is to refrain from intoxicants and is to report to the court every Saturday.

FULLERTON, July 22.—Fruit shippers estimate that in excess of 800 cars of oranges will be shipped from the Placentia district over the new Fullerton-Richfield cut-off during the coming year. To handle this enormous business six new packing-houses will soon be under construction at Placentia. The Randolph Fruit Company has men at work now on a 50x120-foot house which will be completed in time for the last of this season's Valencias. Other large houses will be erected soon by the Placentia Warehouse Association, A. S. Bradford, Thomas Strain & Sons, the California Vegetable Union and the M. M. Cobb Company. C. C. TANK OF STOVE VITAL POINT.

CONTAINER'S POSITION LEAPS INTO PROMINENCE.

New Testimony Developed Yesterday in Trial of the Westminster Lumber Merchant Charged With Murder of His Wife—Prosecution Introduces Woman's Accusations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ANA, July 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The position of a gasoline stove tank leaped into prominence in the Frank F. Skelly trial today.

J. R. Cavanah testified on this point in the trial of the Westminster lumber merchant, charged with burning his wife to death.

Cavanah declared that when he went into the kitchen, he being the first one there after the woman all aflame burst from it screaming in agony, the tank was in its proper position on the stove.

Until that testimony went in, at no time had evidence been given as to the position of the tank, other than that J. F. Patterson testified that after Dr. Violett arrived Patterson found the tank on end near the stove.

It was the defense's theory that the tank had been taken from the stove for filling when Mrs. Skelly accidentally caught fire.

A stenographer read the testimony of Skelly given at the Coroner's inquest, May 12. The reading of this testimony brought vividly out the divergence of theories upon which the prosecution and defense are working. Skelly's statement was that as he entered the kitchen Mrs. Skelly ran from near the stove, that she was all aflame, the result of a dreadful accident. The prosecution declares it was murder.

NO HINT AT MOTIVE.

The case is as baffling as ever. As yet the prosecution has not even hinted at a motive. Should a motive be proven or pointed to it will be the sensation of the trial. The next day of the hearing will be next Tuesday. At that time Judge West will rule on a motion of the defendant to strike from the record all the testimony of Hoff, who read Skelly's statements to the Coroner.

Judge West today excused from the courtroom all children between 5 and 16 years. A large share of those attending the trial is made up of women.

The prosecution has begun with its long list of witnesses who will testify that they heard Mrs. Skelly, fatally burned, as she was being carried into the house, and as she lay upon the bed, accuse her husband with her murder, using such expressions as these:

"Frank has murdered me, he threw gasoline on me." "Frank, why did not you shoot me?" "Frank, how could you do it?"

Witnesses who were on the stand today who heard Mrs. Skelly thus charge Skelly were J. R. Cavanah, William Shamrack and Mrs. William Shamrack. None of the three heard Skelly make any denial. Mrs. Shamrack, in a quiet, impressive manner, said that as Skelly stood by the bedside Mrs. Skelly looked at her arms, upon which the flesh was charred, and said: "Frank, how could you do it? What have I done? What a horrible death."

THREATENS PHOTOGRAPHER.

At noon today, after court adjournment, a newspaper photographer attempted to photograph Skelly as he stood talking to his attorney, Clyde Bishop. Bishop seized a law book and threw it at the camera, which the photographer quickly snatched away. Bishop threatened the newspaper man, saying he would smash him if he took Skelly's picture while he was there. The matter ended in further words.

RATTLER IS CHARMED.

MERRY CHATTER OF WOMEN FASCINATES DEADLY SNAKE.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 22.—Mrs. A. P. Dunlap of Rialto and Mrs. Harry Allison and Mrs. W. A. Vale of this city sat on a couch at the Vale ranch and chatted of little nothings while a deadly rattler of immense size, charmed at the merry chatter of the ladies, kept its head poised between them, unable to strike.

The snake's presence was not known until the talk of the ladies began to lag. Then the reptile moved its head. Mrs. Dunlap saw it and, with a scream bounded from the couch. The snake had been coiled beneath a pillow on which she was seated, and poked its head out when the feminine chatter began.

Mrs. Dunlap's scream broke the spell on the snake, and but for the quickness of the other two women in leaping from harm's way the likelihood is that a tragery would have followed. The three women attacked the snake with clubs, killing it.

Corona Man Takes Whittier Property in Part Payment—House Exchanged for Lease.

CORONA, July 22.—A. T. Slaten has sold his forty-acre alfalfa ranch with house and barns, northwest of Corona, to M. J. Safford of Logan, Kan. The cash price was $17,000, but ranch property near Whittier was given as part pay.

John M. Morrison has bought of G. P. Oakes his eight-room two-story home, with lot and a half on Ramona street. The purchaser, who plans to live here, gives a three-year lease on a 130-acre alfalfa ranch, with home, near Barstow. Hively, Hull & Co. made the deal.

THREATEN PLASTERERS.

Union Organizers Boastfully Claim the Ability to Tie Up Work That Is Under Way.

The union organizers have turned their attention toward the plasterers, and are threatening to call a strike among those of that craft. They boastfully claim that they can tie up the greater part of the plastering work now under way, and threaten to do so unless a settlement is reached with the metal trades workers.

Union plasterers themselves are opposed to going on strike, however. One man yesterday made the announcement that should his union be called out, he will go elsewhere and seek work.

The imported "organizers" of the laundry workers' union were busy yesterday circulating among the laundries, but they accomplished little. A few unionites hung around the back doors of the independent laundries in the morning as the employés were going to work, and attempted to secure signatures to their membership application blanks, but they met with no success.

Employés of the Keystone Iron Works report that intimidation tactics are still begin pursued with them. One iron worker who lately came out from the east was stopped and informed that he would be killed should be persist in working without the permission of the unionite bosses.

The referendum petitions are still in evidence, and this form of picketing is causing no little annoyance, as those who refuse to sign are generally greet-hearings being set for next Wednesday.

None of the warlike Royalists had any reason to give for mobbing Sobaich other than that "he is a traitor and meant to insult our Prince." They appear, for the most part, to be ordinary, hard-working laborers, nor is there anything about them to suggest that they would be willing and even glad to commit murder from loyalty to a monarch on the other side of the world, and whom most of them have never seen.

Sobaich leaves tomorrow for Marseilles, France, where he will attend an international reunion of Montenegrin revolutionists from all over the world. They expect there to formulate a platform of "political rights" upon which to proceed in the dethroning of Prince Nicholas.

"I am not an anarchist or nihilist," said Sobaich, "I am only preaching the doctrine of political and personal freedom. In that doctrine the people of Montenegro are with me. We will succeed—and Prince Nicholas knows that we will succeed. There will be a revolution in Montenegro if the Prince does not accede to our demands for the establishing of a republic."

BUTTE CHIEF IS OUSTED.

BUTTE (Mont.) July 22.—Investigation by the Butte Police Commission of the charges of graft and misapplication of funds against Chief of Police E. W. The investigation which involves Chief Winne is an incident in the anti-graft crusade, begun several months ago by Mayor Nevin.

Delicately Formed

and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy, which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful toning to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is required.

The genuine, always bearing the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., may be purchased from all leading druggists in original packages of one size only, price fifty cents per bottle.

LOCAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Trading Broader in Tone, and Better Feeling Prevails—Movement in Bank Stocks.

The market on the Stock Exchange yesterday was of a somewhat better tone, and while prices were off in many instances, trading was broader than it has been for some days.

Among the bank stocks, the Bank of Southern California was traded in to the extent of 60 shares and remained firm at the selling price, 95 bid. There was no particular activity in this list, and the only other inquiries were for Citizens' National and Home Savings.

In the industrial and public utility list, Home preferred sold at 38, and the balance of the list was quiet.

In the oils, Consolidated Midway was weaker. There seemed to be plenty of stock in the morning at 22½, and in the afternoon it sold at 23¾. Cleveland was a shade stronger than the day before. California Midway sold off very materially in the morning, recovering slightly during the afternoon. Mexican preferred was a light trader.

There has been a strong rumor that the Mexican Petroleum Company, Limited, was about to cut its dividend on the preferred. The exchange was officially notified yesterday that there was absolutely no truth in the rumor, and the mining list was also quiet. During the past few days there has been inquiry for some of the Nevada issues, and it looks as if the market was about to revive somewhat in these shares.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

Goldfield and Florence Fluctuate, the Latter Closing With Loss of Seventeen.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 112 West Third street.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The Goldfield leaders were inclined to be reactionary. Consolidated lost 5 points, Florence sold down to 235; closed, 232½@237½, a loss of 17½ points. Fraction was unchanged.

The Goldfield Annex lease on the Poleverde claim of the Jumbo Extension at the eight hundred level, is reported to have made a strike, at all events, the stocks, which closed 24 bid last night opened this morning 38@40, and closed 37@39. Atlanta was weak; closed 11@12. There were no other changes in the Goldfield list.

Belmont was 7½ cents weaker. West End lost 1. The balance of the Tonopahs was unchanged. There were no changes in the Bullfrogs, Rawhides, Round Mountain or Pittsburgh Silver Peak.

Nevada Hills closed 207½@210, a loss of 12½ points, but on the curb it sold at 215, on the news that a new large ore body running rich on the 350-ft. level, has just been uncovered. Hills was weak on the New York curb, selling down to $2.

Ophir continues its upward course; closed 120@125. Gould and Curry, Consolidated Virginia and Savage, were each up 2, Hale 1, Sierra 1, Exchequer closed 18 bid.

It is reported that George Graham Rice, who is the whole thing of B. H. Scheftels & Co., of Ely Central, Rawhide Queen and Coalition fame, has secured an option on a large block of Florence stock. This propably accounts for the erratic action of this stock, which went over night from 200 to 270 and back to 232½ tonight. A telegram received from Goldfield just at the close of the market, said that President Parker of the Florence Company had left for Denver this morning and that there would be no dividend at this time. This leaves the Florence matter in the hands of Mr. Rice. It is reported that Mr. Wingfield is doing better. The following were the closing bid and asked quotations:

KING CORN LEADS ALL IN QUICK DESCENT.

Unexpected Rain in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Illinois Force Many Buyers to Sell Out in a Hurry—Net Losses in Wheat, Corn and Oats—Provisions Fluctuate.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, July 22.—King corn on the Board of Trade swayed all prices for cereals down, not up. Unexpected rain in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Illinois forced many of yesterday's buyers to sell out in a hurry. The tone was weak in every pit at the close. Net losses in grain were: Corn, 1 to 2½; wheat, ½ to1¼@1⅜; oats, ⅝ to ¾. Provisions showed 7½ loss to 5 gain. Excitement in the corn trade rivaled for a time the sensational flurry of the previous session, when quotations jumped up wildly before of fear that the destruction of spring wheat by drought was to be paralleled in the coarser grain. The widespread storms throughout a large portion of the corn belt removed this apprehension with a suddenness that upset the calculations of a great majority of speculators. It was not until the day was nearing the finish that the effect was relieved and then only in part. Business at first was on an immense scale, but after a while the selling of corn became almost as difficult as it was to buy yesterday. The September option ranged from 63¾ to 63¾, with the close 1⅜@1½ to 1½@1⅝ down, at 62⅜ to 62½. Wheat options were almost directly under the influence of corn and of the cash market. New investment demand was slim, and general trade light. Longs showed a decided desire to reduce holdings so far as it could be done without great sacrifice. Talk of export sales at Kansas City, St. Louis and Duluth were unconfirmed. Movement of winter wheat continued on a good scale. In this connection, millers reports said yields were exceeding expectations. September fluctuated from 1.05⅝ to 1.07⅝, closing 1⅛@1¼ to 1⅛@1¼ down, at 1.05⅞ to 1.05⅞@1.06. Oats reflected the conditions in corn. September variations were between 39½ and 39¼@39⅝, with the close ⅝ off, at 39¾. At the close, pork was 2½ lower, or unchanged, lard 2½ down to a shade up, and ribs irregular from a shade advance to 7½ decline.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building.]

BOSTON, July 22.—The action of the market was disappointing again today, although the close for Amalgamated was the same as last night. Fairly reliable stories were circulated this morning that the large producing interests had agreed to again curtail, but instead of affecting the market favorably, it seemed to be the signal for renewed liquidation all through the list. In spite of the dullness, however, and the apparent weakness, prices are holding about the same day after day, and the leading interests are accumulating stocks which they sold much higher. COTTON LEADS EXPORTS.

THEN COPPER; THEN OIL.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Cotton, copper, illuminating oil, wheat—these articles, in the order named—are the most important articles exported from the United States during the fiscal year just closed. The value of the cotton exported was $450,000,000; of the copper, $88,500,000; of the illuminating oil, $62,000,000, and of the wheat, $47,000,000. Other articles of export ranked in value as follows: Flour, lard, tobacco, lumber, upper leather, corn, bituminous coal and lubricating oil. In nearly all of the articles of natural production there was a marked decline in the exports of 1910, as compared with previous years, while in certain manufactures the figures for the year are larger than for any previous year and the total for all manufactures probably will exceed that of any earlier year. The bureau of statistics, which has given out these figures, has not yet completed the total value of the manufactures exported. The falling off is the most marked in corn, wheat, flour and meats; wheat falling from $161,000,000 in 1898, the high year, to $47,000,000 in 1910; corn, from $85,000,000 in 1900 to $25,000,000 in 1910; from $75,000,000 in 1893 to $46,000,000 in 1910; lard from $80,000,000 in 1908 to $42,000,000 in 1910; bacon from $45,000,000 in 1898 to $18,500,000 in 1910; fresh beef from $32,000,000 in 1901 to $7,750,000 in 1910, and cattle from $42,000,000 in 1904 to $12,000,000 last year.

New York Cotton Market.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 112 West Third street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—Notwithstanding the weakness in Liverpool and the fact that about forty thousand bales were delivered on July contracts today the local market remained firm and it was plainly evident that any buying of an aggressive character would have forced an advance but the bull leaders seem to be willing for the market to take care of itself for the present and many are of the opinion that they would even welcome some further reaction so as to take in the cotton that is coming here for delivery on contracts as cheaply as possible. In the main the weather was favorable.

The interior stocks show a very sharp falling off this week as a result of the urgent efforts to get cotton to New York for July delivery and it is therefore very likely that the shorts in August and September will experience much more difficulty in covering their commitments than has been the case with any previous month. We would not hesitate to buy new crops on every decline of ten points for a long pull.

Logan & Bryan's letter says: "Fearful last the mills might shut down in Manchester, the Liverpool market showed decided weakness this morning and induced our market to a lower level. Any curtailment in any part of the world that might now occur can be attributed to the inability to secure cotton with which to run, and not to any faulty condition of the dry goods market, which is showing decided signs of improvement. The entire supply of American cotton left behind is now approximately one million bales and is dwindling rapidly and at the month end over one-fourth of the entire visible supply of American cotton will be owned by the bull clique or their friends who will be committed not to deliver on contracts of the world. In the meantime, the question of future supply is more potent argument than immediate supplies and every day brings fresh conviction that nature has been unkind in the cotton area except in Texas and Oklahoma and even in these States it is only good when compared with last year when it was a calamity and in no part of the United States is the plant in that condition which does not suggest a deterioration in August which has always been a trying period for the crop. During next week quite a lot of semi-official crop condition reports will be issued and by them will be measured what may be expected for the government figures which are to follow on the 2nd proximo and it seems inevitable that the two Carolina's and Georgia will be as much poorer than last year as Texas is better than a year ago. Cotton is still cheap enough to buy as an investment."

BEARS HAVE DAY IN STOCK MART.

PRICE DECLINE ENCOUNTERS SLIGHT RESISTANCE.

Price Recovery Later in Day is Due to Bears Covering—Experts Go Further Than National Lead Dividend Cut to Find Adequate Reason for the Slump.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—The bear party was not much molested in its operations in stocks today. The decline in prices encountered little effective resistance in the form of buying orders except such as the bears themselves supplied when they covered shorts from time to time. The operations were congested largely in a few of the speculative stocks. But the price concessions applied to the whole list, active and inactive. Bear covering caused the sharp recovery late in the day. The cut in the National Lead dividend was the ostensible motive for the sentiment of discouragement in the speculation which overcome the market. The incident was thought scarcely adequate to explain the extreme depression of speculative sentiment and other causes were sought. The showing made by National banks in the compilation of returns to the comptroller and the fears of a poor quarterly statement by the United States Steel corporation at next Tuesday's meeting of directors were cited as possible further grounds for the tone of the market. The personality of the capitalists credited with control of the National Lead Company made the action influential as a possible index of financial and speculative policy. The parallel interests in copper of the same financial interests and the expectation of confliction of opinion over the allottment of copper production in the effort to settle on an agreement for curtailment begot the suspicion that here might be a sign of stock market contest that might prove damaging to onlookers as well as participants. Consideration of the condition of the National banks of the country was more limited to bankers, but may not have lacked influence on the stock market for that reason. The nominal decrease in loans since March reported on June 30, when considered in connection with the greater loan contraction by the New York banks for the same period, is no decrease at all, but an increase of over $25,000,000 outside New York. In the same way the increase on the loans of $384,276,000 in the yearly comparison has to take account of the New York decrease for the same time included in the total, which indicates that outside of New York there has been considerable expansion of $476,233,000 in a year's time. The gain in percentage of legal reserve in three months amounts to one one-hundreth of one per cent., and for the year there has been a decrease of 1.15 per cent. The percentage to deposits of cash on hand, redemption fund and due from reserve agents stands at only 24.44 per cent, a decrease in three months of 30 per cent. and in a year of 24.25 per cent. The last item is affected by the heavy decrease of $83,102,800 for three months in the item due from other banks and reserve agents, showing how the interior banks have been drawing down their balances from the reserve centers. Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value, $1,222,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 112 West Third street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—The curb market behaved fairly well this morning, but suffered quite a setback this afternoon following the big market, the close was active and irregular. On limited trading Boston coppers showed small changes, the undertone however, was fairly firm. The volume of Boston business showed a marked falling off.

With some of the stocks of the inside market closely allayed with the metal industry showing new low records it is to be expected that the curb stocks will not show any marked advance until the inside market makes a right about face. The following were the closing bid and asked quotations:

STATE OF TRADE.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, July 22.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say: Midsummer dullness is less pronounced in both wholesale and retail departments of trade. There is still much idle cotton machinery in New England and a two-weeks' shut-down is scheduled for August, but curtailment is forcing a recovery from the low price levels, and there is less pressure to liquidate stocks. Footwear factories, east and west, are resuming and trade is much improved in leather, while hides have recovered from the low point, large accumulations having been moved. More definite knowledge regarding the yield of cotton in the South and wheat in the West will determine the base of manufacturing costs in dry goods in one hit, and flour on other. Flour production in the Northwest continues greatly reduced. Except for a moderate higher prices on wire products, no new feature has developed in iron and steel.

Bradstreet's Review.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Trade and industry are still marking time, awaiting the passing of the vacation season and the progress of the leading crops nearer to maturity. A fair number of buyers are in the leading markets, but their operations are governed by the conservatism pending clearer views of crop outturn. Reports as to the fall trade outlook are optimistic in the Southwest and Central West and the outlook in the Northwest is fairly cheerful. Clearance sales stimulate final distribution of summer goods, though results are still hardly up to anticipations. Industrial reports point to quiet in most lines. Pig iron productions are of fair volume, but there is a tendency to shade prices to get business. Business failures in the United States for the week ending July 21, were 215, against 232 last week, 220 in the like week of 1909, 246 in 1908, 190 in 1907 and 171 in 1906. Business failures in Canada for the week number 31, compared with 24 last week and 24 in the corresponding week of 1909.

WIDOWS LEAVE TAX LAW STATE.

A LOSES MANY ERSTWHILE MARRIED WOMEN.

Per Cent. Rule Does Not Set l With Women Who Get Com- ney from Dead or Divorced Hus- ds and They Flock to Less Ex- ng States.

AL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] S MOINES (Iowa) July 29.—Iowa st becoming a widowless State. hat men don't die nor the divorce fail to grind, but because a penalty devolves upon the Iowa n who once has entered the mari- tate and strives afterward to live f it. Every year scores of wid- charming, graceful and possibly le, pack their little grips and n beyond the two great rivers form the eastern and western ex- ties of the State.

s all because of the hateful tax which decrees that they must pay per cent. tax on all the moneys credits left them by the last will stament of the late deceased.

is not because they love Iowa hat they are moving to far dis- States where there is no such al law, but because they love snug little fortune more.

has been figured out that at the nt rate of departure of widows the State, it will be but a few years until Iowa has no charm- idows, unless, of course, the grim r gets busy with the husbands.

when one stops to think that the who is left a small fortune by ill of her husband is compelled to 2 per cent. tax on that fortune, is often just enough to carry comfort to the end of her days, rich men who know all the tricks evices of tax dodging and who in- their moneys outside of the State the law, there comes a feeling em that possibly the law is uninteresting case in point is that Cedar Rapids widow, who was left s and credits to the amount of 0. She liked Cedar Rapids and hoped to spend her remaining in the old home there, enjoying come of her little fortune. But was a practical woman, as well, when, at the end of the first year, ound that she must pay 2 per she pulled stakes and went to York City, never to return to to live. The case is but one of which occur every year.

WHY DO WE SMOKE?

BY MARCEL PREVOST.

Member of the French Academy.

y do we smoke? What mys- s and irresistible attraction this strange pleasure exert?

e of four senses which seem to for it today are really not d by it. If it were the smell we ed we should really smoke h the nose, while we do with palate, that is nearly unable to ciate odors. It has been proved when you blindfold a smoker and ress his nostrils he is unable to whether the cigar he is smoking hted or not. Everything in the of smoking is, therefore, abnorsmoker forces the mucous mem- s of his mouth and throat to rm a work which they do not for, and wanting to inhale an , he inhales it through the h which is almost as strange as u would put a straw in your nos- to appreciate the flavor of a of fine Bordeaux.

admit," a smoker will say, "that dor of another's tobacco smoke pleasant, but you surely will not that to a man who smokes a Havana it possesses an ex- e taste and a delicious aroma."

, my smoking friend, a choice Ha- does really contain a perfume in moke, or rather a subtle taste, may even be compared with the of the best Burgundy. But do you ys smoke choice Havanas? And if do, how many smokers are able to e same? Before the recent added was put on tobacco in France con- eurs agreed that a good cigar not be bought here for less than ntimes, and if you wanted to get lly good cigar you would have to one franc and 30 centimes. Then may easily figure out what you pay today not to smoke refuse. result is you smoke only refuse if you are quite honest, you will t that you know it. The taste of cigar is almost disagreeable to If it does not taste bad all the through it does so at least when have smoked half of it. It vitalizes ir, it is bitter and nauseating. It more tobacco than the working- s "petit verre" is choice liquor.

do we smoke then? Not because ve the taste of tobacco, which it xt to impossible to get pure and ulterated in cigars or for the pipe. y do we smoke? Because smoking pastime, because of the intoxica- which the poison produces, for the reason that makes the laborer down his glass of execrably nous brandy.

s a series of pleasant gestures to into the bar room, to treat and reated, to raise the glasses and the elbow, and then follows ulti- ly the temporary stupor which people like. Every human being sleep, which is the suspension of ation, and every one tries when e to enter into states of torpor resemble the precious sleep. That hy people drink to feel their ideas thoughts grow confused, the sense ality disappear. In the same way le smoke to feel their brain grow y, to confuse their thoughts, to ize all the activity of their head e mucous membranes of nose and e.

bacco, like alcohol, is nothing but ccidental form of opium, and that hy the quality of tobacco and hol, after all, matters very little to consumer, who is only looking for pleasure of certain gestures and ous degrees of intoxication.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN

BY OLIVE GRAY.

A DAILY beauty hint: On warm days, when the eyes and the face are smarting under the dry heat, bathe freely with orange flower water. It will immediately refresh the eyes, lend coolness to the skin, and give a feeling of rejuvenation, with no evil after effects.

A sale of linen and crash suits, in the best styles, is now taking pdace at one of the Broadway stores. These suits are most seasonable, for, although half of the summer is past, there will be many times when the heavy linen or crash will be just the thing to wear. This material is always a delight, for the reason that it is cool and yet it protects. It is not exactly like Paddy's coat, which 'kept out the water and kept out the cold;" but it really is suitable for both warm and for cool weather. The crash is less easily "mussed" than is the pure linen, and for that reason is preferable. It also keeps clean a long time, and with an occasional pressing will last for frequent wear nearly all summer. This is particularly true of the linen colored or blue or pink crash, which will keep clean a surprisingly long time.

As it is not likely that the styles will be so radically changed as to put this year's suits of this sort out of commission for next season, it is a good plan to purchase at some of the late sales, as dresses of this kind are most convenient on the first warm days when summer—next summer—takes us unawares, as it always does.

For Sunday Night Lunch.

There is no meal of civilization quite so enjoyable, it seems to me, as the Sunday night lunch, where a few most intimate friends drop in to informally partake of the genuine hospitality of the simple home table. When too much preparation is made, the whole spirit is lost.

There is little need for more than one hot dish, and that may easily be prepared in the chafing-dish.

Cheese fondu is a good dish for this purpose. It is easily prepared, and is most palatable and also quite substantial. It is made as follows: Take two cupfuls of cheese grated fine; one cupful of milk, one cupful of fine bread crumbs, tablespoon of butter, one teaspoonful of dry mustard, sufficient paprika or cayenne to flavor to taste, and two eggs. Put the butter in the chafing-dish; when melted add the milk, breadcrumbs, cheese and mustard, stirring constantly. Season and just before serving, add the eggs beaten light. Serve on buttered toast.

A New Hand-bag.

The Atlantic City bag is the name of a new hand-bag of most odd and clever design which has taken like wildfire in the East. It is a small affair for carrying upon semi-dress occasions, either upon the arm or suspended from the belt by its cord. Patent leather, which is so fashionable this out the latest novelties is showing this bag, and in fact before it was exhibited they were asked for it by customers who knew their specialty in always keeping abreast of the times as to the latest accessories of dress.

Although very smart, these bags are inexpensive.

Helps.

When the dresser drawer sticks and will not run smoothly, take a generous spoonful of vaseline and "smear" the refractory edge. This is useful, also, in smoothing the window which is obstinate about going up or down. Nothing is more exasperating about the entire household than to have these little hitches, and they usually occur just when you are in a hurry and do not wish to stop.

One careful lady whom I know always sews the hooks and eyes for her dresses and blouses, as well as skirts, onto a piece of tape, which she bastes to the garment, taking it off before it goes to the laundry. In this way she avoids having rust stains to disfigure her clothes when they are sent home, and also the hooks are not pressed down tight so that they will not work when she puts on her dress. She declares that it takes less time to baste the tapes on than it did to struggle with the refractory hooks when she left them on as people usually do.

One neat housekeeper whom I know, always pulls from the new broom a number of straws, which she places in a bottle to keep clean and fresh for use in trying cake and bread while baking.

A lady whose kitchen is a model of convenience as well as neatness, has a place for her utensils which seems to me the most sensible arrangement that I know of. She has placed back of the range a narrow shelf, and upon the edge she has an ordinary window shade roller. The "shade" is made from white oil cloth. She keeps her frying pans and the most frequently used skillets back of this neat "shade," where she can get at them easily and where they are out of sight when the clean white shade is rolled down.

A Midsummer Sale.

At one of the reliable Spring-street stores there is a clearance sale of garments ready to wear, which is well worth attending. This house has the best of garments; and when a sale is offered there, one is certain of values far above the average.

The suits of linen and also the lingerie dresses are high class, and the blouses are as nearly like the best hand-made articles as one ever finds in the ready-to-wear. Not only is the fabric of excellent quality, but a waist there, at so great a bargain that she said she always felt almost as though she had stolen it; and when one of her family who is as she says, "a regular fusser" about clothes, came to visit her, she criticised every garment she had, except that one blouse. That, she carefully looked over and finally said: "Well, there is one thing that fits you; who made it?"

As Others See Them.

All "pile goods," such as velvets, plushes and fur-like goods will be used very extensively, this fall and winter, not only in coats and suits, but in millinery.

Immense hatpins are still used.

Pink linen is extremely fashionable.

Fans are so huge that they are most awkward, or so small as to seem absurd.

All the new neckwear shows the effect of the frill.

The girdle is a pronounced feature of the best gowns.

Negligees of sofe color silk mull are shown in the shops.

Society Girl and Cashier Prepare for Wedding, and News Comes as a Surprise.

Friends of Miss Mabel Murray and George A. J. Howard have been caught napping. News comes of their engagement, while the young people are making plans for the interesting event. It will be a church affair, to take place in August. Miss Murray, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray of No. 686 Carondolet street, is one of the most lovable of the younger girls. She is interested in settlement work, and entertaining the little tots at the Brownson House is one of her chief pleasures. Mr. Howard is cashier of the Hibernian Savings Bank of Los Angeles.

Was Thankful.

In an English constituency a canvasser happened upon an artisan busy reading the posted addresses and studying the pictured faces of the two candidates. "Well, what do you think of them?" asked the canvasser. The voter shrugged his shoulders, and said nothing. "Which candidate would you like to vote for?" persisted the other. "Don't know nothing about none of 'em," replied the British elector, "but by what I can see of 'em, I thank 'eaven as only one of 'em can get in." —[San Francisco Argonaut.
